

Chaska Valley Herald.

FRED. K. DU TOIT, Editor.
CHASKA, CARVER CO., MINNESOTA.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

CRIMES AND CRIMINALS.

Some 90 of the Pekin whisky men pleaded guilty in the United States court at Chicago lately, and were fined small sums. A man in an English prison confesses to have murdered a man in New York city, some time ago. His name is not yet given to the public.

H. R. Webb, of Newport, Arkansas, convicted of an attempt to outrage a deaf mute girl, has been sentenced at Little Rock, Ark., to the penitentiary for 21 years.

John Stenger, Jr., business manager of the Southern Glassworks of Louisville, Ky., has disappeared, taking with him several thousand dollars of the company's money.

The jury in the case of James L. Slaughter, late cashier of the First National bank at Indianapolis, Ind., on his trial in the United States court, before Judge Blodgett, on a charge of embezzlement, returned a verdict of guilty.

The famine in Upper Egypt causes suffering, in some villages the people are naked, and like wild beasts, dig for roots. In one town the women and children fought over scraps of bread. Inland villages are said to be starving like Moabites, Mo., says Joseph Daily shot and killed his wife March 30th, while she was asleep, he claims it was accidental, thought the pistol was empty, and expected to wake his wife by snuffing the cap. They had been married only three weeks. Daily is in jail.

On the night of March 30th, at Newberry, Indiana, two men named John Bell and Daniel Farnham entered a church where a colored festival and supper was in progress, and after eating as much as they desired, a demand was made upon them for payment by Charles Thomas, a colored man. One of the men drew a razor and cut his throat from ear to ear, killing him instantly. Both men are in jail.

CASUALTIES.

Queen Victoria was at Lake Maggiore March 29th.

Prince Waldemar died of diphtheria at Berlin, March 29th.

A fire in Delview, Iowa, March 29th, destroyed several stores. Loss $17,000.

The czar of Russia is expected to attend the Emperor William's golden wedding at Berlin in June.

The bridge over Soldier Creek on the Kansas Pacific railway, near Miles from Topeka, has been destroyed by fire.

A recent fire at Akbar, farther India, which was accidental, destroyed the native portion of the town. Loss estimated at $500,000. Thousands of people are rendered homeless.

By a collision on the New York elevated railway, caused by a misplaced switch, four persons were injured, among them the wife of Prof. William Henry Pratt, who had her collar bone broken.

By the falling of a bridge over the Waterville Valley railroad near Cambridge City, Ind., Adam Depper was fatally injured, George Davis had an arm broken and John Pacey and Charles Gallagher were severely hurt.

At Claremont, New Hampshire, early on the morning of March 29th, the Tremont house was burned and five persons perished.—Mrs. Hannah F. Gibson, of Chester, Vt., mother of one of the proprietors; Charles Morgan, a boarder; Lydia Merrill, table girl; Ann Johnson, chambermaid, and Mrs. S. A. Place, cook. William Butler, of Brattleboro, Vt., and Frederick Warren, who were severely injured in leaping from the windows.

At Seneca, Ill., March 30th, nearly the entire business portion of the town was destroyed by fire. The fire originated under Hill's hall. The fire quickly communicated to other buildings, and as the town was without fire apparatus, all efforts to stay the flames were powerless.

At Hocking, Ohio, the town of Hocking, a boarding, drugstore, C. A. Thomas, dry goods; D. H. Underhill, groceries; Mark Taylor, hardware; and H. Billings, dry goods and groceries. In all about twenty buildings were burned, including a small hotel, business houses. The loss is placed at $60,000; insurance, $10,000.

PERSONAL AND POLITICAL.

Ex-Mayor Johnston, of Cincinnati, died March 30th.

Ex-congressman William J. Albend died at Baltimore, Md., March 30th.

Ex-congressman James H. Gibson, died at Abingdon, Va., March 30th.

The President has nominated Francis A. Walker, superintendent of the census, to Gen. Grant has accepted the invitation of the King of Spain to visit his dominions.

Gov. Nichols, of Louisiana, has signed the bill repealing the Louisiana state lottery.

The Mexican minister, M. Zomocana, is ill at Cincinnati with an attack of pneumonia.

Col. Thomas A. Scott has been re-elected President of the Pennsylvania railroad.

The Sultan has sent a portion of his plate and jewelry to be melted for the use of the treasury.

Ex-Judge Giles, died at his residence in Baltimore, Md., on Saturday March 29th, aged 72 years.

An Elko, Nebraska dispatch of March 29th, says, L. R. Bradley, ex-Gov. of Nevada, is dead. Age 71 years.

It is alleged that France, like Germany, will decline to participate in the mixed occupation of Rome.

The Ohio Democratic State committee have decided to hold the State nominating convention at Columbus, June 4.

Ex-congressman Riddle, of Tennessee, committed suicide at Nashville, by shooting himself in the head with a small pistol. It is supposed his mind was affected by ill health and financial embarrassments.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The suspended New Orleans banks have resumed.

Amnesty has been granted 100 more French communists.

1 The plague quarantine has been greatly modified at Berlin.

March 28 a Pullman car was levied on in Cincinnati, O., for taxes.

Nearly 400,000 copies of the new Methodist hymnal have been sold.

J. & A. Tyrell, dealers in hides, Boston, Mass., have suspended. Liabilities $60,000.

It is stated that the water at Szegedin is again rising. If the rise continues there will be little hope of saving the remaining houses.

From Duluth lake navigation was reported to be open March 28th, the steamer Skiatook left with 20 passengers for Prince Arthur's leading.

In the last legislature of Wisconsin a bill limiting the term of office of county treasurers became a law without passing the Senate, having been signed by the officers of both houses.

About four hundred more plantation negroes, recently from the South, left St. Louis on the 23rd inst., for Kansas, and about two hundred arrived by the steamer Helena from Mississippi on the 23rd inst.

A private letter received at Winnipeg March 25, says trouble is expected with Indians in the West. Big Bear saved the goods of a trading party, and fifty mounted police were dispatched to arrest him. Big Bear says he will not be taken, and is trying to induce other chiefs to join him in resisting the demands of Governor Laird.

Miscellaneous Items.

An Ohio cow last week broke a man's neck by a kick.

Chesee is accused of producing diphtheria and scarlet fever.

Two female tramps robbed a young man in St. Louis of $900.

The city of Lexington, Ky., is about to celebrate its centennial.

Senator Cameron will build a Cameron mansion in Washington.

President Hayes and family will visit New York next Saturday.

It is said that Mississippi exempts printing offices from taxation.

Dolans farmers are contracting to deliver tomatoes at $5 a ton.

In the island of Cyprus boys of fifteen marry girls of ten or twelve.

One million hands are engaged in raising and manufacturing tobacco.

Chicago is now shipping cattle to Great Britain by rail.

Admiral Porter's health is much better than it has been for some years.

John Swine is a candidate for constable in Cincinnati, the city of pork.

Boston shipped $121,000 worth of brown cotton to Mexico last week.

The jail-birds in Kearney, Neb., are tied up in pairs, to prevent their escape.

A little girl at Marquette, Mich., drank three drachms of chloroform and died.

Where is the organ grinder who can play one thousand tunes in one thousand hours.

A Marshalltown, Ia., girl "scattered a burglar" with the click of an empty pistol.

Two feminine attorneys have recently been admitted to the United States courts at Toledo.

We regret to learn that in 50,000 years this earth will again encounter another glacial period.

Tagorrell is still fighting Moses. Bob can keep this up with perfect safety. All of Moses' relations are dead.

Until last week Montreal did not have an ordinance for the punishment of persons giving immoral advice in the city.

The late death of Newcastle is said to have insured his life in different offices to the astonishing amount of $2,500,000.

The Texas legislature is made of 51 farmers, 24 lawyers, 5 doctors, 6 merchants, 2 mechanics and 7 professional demagogues.

A Kentucky dancing master has been placed in the lunatic asylum in Lexington, made insane, it is asserted, by hair-dye.

A Californian who uses bad grammar and lights his cigar with ten dollar bills soon has the reputation of being a millionaire.

The prohibitionists of Michigan have determined not to make any nominations for the State offices to be filled at the April election.

A man was boasting that he had an elevator in his house. "So he has," chimed in his wife, "and he keeps it in the cupboard in a bottle."

Newcastle's death will be visible through powerful glasses. It will probably keep a good many husbands out late at night looking for it.

A printed copy of the proposed new constitution for California is being sent to every voter in the State, by the direction of the convention.

Mr. John Burnham, of Boston, has made a gift of money to Harvard college for the erection of a dining hall for the theological students.

A Kentucky, the Hungarian artist, who has recently sold one picture for $25,000, was formerly a carpenter, and has painted only a few years.

The philosopher of the New Haven Register alludes to "the new race for matrimony." It is always the girl that covers the most laps that wins.

A Western editor thus kindly alludes to a contemporary: He is young yet, but he can sit at his desk and brush cobwebs from the ceiling with his ears.

Lillian Evans, of Tyringham, Mass., whose husband deserted her and their child a few months ago, after only a year of married life, died the other day of grief.

A lawyer who tried to break a male's will found out that there is such a thing as being too well healed. A card now on his door reads, "Will be back in three weeks."

The Detroit Free Press has noticed that only one man in six knows how to light a cigar properly.

Gen. Grant will still admit this, but every smoker will claim to be that one.

The legislature of Florida imposed upon grand jurors the responsibility of determining, within certain limits, the rate of taxation to be assessed for county purposes in their counties.

Expenses for the new St. Louis to when the railroad was opened, was just as much as the railroad to St. Louis, when it was opened.

A widower of $10,000 has just come from Mexico to extend his trade; and not for the first time he has been disappointed. If they had they would have been rich, and they found them in half the old and decayed skulls in the Mexican republic. I might mention the name of the man who had the skulls, and who would not have hesitated to go into a gentleman's house and ask for a sample of his parrot.

The gentleman would be consulting the parrot and plans to set up a second-hand botanical garden. Nothing could satisfy his rapidly, and he was but little better than a majority of the party.

The unwholesome Mexican who brought samples of his wares to the principal hotels for exhibition soon had to go back to his shop for more samples.

The excursionists always met him half way, and always loaded themselves with the samples. Anything that was not sold was soon gathered in.

Many of the party were from quiet rural Western towns, and were getting their first glimpse of the outside world. They scattered their samples and bundles all over the republic leaving one or two in every town they stopped in. The men who did the most flourishing business was a chronic man from Chicago, who sold cheap but gaudy chromes at high prices, and as fast as the Mexicans could make change, it could be looked upon seriously as an exhibit of the country. The goods exhibited were of the cheapest and most ordinary kinds, and there were very few of the kind of goods that are sold in the Bowers in any pawnshop's sale store in the West.

Father of adored one: "Then it comes to this, sir; you have no fortune, you have lost your appointment, you have no prospects of another, and you have asked for my daughter's hand and fortune!" "No! Suppose we put it this way; I am unembarrassed by wealth, am free from the cares of business, and my future is irradiated by hope; therefore, this is the crisis when I can best devote myself to your daughter, and enjoy that affluence which you will crown our love."

CONGRESS SUMMARY.

Extra Session.

SENATE, March 24.—The communications from the P. M. General and secretary of the interior were received and referred. Bills in reference to railroad accounts and infectious diseases were introduced. A resolution was introduced calling on the secretary of the treasury to state the cost of superintendence of elections in 1876 and 1878. A resolution was offered to proceed to the election of Senate officers. Long and earnest political debate followed in which a large number of prominent Senators of both parties participated. After which, by resolution, the leading offices of the senate were filled, by a strictly party vote. The republicans officers were John C. Burch, as secretary of the senate; John C. Burch, as secretary of the senate; John C. Burch, as secretary of the senate; and chaplain were sworn in and the Senate adjourned.

SENATE, March 25th.—The resolution of Senator Hoar was taken up, declaring unconstitutional and revolutionary the Democratic program and legislation announced by Senator Beck at the close of the late congress. Senator Hoar spoke at length and was warmly applauded. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 24 yeas and 12 nays. A strictly party vote. Adjourned.

HOUSE, March 25.—Messrs. Harris and Cullender introduced a resolution, by which Mr. Conger should be introduced to the introduction of any bill unless it had reference to the appropriation of money. The House adjourned.

SENATE, March 26.—Various bills were introduced, one by Senator Pendleton, giving the principal officers of each executive department the privilege of a seat on the floor of the Senate and House. After an executive session the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE, March 26.—Leave was asked to introduce a bill on banking. Objected. Several members remarked on the amendment of the rules so as to restrict business to matters of legislation. Mr. Frye asked leave to offer a resolution relating that the extra session was occasioned by the failure of the late Congress to pass legislation. The House adjourned.

SENATE, March 27.—The House adjourned. The House adjourned.

HOUSE, March 27.—The House adjourned. The House adjourned.

HOUSE, March 28.—The memorial of J. Wilson claiming to be elected in the 9th district of Vermont district of Congress, was read. Mr. Grant had read an extract from the report of the grand jury of Hamilton, Vermont, which showed that the person named Wilson was not the man. I think that is the reason they did not sentence him to be hanged.

The truth is, there were several material mistakes. As to Porter's location. As to the presence of Longstreet. As to battle. As to time of delivery of 430 round.

Now the true case, as we think, for rectifying these mistakes. We think that, after this long period of sixteen years, this country should be free from any bias or prejudice that the circumstances under which the trial took place and the influence of the grand jury of Hamilton, Vermont, had upon the minds of the men in the jury box, and that it is almost impossible for the judgment of any man, I care not how calm and deliberate he may be, to be free from the influence of the human mind, that is, to resist those influences and look at a question with a clear and unprejudiced mind.

Now this record, as it seems to me, from the beginning to the end, is a record of the trial of a man for a crime which he did not commit. It is a record of the trial of a man for a crime which he did not commit. It is a record of the trial of a man for a crime which he did not commit.

Some phantom, not an exhibit in the record, seems to have been constantly rising before them to disturb their reasoning faculties and unsettle their judgments. The simplest truths were ignored. The grossest exaggerations and misstatements were made upon for an opinion, and were pronounced a philosophy.

No ray of clear sunlight could penetrate the gloom of the trial. The trial was a record of the trial of a man for a crime which he did not commit. It is a record of the trial of a man for a crime which he did not commit. It is a record of the trial of a man for a crime which he did not commit.

Some phantom, not an exhibit in the record, seems to have been constantly rising before them to disturb their reasoning faculties and unsettle their judgments. The simplest truths were ignored. The grossest exaggerations and misstatements were made upon for an opinion, and were pronounced a philosophy.

No ray of clear sunlight could penetrate the gloom of the trial. The trial was a record of the trial of a man for a crime which he did not commit. It is a record of the trial of a man for a crime which he did not commit. It is a record of the trial of a man for a crime which he did not commit.

How They Established Mexican Trade.

[American Reporter.]

The party of excursionists who went down to Mexico to establish trade between the two countries about as much as Noah went up the mountain to take a bath. They went to have a good time, and they had it. Their manager made them believe that they were going to Mexico to establish trade between the two countries about as much as Noah went up the mountain to take a bath. They went to have a good time, and they had it. Their manager made them believe that they were going to Mexico to establish trade between the two countries about as much as Noah went up the mountain to take a bath.

A HUGE JOKE.

[American Reporter.]

The party of excursionists who went down to Mexico to establish trade between the two countries about as much as Noah went up the mountain to take a bath. They went to have a good time, and they had it. Their manager made them believe that they were going to Mexico to establish trade between the two countries about as much as Noah went up the mountain to take a bath.

Remarks on exchange.

[American Reporter.]

Remarks on exchange. "Fall away a road to blackness and waste its sweetness on the desert air, full many a pound of butter that seems, is but the hiding place of yellow hair."

It is in the wild at Newport that the Marquis de Lafayette and his wife, the Countess de Lafayette, are to be seen. The Marquis de Lafayette is to be seen in the wild at Newport that the Marquis de Lafayette and his wife, the Countess de Lafayette, are to be seen.

About the happiest man seen in New York for many a day is a St. Louisian, who has just returned from his trip to Mexico. He is a man of about 40 years of age, and is a man of about 40 years of age.

A school boy in Racine, Wis., is delicious and apparently fatally ill from the effects of punishment by his teacher, who whipped him with a ruler, and "accidentally" struck him three times on the head.

The physicians of North Adams, Mass., attributed the sudden death of Miss Leonard, who dropped dead on that town a few days since, to the drying up of her blood from her habit of eating large quantities of cloves every day.

Thurloe Wood goes every Sunday afternoon to one of the rooms of the Y. M. C. A., in New York, to take part in the "service of song."

He used to follow Sankey from church to church when that singer was on this side of the ocean.

A fire in Racine, Wis., awakened by a burglar a few nights ago, sprang from her bed and seized him by the hair. She cried for assistance, and the ruffian threw down the plunder he had seized, struck her a cowardly blow in the face, knocking her down, and fled.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican says that women took to snuffing like ducks to water in some parts of New Hampshire at the recent schools elections, and in several cases they were not slow in coming forward and adopting the tactics which men sometimes resort to to secure their ends.

It is said there is a large rock on the western base of Rich's mountain, in West Bath, Me., completely covered with strange characters and hieroglyphics, supposed to be made by the Indians. Rude figures of men and animals can be traced, accompanied by irregular characters not so legible.

FITZ JOHN PORTER.

An Able Review of the Charges Brought Against Him.

One of the best reviews of the famous Fitz John Porter case which we have ever seen was the argument of Hon. John C. Burch, of Philadelphia, one of Gen. Porter's counsel, before the late court martial at West Point. It was delivered some time since, but has only just been made public. The following summary will be found of interest.

We have endeavored to show you by the testimony which we have introduced, and by a proper analysis and examination of the testimony taken by the court martial, that Gen. Porter was not guilty of disobedience of the order of the late court martial on the 29th of August; that the character of the night and the obstructions in the road justified him in not doing so.

We have endeavored to show you that he did not disobey the joint order of the 29th of August; and that he did not disobey the order of the late court martial on the 29th of August; and that he did not disobey the order of the late court martial on the 29th of August.

Let me here say to the recorder that I do not wish to do more than to show you that he did not disobey the joint order of the 29th of August; and that he did not disobey the order of the late court martial on the 29th of August; and that he did not disobey the order of the late court martial on the 29th of August.

Let me here say to the recorder that I do not wish to do more than to show you that he did not disobey the joint order of the 29th of August; and that he did not disobey the order of the late court martial on the 29th of August; and that he did not disobey the order of the late court martial on the 29th of August.

Let me here say to the recorder that I do not wish to do more than to show you that he did not disobey the joint order of the 29th of August; and that he did not disobey the order of the late court martial on the 29th of August; and that he did not disobey the order of the late court martial on the 29th of August.

Let me here say to the recorder that I do not wish to do more than to show you that he did not disobey the joint order of the 29th of August; and that he did not disobey the order of the late court martial on the 29th of August; and that he did not disobey the order of the late court martial on the 29th of August.

IRISH COLONIZATION.

The Movement Inspired by the Recent Colonization of Chicago.

One of the needed improvements of the day is one which has just been inaugurated in Chicago under the name of the Irish Colonization society. Its purpose is to move Irishmen upon farms in the West, and to give them a chance to make a living. The society is a good one, and it is a good one. It is a good one, and it is a good one.

There are some people who may be found who will object to this mixing up of farming and the city. They will say that it is a bad thing, and it is a bad thing. They will say that it is a bad thing, and it is a bad thing.

There are some people who may be found who will object to this mixing up of farming and the city. They will say that it is a bad thing, and it is a bad thing. They will say that it is a bad thing, and it is a bad thing.

There are some people who may be found who will object to this mixing up of farming and the city. They will say that it is a bad thing, and it is a bad thing. They will say that it is a bad thing, and it is a bad thing.

There are some people who may be found who will object to this mixing up of farming and the city. They will say that it is a bad thing, and it is a bad thing. They will say that it is a bad thing, and it is a bad thing.

Two Would-Be Suicidees Who Live Along in Spite of the Doctors.

[New York Star.]

Ten days ago Dr. Trevelyan Haight, a leading physician of Newark, attempted suicide by shooting himself in the head with a revolver. Although the bullet penetrated his skull and lodged in the tissue of his brain, the doctor is alive and does not suffer much physical inconvenience. He is able to walk and talk and attend to such business matters as do not require much exertion.

His case is regarded as the most extraordinary in the annals of the medical fraternity, and many physicians have visited him to hear from his own lips a narrative of his remarkable experience.

Dr. Haight was found in one of the parlors of his handsome brown-stone mansion, No. 24 Kinsey street, Newark, yesterday, by a reporter. As he was feeling much fatigued from previous conversations he did not feel disposed to talk at all length, but a brother physician who was with him in his stead, Dr. Haight was lying upon a couch resting himself. What little Dr. Haight said had reference to his patients, and he seemed to be very much worried in regard to two or three cases which he was attending at the time he shot himself. He was calm, and his appearance was such that one who was not aware that there was a bullet in his brain would imagine that there was anything the matter with the man.

The doctor was with him when he said: "We don't want the doctor to know that we are alarmed about his condition, but the fact is we consider that his death is only a question of time."

"But he doesn't seem in a dangerous condition now," remarked the reporter.

"Oh, he is in no immediate danger, and he may live for weeks, and even months."

"How do you account for the fact that the doctor retains his consciousness and command of his physical health when he has a bullet in his brain?"

"Although this is an extremely rare and singular case," answered the attending physician, "it can be accounted for on scientific principles. The bullet entered the doctor's head a little above and in front of the right eye. It lodged in the upper part of the brain, in which are the intellectual faculties. It did not penetrate the lower part of the brain, where the motive organs are situated, and which would have been disastrous, as this would have been disastrous, as this would have been disastrous."

Several physicians who have visited Dr. Haight have expressed the opinion that the bullet might be removed, and that it might be removed, and that it might be removed. But as this operation would be extremely hazardous it has not been attempted. If the probe should touch certain portions of the brain, the patient would die almost instantly.

Dr. Haight is about 46 years of age, and his naturally strong constitution has enabled him to endure what most other persons could not. During the first two or three days after he shot himself there was a great deal of pain in his head, but when that subsided healthy supposition set in, and one or two of the Newark physicians were sanguine enough to hope for the removal of the bullet without the loss of health.

The attempt of Dr. Haight to take his own life was a great surprise to the community. He had a large practice, and was a wealthy man. He was a man of great energy and was a man of great energy. He was a man of great energy, and was a man of great energy.

The attempt of Dr. Haight to take his own life was a great surprise to the community. He had a large practice, and was a wealthy man. He was a man of great energy and was a man of great energy. He was a man of great energy, and was a man of great energy.

STONE WALLS OF ARIZONA.

[Arizona Sentinel.]

A wonderful place is Tinajas, about thirty miles southeast of Mission Camp. The granite. All the water falling upon this basin has to flow through nine tanks, one above the other. The lower tanks are nothing more and are often drained of their contents by men and animals traveling between Yuma and Sonora. The upper tanks are approached only by a circuitous and difficult climbing over rocks. To one standing below they afford no indication of their existence, nor does climbing the smooth, steep mountain side seem possible to do it. In the upper tanks water has never been known to fall. The water comes from all kinds of great numbers from the great waterless country around Tinajas. Antelope, mountain sheep and deer of several kinds come in herds. Rabbits and hares are as plenty as anywhere, and are preyed upon by many coyotes and beautiful little rock foxes. One would think that all this game would be thinned out by the Papago Indians, who inhabit the country. But these Indians are superstitious, and avoid Tinajas with abject horror. With

Two Would-Be Suicidees Who Live Along in Spite of the Doctors.

[New York Star.]

Ten days ago Dr. Trevelyan Haight, a leading physician of Newark, attempted suicide by shooting himself in the head with a revolver. Although the bullet penetrated his skull and lodged in the tissue of his brain, the doctor is alive and does not suffer much physical inconvenience. He is able to walk and talk and attend to such business matters as do not require much exertion.

His case is regarded as the most extraordinary in the annals of the medical fraternity, and many physicians have visited him to hear from his own lips a narrative of his remarkable experience.

Dr. Haight was found in one of the parlors of his handsome brown-stone mansion, No. 24 Kinsey street, Newark, yesterday, by a reporter. As he was feeling much fatigued from previous conversations he did not feel disposed to talk at all length, but a brother physician who was with him in his stead, Dr. Haight was lying upon a couch resting himself. What little Dr. Haight said had reference to his patients, and he seemed to be very much worried in regard to two or three cases which he was attending at the time he shot himself. He was calm, and his appearance was such that one who was not aware that there was a bullet in his brain would imagine that there was anything the matter with the man.

The doctor was with him when he said: "We don't want the doctor to know that we are alarmed about his condition, but the fact is we consider that his death is only a question of time."

"But he doesn't seem in a dangerous condition now," remarked the reporter.

"Oh, he is in no immediate danger, and he may live for weeks, and even months."

"How do you account for the fact that the doctor retains his consciousness and command of his physical health when he has a bullet in his brain?"

"Although this is an extremely rare and singular case," answered the attending physician, "it can be accounted for on scientific principles. The bullet entered the doctor's head a little above and in front of the right eye. It lodged in the upper part of the brain, in which are the intellectual faculties. It did not penetrate the lower part of the brain, where the motive organs are situated, and which would have been disastrous, as this would have been disastrous, as this would have been disastrous."

Several physicians who have visited Dr. Haight have expressed the opinion that the bullet might be removed, and that it might be removed, and that it might be removed. But as this operation would be extremely hazardous it has not been attempted. If the probe should touch certain portions of the brain, the patient would die almost instantly.

Dr. Haight is about 46 years of age, and his naturally strong constitution has enabled him to endure what most other persons could not. During the first two or three days after he shot himself there was a great deal of pain in his head, but when that subsided healthy supposition set in, and one or two of the Newark physicians were sanguine enough to hope for the removal of the bullet without the loss of health.

The attempt of Dr. Haight to take his own life was a great surprise to the community. He had a large practice, and was a wealthy man. He was a man of great energy and was a man of great energy. He was a man of great energy, and was a man of great energy.

The attempt of Dr. Haight to take his own life was a great surprise to the community. He had a large practice, and was a wealthy man. He was a man of great energy and was a man of great energy. He was a man of great energy, and was a man of great energy.

STONE WALLS OF ARIZONA.

[Arizona Sentinel.]

A wonderful place is Tinajas, about thirty miles southeast of Mission Camp. The granite. All the water falling upon this basin has to flow through nine tanks, one above the other. The lower tanks are nothing more and are often drained of their contents by men and animals traveling between Yuma and Sonora. The upper tanks are approached only by a circuitous and difficult climbing over rocks. To one standing below they afford no indication of their existence, nor does climbing the smooth, steep mountain side seem possible to do it. In the upper tanks water has never been known to fall. The water comes from all kinds of great numbers from the great waterless country around Tinajas. Antelope, mountain sheep and deer of several kinds come in herds. Rabbits and hares are as plenty as anywhere, and are preyed upon by many coyotes and beautiful little rock foxes. One would think that all this game would be thinned out by the Papago Indians, who inhabit the country. But these Indians are superstitious, and avoid Tinajas with abject horror. With

Two Would-Be Suicidees Who Live Along in Spite of the Doctors.

[New York Star.]

Ten days ago Dr. Trevelyan Haight, a leading physician of Newark, attempted suicide by shooting himself in the head with a revolver. Although the bullet penetrated his skull and lodged in the tissue of his brain, the doctor is alive and does not suffer much physical inconvenience. He is able to walk and talk and attend to such business matters as do not require much exertion.

His case is regarded as the most extraordinary in the annals of the medical fraternity, and many physicians have visited him to hear from his own lips a narrative of his remarkable experience.

Dr. Haight was found in one of the parlors of his handsome brown-stone mansion, No. 24 Kinsey street, Newark, yesterday, by a reporter. As he was feeling much fatigued from previous conversations he did not feel disposed to talk at all length, but a brother physician who was with him in his stead, Dr. Haight was lying upon a couch resting himself. What little Dr. Haight said had reference to his patients, and he seemed to be very much worried in regard to two or three cases which he was attending at the time he shot himself. He was calm, and his appearance was such that one who was not aware that there was a bullet in his brain would imagine that there was anything the matter with the man.

The doctor was with him when he said: "We don't want the doctor to know that we are alarmed about his condition, but the fact is we consider that his death is only a question of time."

"But he doesn't seem in a dangerous condition now," remarked the reporter.

"Oh, he is in no immediate danger, and he may live for weeks, and even months."

"How do you account for the fact that the doctor retains his consciousness and command of his physical health when he has a bullet in his brain?"

"Although this is an extremely rare and singular case," answered the attending physician, "it can be accounted for on scientific principles. The bullet entered the doctor's head a little above and in front of the right eye. It lodged in the upper part of the brain, in which are the intellectual faculties. It did not penetrate the lower part of the brain, where the motive organs are situated, and which would have been disastrous, as this would have been disastrous, as this would have been disastrous."

Several physicians who have visited Dr. Haight have expressed the opinion that the bullet might be removed, and that it might be removed, and that it might be removed. But as this operation would be extremely hazardous it has not been attempted. If the probe should touch certain portions of the brain, the patient would die almost instantly.

Dr. Haight is about 46 years of age, and his naturally strong constitution has enabled him to endure what most other persons could not. During the first two or three days after he shot himself there was a great deal of pain in his head, but when that subsided healthy supposition set in, and one or two of the Newark physicians were sanguine enough to hope for the removal of the bullet without the loss of health.

The attempt of Dr. Haight to take his own life was a great surprise to the community. He had a large practice, and was a wealthy man. He was a man of great energy and was a man of great energy. He was a man of great energy, and was a man of great energy.

The attempt of Dr. Haight to take his own life was a great surprise to the community. He had a large practice, and was a wealthy man. He was a man of great energy and was a man of great energy. He was a man of great energy, and was a man of great energy.

STONE WALLS OF ARIZONA.

[Arizona Sentinel.]

A wonderful place is Tinajas, about thirty miles southeast of Mission Camp. The granite. All the water falling upon this basin has to flow through nine tanks, one above the other. The lower tanks are nothing more and are often drained of their contents by men and animals traveling between Yuma and Sonora. The upper tanks are approached only by a circuitous and difficult climbing over rocks. To one standing below they afford no indication of their existence, nor does climbing the smooth, steep mountain side seem possible to do it. In the upper tanks water has never been known to fall. The water comes from all kinds of great numbers from the great waterless country around Tinajas. Antelope, mountain sheep and deer of several kinds come in herds. Rabbits and hares are as plenty as anywhere, and are preyed upon by many coyotes and beautiful little rock foxes. One would think that all this game would be thinned out by the Papago Indians, who inhabit the country. But these Indians are superstitious, and avoid Tinajas with abject horror. With Jokes from Paris Papers.

[American Reporter.]

A military man who boasts that he can't be caught, no matter what he is asked, but he is really stupid, is asked, "How many miles from Paris to Berlin?" "Three hundred."

"And how many from Berlin to Paris?" "The same."

"The same?" "Yes, the same."

"That's where you're wrong."

"Wrong!" exclaims the military man, astonished and troubled.

"Yes, wrong! You know how long it is between Christmas and New Year's!"

"Yes."

"Well, it is the same between New Year's and Christmas!"

"Yes, I know you're right, I never thought of that before."

HOW THEY CAME TOGETHER AGAIN.

"Now, Kitty, you don't mean so?"

"I do, Will."

"Then give me back that ring."

"Quick as thought off came the ring from Kitty's tapering finger, and in another moment it flashed in the palm of Will Graham's hand. Then the two looked at one another again, as if a precipice had suddenly yawned between them."

"Time to leave the grove! Cars coming," said a voice, and the two looked at one another again, as if a precipice had suddenly yawned between them."

"Kitty, quick, if you don't want to be left!"

And her sister, Nellie Barton, who had been searching for her, came forward to grasp her by the hand and hurry her off to the picnic train waiting for the flushed and tired party from the city."

"Hang the traitor!" said Will, reflecting afterward that it would be rather a hard thing to do, but he did not say so."

"I would like to crush it under those locomotive wheels. And Kitty! What have I done?"

The sequel was, that Will, sauntering along, was too late for the picnic, and the pleasure of walking into town, ten miles."

"Good enough for him," said the vexed Kitty in a thoroughly felicitous way, as she missed him in the car, and she looked for him, and yet constantly darting sly glances in every direction to see if he could be near. "Good enough for him," she said, when the cars started. More tender thoughts came to her mind. "Poor Will," she finally murmured. "When he comes round to-night, I'll make him comfortable in that big armchair in our parlor, and will fix everything all right. But will he come round?"

A look at her naked finger sent a shiver over her, and the precipice yawning between her and Will? I wonder it he'll come to-night."

No Will came. The big armchair looked empty enough, and Kitty felt like trying a piece of grape to it. Will reached home thoroughly tired out by his walk, and a thoroughly disgusted with himself for his treatment of the poor soldier."

"Poor," he said to himself, as he dropped asleep. And that was just what Kitty said to herself. They were foolish. At the picnic party there had been a little jealousy and then a little slighting of one another. Kitty thought Will cruel, and so the end was that Will walked ten miles that night with a plump little gold ring in his pocket, and a sleep saying in self-accusation, "Poor!"

Both woke up with intentions to make reparation the next day. It is easier to mend it. When Will Graham went to his late breakfast, he found a short but peremptory letter waiting for him. It was war time. Will was a lieutenant in his regiment. The letter was a summons back to the front. The game of war was reported to be intensifying a serious demonstration. Every man must be in his place. The sentences of his letter ended sharp as pistol-shots, and Will was off by the next train. He sent a message by a lady friend to Kitty that he wanted her to write and he would as soon as possible answer it, and that she must not think anything of the game of war. Would she forgive him? he asked. But the lady friend, who chanced to be visiting in the place, was suddenly hurried home by symptoms of approaching sickness. The sickness proved fatal, and Will's words found a grave with her. As for Kitty, she wrote a little note before leaving her room that morning saying she was sorry, and gave it to a little boy to drop in the office. The game of war was finally picked up by the next enterprising chameleon that went round crying "Rags, tags."

Will wondered why after his message, Kitty didn't send a letter, and Kitty wondered why after her letter Will sent no message. The result was that a certain pretty little finger went minus a gold ring."

It was a weary autumn, and a wearier winter Kitty thought, that followed. The dead leaves whirling in the wind never seemed so mournful, and the snow ever seemed so much like a shroud. "No Will," she said, "these long winter evenings! Nothing but war reports sounding like batteries going off all the time."

"What is the matter with Graham?" said Will's mess-mates, as they rummaged after dinner on the subject of his depression, sending up their inquiries toward tobacco smoke. And Kitty's friends wondered why she was so dull and averse to society."

"Oh, father and mother are both feeble and need me," she said.

"Come to T—," some one said; married a rich old fellow that she didn't heartily love, all for the sake of making her father and mother comfortable."

It was just about so, but only when Kitty had grown heartily weary of waiting for Will. Reading at last in the evening paper that Lieutenant Graham had been killed, she gave up all hope. She made a grave as deep as the grave of her father, and gave herself away to a rich old friend of the family, a Mr. Carleton."

"Will be a good thing for father and mother," said Kitty. Mr. C— took his young bride to the city of T— two years, Kitty found herself a widow. Mr. Carleton had been a kind husband and Kitty, though unable to give anything like a hearty love, sincerely respected him. Love, however, is a plant that can't live on respect alone. Kitty's affection had been given to somebody else, though Kitty did not know it, and somebody else was still living in the place. "Almost dead," said Surgeon Dale to Will; "they say you were found after that last little skirmish. The bayonet wound you received in your eye, will finally, I am afraid, cause you to lose it. At any rate, you must wear a green patch for a long time."

Will's health recovered sufficiently to allow further service, and at the end of the war he was sent home for the role of an eagle on the shoulder and a green patch over the left eye."

When Will reached home he said to himself: "The young woman who once wanted the gold ring I carried in my pocket, surely won't want it now if she must take the green patch with it."

And sure enough, she didn't. Kitty's old home was empty as a robin's nest in October. He had heard she had gone somewhere and was a widow."

Oh, Graham was rich, and why shouldn't he marry? Many a girl would have put up with that green patch for the sake of his warm heart and manly character. And money, and the little green patch was very attractive. In one little clique where Will moved, it is a wonder it was not adopted as a badge. But those works of green were never carried, though assaulted by many a fair raider. Will was given up at last, and venomously reckoned as a "crusty old hawk."

The soldiers' orphans, and also the poor women that war left penniless widows, knew the green patch, however, as the sign of a warm-hearted man who made children happy with candy, and their mothers happy with coal."

As a handsome little property in the city of T—, fell to him one day, the colonel concluded to move there. The property included a big, hospitable old mansion just suited to his tastes. It lay in a large garden. The trees were not close up to it, smothering it, but stood at respectful distance, so that the sunshine could pour around the old house depths of gold-color, bringing health and life. To outsiders in the streets, so thick were the intervening trees, it seemed like a nest stowed away in the green foliage. Around the house went a broad piazza like a white ruff of the olden times about a lady's neck. Back of the house, there were long slopes of grass leading down to a river. In June, this river went like a minstrel past the mansions bordering it, singing beautiful songs of the summer as it paraded along. This princely place, however, brought out of its treasures all sorts of precious stones and spread them on the water's surface to tempt away his lady-loves wandering on the river's banks. Within the house, the rooms were of generous size, and yet cozy in its arrangements. The hall, furnished after the English style, was an ample comfortable retreat, ever open to all soldiers' stumps halted at the colonel's door."

"Oh, mamma," said little Kitty Carleton, now three years old, and Kitty Barton's only child, "somebody's turn, somebody's turn, over dear. See the garden!"

"Poor Will," she finally murmured. "When he comes round to-night, I'll make him comfortable in that big armchair in our parlor, and will fix everything all right. But will he come round?"

A look at her naked finger sent a shiver over her, and the precipice yawning between her and Will? I wonder it he'll come to-night."

No Will came. The big armchair looked empty enough, and Kitty felt like trying a piece of grape to it. Will reached home thoroughly tired out by his walk, and a thoroughly disgusted with himself for his treatment of the poor soldier."

"Poor," he said to himself, as he dropped asleep. And that was just what Kitty said to herself. They were foolish. At the picnic party there had been a little jealousy and then a little slighting of one another. Kitty thought Will cruel, and so the end was that Will walked ten miles that night with a plump little gold ring in his pocket, and a sleep saying in self-accusation, "Poor!"

Both woke up with intentions to make reparation the next day. It is easier to mend it. When Will Graham went to his late breakfast, he found a short but peremptory letter waiting for him. It was war time. Will was a lieutenant in his regiment. The letter was a summons back to the front. The game of war was reported to be intensifying a serious demonstration. Every man must be in his place. The sentences of his letter ended sharp as pistol-shots, and Will was off by the next train. He sent a message by a lady friend to Kitty that he wanted her to write and he would as soon as possible answer it, and that she must not think anything of the game of war. Would she forgive him? he asked. But the lady friend, who chanced to be visiting in the place, was suddenly hurried home by symptoms of approaching sickness. The sickness proved fatal, and Will's words found a grave with her. As for Kitty, she wrote a little note before leaving her room that morning saying she was sorry, and gave it to a little boy to drop in the office. The game of war was finally picked up by the next enterprising chameleon that went round crying "Rags, tags."

Will wondered why after his message, Kitty didn't send a letter, and Kitty wondered why after her letter Will sent no message. The result was that a certain pretty little finger went minus a gold ring."

It was a weary autumn, and a wearier winter Kitty thought, that followed. The dead leaves whirling in the wind never seemed so mournful, and the snow ever seemed so much like a shroud. "No Will," she said, "these long winter evenings! Nothing but war reports sounding like batteries going off all the time."

"What is the matter with Graham?" said Will's mess-mates, as they rummaged after dinner on the subject of his depression, sending up their inquiries toward tobacco smoke. And Kitty's friends wondered why she was so dull and averse to society."

"Oh, father and mother are both feeble and need me," she said.

"Come to T—," some one said; married a rich old fellow that she didn't heartily love, all for the sake of making her father and mother comfortable."

It was just about so, but only when Kitty had grown heartily weary of waiting for Will. Reading at last in the evening paper that Lieutenant Graham had been killed, she gave up all hope. She made a grave as deep as the grave of her father, and gave herself away to a rich old friend of the family, a Mr. Carleton."

"Will be a good thing for father and mother," said Kitty. Mr. C— took his young bride to the city of T— two years, Kitty found herself a widow. Mr. Carleton had been a kind husband and Kitty, though unable to give anything like a hearty love, sincerely respected him. Love, however, is a plant that can't live on respect alone. Kitty's affection had been given to somebody else, though Kitty did not know it, and somebody else was still living in the place. "Almost dead," said Surgeon Dale to Will; "they say you were found after that last little skirmish. The bayonet wound you received in your eye, will finally, I am afraid, cause you to lose it. At any rate, you must wear a green patch for a long time."

Will's health recovered sufficiently to allow further service, and at the end of the war he was sent home for the role of an eagle on the shoulder and a green patch over the left eye."

When Will reached home he said to himself: "The young woman who once wanted the gold ring I carried in my pocket, surely won't want it now if she must take the green patch with it."

And sure enough, she didn't. Kitty's old home was empty as a robin's nest in October. He had heard she had gone somewhere and was a widow."

Oh, Graham was rich, and why shouldn't he marry? Many a girl would have put up with that green patch for the sake of his warm heart and manly character. And money, and the little green patch was very attractive. In one little clique where Will moved, it is a wonder it was not adopted as a badge. But those works of green were never carried, though assaulted by many a fair raider. Will was given up at last, and venomously reckoned as a "crusty old hawk."

The soldiers' orphans, and also the poor women that war left penniless widows, knew the green patch, however, as the sign of a warm-hearted man who made children happy with candy, and their mothers happy with coal."

As a handsome little property in the city of T—, fell to him one day, the colonel concluded to move there. The property included a big, hospitable old mansion just suited to his tastes. It lay in a large garden. The trees were not close up to it, smothering it, but stood at respectful distance, so that the sunshine could pour around the old house depths of gold-color, bringing health and life. To outsiders in the streets, so thick were the intervening trees, it seemed like a nest stowed away in the green foliage. Around the house went a broad piazza like a white ruff of the olden times about a lady's neck. Back of the house, there were long slopes of grass leading down to a river. In June, this river went like a minstrel past the mansions bordering it, singing beautiful songs of the summer as it paraded along. This princely place, however, brought out of its treasures all sorts of precious stones and spread them on the water's surface to tempt away his lady-loves wandering on the river's banks. Within the house, the rooms were of generous size, and yet cozy in its arrangements. The hall, furnished after the English style, was an ample comfortable retreat, ever open to all soldiers' stumps halted at the colonel's door."

"Oh, mamma," said little Kitty Carleton, now three years old, and Kitty Barton's only child, "somebody's turn, somebody's turn, over dear. See the garden!"

"Poor Will," she finally murmured. "When he comes round to-night, I'll make him comfortable in that big armchair in our parlor, and will fix everything all right. But will he come round?"

A look at her naked finger sent a shiver over her, and the precipice yawning between her and Will? I wonder it he'll come to-night."

No Will came. The big armchair looked empty enough, and Kitty felt like trying a piece of grape to it. Will reached home thoroughly tired out by his walk, and a thoroughly disgusted with himself for his treatment of the poor soldier."

"Poor," he said to himself, as he dropped asleep. And that was just what Kitty said to herself. They were foolish. At the picnic party there had been a little jealousy and then a little slighting of one another. Kitty thought Will cruel, and so the end was that Will walked ten miles that night with a plump little gold ring in his pocket, and a sleep saying in self-accusation, "Poor!"

Both woke up with intentions to make reparation the next day. It is easier to mend it. When Will Graham went to his late breakfast, he found a short but peremptory letter waiting for him. It was war time. Will was a lieutenant in his regiment. The letter was a summons back to the front. The game of war was reported to be intensifying a serious demonstration. Every man must be in his place. The sentences of his letter ended sharp as pistol-shots, and Will was off by the next train. He sent a message by a lady friend to Kitty that he wanted her to write and he would as soon as possible answer it, and that she must not think anything of the game of war. Would she forgive him? he asked. But the lady friend, who chanced to be visiting in the place, was suddenly hurried home by symptoms of approaching sickness. The sickness proved fatal, and Will's words found a grave with her. As for Kitty, she wrote a little note before leaving her room that morning saying she was sorry, and gave it to a little boy to drop in the office. The game of war was finally picked up by the next enterprising chameleon that went round crying "Rags, tags."

Will wondered why after his message, Kitty didn't send a letter, and Kitty wondered why after her letter Will sent no message. The result was that a certain pretty little finger went minus a gold ring."

It was a weary autumn, and a wearier winter Kitty thought, that followed. The dead leaves whirling in the wind never seemed so mournful, and the snow ever seemed so much like a shroud. "No Will," she said, "these long winter evenings! Nothing but war reports sounding like batteries going off all the time."

"What is the matter with Graham?" said Will's mess-mates, as they rummaged after dinner on the subject of his depression, sending up their inquiries toward tobacco smoke. And Kitty's friends wondered why she was so dull and averse to society."

"Oh, father and mother are both feeble and need me," she said.

"Come to T—," some one said; married a rich old fellow that she didn't heartily love, all for the sake of making her father and mother comfortable."

It was just about so, but only when Kitty had grown heartily weary of waiting for Will. Reading at last in the evening paper that Lieutenant Graham had been killed, she gave up all hope. She made a grave as deep as the grave of her father, and gave herself away to a rich old friend of the family, a Mr. Carleton."

"Will be a good thing for father and mother," said Kitty. Mr. C— took his young bride to the city of T— two years, Kitty found herself a widow. Mr. Carleton had been a kind husband and Kitty, though unable to give anything like a hearty love, sincerely respected him. Love, however, is a plant that can't live on respect alone. Kitty's affection had been given to somebody else, though Kitty did not know it, and somebody else was still living in the place. "Almost dead," said Surgeon Dale to Will; "they say you were found after that last little skirmish. The bayonet wound you received in your eye, will finally, I am afraid, cause you to lose it. At any rate, you must wear a green patch for a long time."

Will's health recovered sufficiently to allow further service, and at the end of the war he was sent home for the role of an eagle on the shoulder and a green patch over the left eye."

When Will reached home he said to himself: "The young woman who once wanted the gold ring I carried in my pocket, surely won't want it now if she must take the green patch with it."

And sure enough, she didn't. Kitty's old home was empty as a robin's nest in October. He had heard she had gone somewhere and was a widow."

Oh, Graham was rich, and why shouldn't he marry? Many a girl would have put up with that green patch for the sake of his warm heart and manly character. And money, and the little green patch was very attractive. In one little clique where Will moved, it is a wonder it was not adopted as a badge. But those works of green were never carried, though assaulted by many a fair raider. Will was given up at last, and venomously reckoned as a "crusty old hawk."

The soldiers' orphans, and also the poor women that war left penniless widows, knew the green patch, however, as the sign of a warm-hearted man who made children happy with candy, and their mothers happy with coal."

As a handsome little property in the city of T—, fell to him one day, the colonel concluded to move there. The property included a big, hospitable old mansion just suited to his tastes. It lay in a large garden. The trees were not close up to it, smothering it, but stood at respectful distance, so that the sunshine could pour around the old house depths of gold-color, bringing health and life. To outsiders in the streets, so thick were the intervening trees, it seemed like a nest stowed away in the green foliage. Around the house went a broad piazza like a white ruff of the olden times about a lady's neck. Back of the house, there were long slopes of grass leading down to a river. In June, this river went like a minstrel past the mansions bordering it, singing beautiful songs of the summer as it paraded along. This princely place, however, brought out of its treasures all sorts of precious stones and spread them on the water's surface to tempt away his lady-loves wandering on the river's banks. Within the house, the rooms were of generous size, and yet cozy in its arrangements. The hall, furnished after the English style, was an ample comfortable retreat, ever open to all soldiers' stumps halted at the colonel's door."

"Oh, mamma," said little Kitty Carleton, now three years old, and Kitty Barton's only child, "somebody's turn, somebody's turn, over dear. See the garden!"

"Poor Will," she finally murmured. "When he comes round to-night, I'll make him comfortable in that big armchair in our parlor, and will fix everything all right. But will he come round?"

A look at her naked finger sent a shiver over her, and the precipice yawning between her and Will? I wonder it he'll come to-night."

No Will came. The big armchair looked empty enough, and Kitty felt like trying a piece of grape to it. Will reached home thoroughly tired out by his walk, and a thoroughly disgusted with himself for his treatment of the poor soldier."

"Poor," he said to himself, as he dropped asleep. And that was just what Kitty said to herself. They were foolish. At the picnic party there had been a little jealousy and then a little slighting of one another. Kitty thought Will cruel, and so the end was that Will walked ten miles that night with a plump little gold ring in his pocket, and a sleep saying in self-accusation, "Poor!"

Both woke up with intentions to make reparation the next day. It is easier to mend it. When Will Graham went to his late breakfast, he found a short but peremptory letter waiting for him. It was war time. Will was a lieutenant in his regiment. The letter was a summons back to the front. The game of war was reported to be intensifying a serious demonstration. Every man must be in his place. The sentences of his letter ended sharp as pistol-shots, and Will was off by the next train. He sent a message by a lady friend to Kitty that he wanted her to write and he would as soon as possible answer it, and that she must not think anything of the game of war. Would she forgive him? he asked. But the lady friend, who chanced to be visiting in the place, was suddenly hurried home by symptoms of approaching sickness. The sickness proved fatal, and Will's words found a grave with her. As for Kitty, she wrote a little note before leaving her room that morning saying she was sorry, and gave it to a little boy to drop in the office. The game of war was finally picked up by the next enterprising chameleon that went round crying "Rags, tags."

Will wondered why after his message, Kitty didn't send a letter, and Kitty wondered why after her letter Will sent no message. The result was that a certain pretty little finger went minus a gold ring."

It was a weary autumn, and a wearier winter Kitty thought, that followed. The dead leaves whirling in the wind never seemed so mournful, and the snow ever seemed so much like a shroud. "No Will," she said, "these long winter evenings! Nothing but war reports sounding like batteries going off all the time."

"What is the matter with Graham?" said Will's mess-mates, as they rummaged after dinner on the subject of his depression, sending up their inquiries toward tobacco smoke. And Kitty's friends wondered why she was so dull and averse to society."

"Oh, father and mother are both feeble and need me," she said.

"Come to T—," some one said; married a rich old fellow that she didn't heartily love, all for the sake of making her father and mother comfortable."

It was just about so, but only when Kitty had grown heartily weary of waiting for Will. Reading at last in the evening paper that Lieutenant Graham had been killed, she gave up all hope. She made a grave as deep as the grave of her father, and gave herself away to a rich old friend of the family, a Mr. Carleton."

"Will be a good thing for father and mother," said Kitty. Mr. C— took his young bride to the city of T— two years, Kitty found herself a widow. Mr. Carleton had been a kind husband and Kitty, though unable to give anything like a hearty love, sincerely respected him. Love, however, is a plant that can't live on respect alone. Kitty's affection had been given to somebody else, though Kitty did not know it, and somebody else was still living in the place. "Almost dead," said Surgeon Dale to Will; "they say you were found after that last little skirmish. The bayonet wound you received in your eye, will finally, I am afraid, cause you to lose it. At any rate, you must wear a green patch for a long time."

Will's health recovered sufficiently to allow further service, and at the end of the war he was sent home for the role of an eagle on the shoulder and a green patch over the left eye."

When Will reached home he said to himself: "The young woman who once wanted the gold ring I carried in my pocket, surely won't want it now if she must take the green patch with it."

And sure enough, she didn't. Kitty's old home was empty as a robin's nest in October. He had heard she had gone somewhere and was a widow."

Oh, Graham was rich, and why shouldn't he marry? Many a girl would have put up with that green patch for the sake of his warm heart and manly character. And money, and the little green patch was very attractive. In one little clique where Will moved, it is a wonder it was not adopted as a badge. But those works of green were never carried, though assaulted by many a fair raider. Will was given up at last, and venomously reckoned as a "crusty old hawk."

The soldiers' orphans, and also the poor women that war left penniless widows, knew the green patch, however, as the sign of a warm-hearted man who made children happy with candy, and their mothers happy with coal."

As a handsome little property in the city of T—, fell to him one day, the colonel concluded to move there. The property included a big, hospitable old mansion just suited to his tastes. It lay in a large garden. The trees were not close up to it, smothering it, but stood at respectful distance, so that the sunshine could pour around the old house depths of gold-color, bringing health and life. To outsiders in the streets, so thick were the intervening trees, it seemed like a nest stowed away in the green foliage. Around the house went a broad piazza like a white ruff of the olden times about a lady's neck. Back of the house, there were long slopes of grass leading down to a river. In June, this river went like a minstrel past the mansions bordering it, singing beautiful songs of the summer as it paraded along. This princely place, however, brought out of its treasures all sorts of precious stones and spread them on the water's surface to tempt away his lady-loves wandering on the river's banks. Within the house, the rooms were of generous size, and yet cozy in its arrangements. The hall, furnished after the English style, was an ample comfortable retreat, ever open to all soldiers' stumps halted at the colonel's door."

"Oh, mamma," said little Kitty Carleton, now three years old, and Kitty Barton's only child, "somebody's turn, somebody's turn, over dear. See the garden!"

"Poor Will," she finally murmured. "When he comes round to-night, I'll make him comfortable in that big armchair in our parlor, and will fix everything all right. But will he come round?"

A look at her naked finger sent a shiver over her, and the precipice yawning between her and Will? I wonder it he'll come to-night."

No Will came. The big armchair looked empty enough, and Kitty felt like trying a piece of grape to it. Will reached home thoroughly tired out by his walk, and a thoroughly disgusted with himself for his treatment of the poor soldier."

"Poor," he said to himself, as he dropped asleep. And that was just what Kitty said to herself. They were foolish. At the picnic party there had been a little jealousy and then a little slighting of one another. Kitty thought Will cruel, and so the end was that Will walked ten miles that night with a plump little gold ring in his pocket, and a sleep saying in self-accusation, "Poor!"

Both woke up with intentions to make reparation the next day. It is easier to mend it. When Will Graham went to his late breakfast, he found a short but peremptory letter waiting for him. It was war time. Will was a lieutenant in his regiment. The letter was a summons back to the front. The game of war was reported to be intensifying a serious demonstration. Every man must be in his place. The sentences of his letter ended sharp as pistol-shots, and Will was off by the next train. He sent a message by a lady friend to Kitty that he wanted her to write and he would as soon as possible answer it, and that she must not think anything of the game of war. Would she forgive him? he asked. But the lady friend, who chanced to be visiting in the place, was suddenly hurried home by symptoms of approaching sickness. The sickness proved fatal, and Will's words found a grave with her. As for Kitty, she wrote a little note before leaving her room that morning saying she was sorry, and gave it to a little boy to drop in the office. The game of war was finally picked up by the next enterprising chameleon that went round crying "Rags, tags."

Will wondered why after his message, Kitty didn't send a letter, and Kitty wondered why after her letter Will sent no message. The result was that a certain pretty little finger went minus a gold ring."

It was a weary autumn, and a wearier winter Kitty thought, that followed. The dead leaves whirling in the wind never seemed so mournful, and the snow ever seemed so much like a shroud. "No Will," she said, "these long winter evenings! Nothing but war reports sounding like batteries going off all the time."

"What is the matter with Graham?" said Will's mess-mates, as they rummaged after dinner on the subject of his depression, sending up their inquiries toward tobacco smoke. And Kitty's friends wondered why she was so dull and averse to society."

"Oh, father and mother are both feeble and need me," she said.

"Come to T—," some one said; married a rich old fellow that she didn't heartily love, all for the sake of making her father and mother comfortable."

It was just about so, but only when Kitty had grown heartily weary of waiting for Will. Reading at last in the evening paper that Lieutenant Graham had been killed, she gave up all hope. She made a grave as deep as the grave of her father, and gave herself away to a rich old friend of the family, a Mr. Carleton."

"Will be a good thing for father and mother," said Kitty. Mr. C— took his young bride to the city of T— two years, Kitty found herself a widow. Mr. Carleton had been a kind husband and Kitty, though unable to give anything like a hearty love, sincerely respected him. Love, however, is a plant that can't live on respect alone. Kitty's affection had been given to somebody else, though Kitty did not know it, and somebody else was still living in the place. "Almost dead," said Surgeon Dale to Will; "they say you were found after that last little skirmish. The bayonet wound you received in your eye, will finally, I am afraid, cause you to lose it. At any rate, you must wear a green patch for a long time."

Will's health recovered sufficiently to allow further service, and at the end of the war he was sent home for the role of an eagle on the shoulder and a green patch over the left eye."

When Will reached home he said to himself: "The young woman who once wanted the gold ring I carried in my pocket, surely won't want it now if she must take the green patch with it."

And sure enough, she didn't. Kitty's old home was empty as a robin's nest in October. He had heard she had gone somewhere and was a widow."

Oh, Graham was rich, and why shouldn't he marry? Many a girl would have put up with that green patch for the sake of his warm heart and manly character. And money, and the little green patch was very attractive. In one little

The Richmond Pink Prints

As printed on strong cloth, in absolutely fast colors. They will not fade by light or washing. The only Co. that has been awarded a Gold Medal for these goods. After thirty years' test they are admitted to be the BEST PINK MADE. If you want HONEST GOODS remember this and BUY THEM.

HOXSIE FRUIT & PRODUCE
Wholesale
11 Jackson St., St. Paul.
We have pleasure in receiving orders for Apples, Oranges, Lemons, Clarified Butter, Dried Apples, Cloves and Timothy Seed, Seed Oats, Anything in the Produce line in its season.

AND JAGGAR
We have pleasure in receiving orders for Apples, Oranges, Lemons, Clarified Butter, Dried Apples, Cloves and Timothy Seed, Seed Oats, Anything in the Produce line in its season.

SCALES
FAIRBANKS' STANDARD
OF ALL KINDS
Fairbanks, Morse & Co.
42 East Third St., St. Paul, Minn.

RIDGE'S FOOD
FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS
Do not let your children grow up weak and puny when Ridge's Food can be had at such a small cost. WHOLESOME AND EASY TO DIGEST.

MASSON'S
HABIT & SKIN DISEASES
Do not let your children grow up weak and puny when Ridge's Food can be had at such a small cost. WHOLESOME AND EASY TO DIGEST.

MASSON'S
HABIT & SKIN DISEASES
Do not let your children grow up weak and puny when Ridge's Food can be had at such a small cost. WHOLESOME AND EASY TO DIGEST.

MASSON'S
HABIT & SKIN DISEASES
Do not let your children grow up weak and puny when Ridge's Food can be had at such a small cost. WHOLESOME AND EASY TO DIGEST.

MASSON'S
HABIT & SKIN DISEASES
Do not let your children grow up weak and puny when Ridge's Food can be had at such a small cost. WHOLESOME AND EASY TO DIGEST.

MASSON'S
HABIT & SKIN DISEASES
Do not let your children grow up weak and puny when Ridge's Food can be had at such a small cost. WHOLESOME AND EASY TO DIGEST.

MASSON'S
HABIT & SKIN DISEASES
Do not let your children grow up weak and puny when Ridge's Food can be had at such a small cost. WHOLESOME AND EASY TO DIGEST.

MASSON'S
HABIT & SKIN DISEASES
Do not let your children grow up weak and puny when Ridge's Food can be had at such a small cost. WHOLESOME AND EASY TO DIGEST.

MASSON'S
HABIT & SKIN DISEASES
Do not let your children grow up weak and puny when Ridge's Food can be had at such a small cost. WHOLESOME AND EASY TO DIGEST.

MASSON'S
HABIT & SKIN DISEASES
Do not let your children grow up weak and puny when Ridge's Food can be had at such a small cost. WHOLESOME AND EASY TO DIGEST.

MASSON'S
HABIT & SKIN DISEASES
Do not let your children grow up weak and puny when Ridge's Food can be had at such a small cost. WHOLESOME AND EASY TO DIGEST.

MASSON'S
HABIT & SKIN DISEASES
Do not let your children grow up weak and puny when Ridge's Food can be had at such a small cost. WHOLESOME AND EASY TO DIGEST.

MASSON'S
HABIT & SKIN DISEASES
Do not let your children grow up weak and puny when Ridge's Food can be had at such a small cost. WHOLESOME AND

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

A. EISELIN & CO.

General Merchandise

Goods at St. Paul and Minneapolis prices.

Produce taken in exchange for goods at CASH market prices.

LAKE HOUSE,

A. F. SCHWETZ,

Waconia, Minn.

The best accommodations for Travelers, Fishing Parties and Pleasure Seekers. The hotel is situated on the beautiful Clearwater Lake. Stable and water on the premises.

Continental

Insurance Company

Western Department 101 State Street

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.

Cash Capital, $1,000,000.00.

Cash Assets, Jan. 1st 1878, $2,173,433.31.

M. H. MURPHY, Agent.

Chaska, Minn.

Peter B. Utterdahl,

SALEMAN

CARVER, MINN.

He has the cheapest liquors and cigars.

Good stable room for 25 horses, and water place for team handy to stable. Call and see.

FARM FOR SALE IN WACONIA.

The undersigned offers his farm situated near Waconia, for sale. It consists of 30 acres, to be divided into 10 lots. The farm is well improved with a good house, barn, and outbuildings. The soil is rich and the water is pure. For further particulars inquire of the proprietor on the premises.

Waconia, Dec. 1st 1877.

HERMAN BECKER.

JULIUS ENGER.

OLUF HANSEN.

Zager & Hanson

Carpenters and Builders,

CHASKA, MINN.

We will contract for buildings, such as dwellings, business houses, barns, and outbuildings. We will also furnish all kinds of building material.

Plans and specifications also executed on demand.

Agents for the Best Double Building Machine, manufacturers of such, Chaska, Minn.

NEW GROCERY STORE.

The undersigned would respectfully announce to the public of Carver and the adjoining Counties, that he has just opened a

New Grocery Store

in Carver and invites the people to give him a call.

Everything in the line of Groceries is on hand. The goods are of the best quality. Come and see and we will give you the best price.

Price Suffer.

In the Millinery Store of Mrs. Satter the ladies will find a large and complete assortment of

HATS, RIBBONS, TRIMMINGS, EMBROIDERIES, &c.

Just received. They are of the latest styles and will be sold at a bargain. Ladies are respectfully invited to call and examine the goods.

MRS. E. SALTER.

CHASKA ELEVATORS,

Wm. Seeger & Son,

DEALERS IN

WHEAT

AND

ALL KINDS OF GRAIN.

CHASKA, MINN.

Store wheat, grain and keep on hand all kinds of Feed, Corn Meal, Graham and Rye Meal. Grinding 5 cents per bushel.

CENTENNIAL LAKE HOUSE

JACOB KERN, Prop.

LAKE TOWN, Carver County, Minn.

Hotel, Saloon and Summer Resort.

See. Finest Liquors and choice cigars constantly on hand. Lunch at any time of the day. Jacob Kern & Jerry Ebbmann, will attend to any auction sale in Carver County.

THEODORE KENNALVIG.

Contractor & Builder

CHASKA, MINN.

Will take contracts for building of dwelling and business houses of all kinds. Will furnish materials and execute all contracts with promptness.

See. Moving buildings a Specialty.

Office at H. Kennig.

Chaska Bakery

and Confectionary Store!

The undersigned respectfully invites the attention of the citizens of Chaska & vicinity to his

BAKERY & STORE.

Fresh bread every day and cookies of all kinds. Always on hand. Cakes, biscuits, and all kinds of confectionery on order for weddings, bachelors and excursions &c.

Shop on 2nd St. east of Herd office.

HERMAN ERREN, Prop.

W. C. ODELL,

(WITH L. L. BAXTER)

ATTORNEYS AT LAW,

CHASKA, MINN.

Office over Herd office.

S. FOWLER,

ATTORNEY AT LAW.

CHASKA, MINN.

LOCAL NEWS.

Minneapolis & St. Louis

Railway.

TIME CARD NO. 21.

Taking effect Jan. 12th 1879.

Trains going South.

10 5:50 A. M. Mixed. Passenger, connects at Morrison Junction with train for St. Paul.

4 2:40 P. M.

6 4:55 P. M. Mixed.

Going North.

5 9:51 A. M. Mixed.

3 2:40 P. M. Passenger.

7 4:55 P. M. Mixed.

HASTINGS AND DAKOTA.

West. East.

Passenger, 10:15 A. M. Passenger, 2:40 P. M.

10:35 " 2:00 "

Mixed 6:20 P. M. Mixed 7:40 A. M.

6:30 " 5:10 "

Freight 9:40 A. M. Freight 4:00 P. M.

10:05 A. M. 4:25 P. M.

Here and There.

A light fall of snow Wednesday.

We had several cold days this week, notably Wednesday and Thursday.

Court convenes on next Monday. There are some important cases on the calendar but the term will be a short one nevertheless.

Our county jail contains two prisoners, committed to that institution to await the action of the Grand Jury. Both were committed for burglary.

Chauncey Baxter, son of Col. Baxter, has accepted a position on the surveying force of the H. & D. road. He will be gone all summer. He has a good position with engineer Rogers.

Leonard Grates and Ed Goetz, of Carver, have taken the contract to do the brick work on Nicolins new mill, Jordan.

We wish them success.

Sheriff DuToit, closed out Fabel's stock in Norway, at Sheriff's sale, realizing something over $1200, from the same.

Peter Hiss, Esq., Proprietor of the National Hotel, is building in a new floor and otherwise improving the appearance of his bar room. We wish him success.

Dagobert Kerker, will give a grand ball on Monday evening April 14th 1879. The ball will be given at Concordia Hall and a good time is guaranteed.

Philip Henk, Esq., has temporarily taken up his residence on the Swilens farm in Chanhassen, which he is seeking down.

Phillip says he is having a lot of fun.

Peorish children have worms. Dr. Jaqu's German Worm Cakes will destroy the worms and make the children happy.

Sold by Jos. Frank.

H. W. HOLMES, ESQ.

Our friend Harrie W. Holmes, of Minneapolis, has had another misfortune in being burnt out again. He has been operating the "City Mill," Minneapolis, for the last year, and was doing well, and on Sunday morning last the mill was discovered on fire, and as it had gained such headway, it could not be saved. The mill was entirely destroyed, together with three or four thousand bushels of wheat, and considerable flour—his loss will be over $5,000.

This is a hard blow, but as he is "grit" all over, he will soon recover and start in again with his usual energy and determination to win.

Mrs. F. A. Satter, has just received a large stock of Millinery Goods, which she is prepared to sell at the very lowest prices.

Call and examine her goods and prices, for yourself.

NORWOOD MILL BURNED.

The Grist and Saw Mill, of Messrs.

Booth & Burfield, of Norwood, burned down last Friday evening, about 8 o'clock

p. m. The mill had been running that day, and probably caught fire from friction in the upper story. When discovered the fire had got under such headway, that it was impossible to save the mill—altogether the Hook and Ladder Company, of Norwood, were promptly on the ground.

The loss is placed at $5,000, with an insurance of $3,000. It is a severe loss to both the proprietors and the enterprising village of Norwood.

For a pamphlet on Electric Treatment of chronic diseases with Electricity, which will be sent free, address the McIntosh

Electric Belt and Battery Co., 192 & 194

Jackson St., Chicago, Ill.

SONS OF HERMANN.

The Sons of Hermann at their meeting last Saturday elected for the semi-annual term the following officers:

President, F. Greiner, Jr.

Vice President, F. Hiss.

Treasurer, F. Eisler.

1st Secy., J. Zimelmann.

2nd Secy., W. Berndt.

Trustee, T. Kenning.

The Lodge is in a very flourishing condition both financially and in membership.

Man with all his endowments, is in many things most foolish. He will give all he has for his life, but is reckless and indifferent to his health. He will gamble a thief who steals his purse, yet will dilly with a cough and cold and finally go into consumption, when such a sure remedy as Ellers's

Extract of Tar and Wild Cherry can be obtained. It performs a cure, cures, gives strength to every part, and is invaluable in removing lung diseases. It is a safe guard for all from the time it is taken. It restores the sick, strengthens the weak, improves the appetite, and will keep the stock in a thriving condition, for it supplies the valued qualities in grass. Sold by all Druggists.

GONE EAST.

Florian Linenfels, Esq., of the well known and substantial firm of Linenfels

& Faber, left for Chicago and eastern markets last Tuesday, to put in his spring stock of goods.

Those in want of something nice should wait until he returns, which will be about the middle of next week.

NAVIER KERKER, ESQ.

Navier Kerker, Esq., the popular druggist in the store of Jos. Frank, in this city, for the past number of years, will soon take his departure for Rochester

Minn., to take a similar position in one of the largest stores in that city.

We regret to have Mr. K. leave us, but what is our loss will be Rochester's gain.

We join with Navier's host of friends in this city in wishing him a pleasant and profitable stay in his new home.

A STRIKE.

The men at work on the H. & D. Construction train, 25 being from this town, struck for higher wages last week. They were receiving $1.00 per day. The company refused to comply with the demands of the men, and moved the train to Glencoe. They now work a crew of Glencoe men.

Read the new advertisement of Otto Streissguth. It appears in this and should attract the attention of our readers.

BIG PURCHASE.

Messrs. Linenfels and Faber have bought some 500 acres of land and the Mill of Philip Siegel, all lying in the town of Dahlgreen. The consideration paid was in the neighborhood of $9,000.

Mr. Siegel will continue to operate the mill, however.

SALOON LICENSE.

Under the provisions of our new Charter the Village Council have power to fix the amount to be paid for saloon license, at any sum not greater than two hundred dollars, nor less than twenty five dollars.

THE WEEKLY VALLEY HERALD—Rates of Advertising.

space.	1 w.	1 m.	3 m.	6 m.	1 year
1 inch	$7.50	1.25	2.00	4.00	10.00
2 inch	12.50	2.00	3.25	6.00	14.00
3 inch	17.50	2.75	4.00	7.50	18.00
4 inch	22.50	3.50	5.00	9.00	22.00
5 inch	27.50	4.25	6.00	10.50	26.00
6 inch	32.50	5.00	7.00	12.00	30.00
7 inch	37.50	5.75	8.00	13.50	34.00
8 inch	42.50	6.50	9.00	15.00	38.00
9 inch	47.50	7.25	10.00	16.50	42.00
10 inch	52.50	8.00	11.00	18.00	46.00

Legal advertisements, 75 cents per folio, per insertion, and 35 cents each subsequent insertion. Payment required on delivery of ad. Advt.

1 folio is 250 ems solid matter. Local notices 10 cents per line for one insertion. Transient advertisements payable in advance.

NEW BUSINESS CARDS.

Hardware, STOVES & Tin-Ware.

MEUWISSEN & WIRTZ
BENTON, MINN.
Successor to
L. Hochhausen, keeps on hand a large assortment of Agricultural Implements and Machinery Tools, Nails, Glass, Sash and Doors, and all other articles found in a first class Hardware Store. Will sell at St. Paul and Minneapolis prices. Tinting of all kinds done on short notice. Give us a call before buying your goods elsewhere.
—Peter Wirtz is also Notary Public. Insurance agent for Life and Life. I will also give music instructions, by the month or by the hour.

Blacksmith & Repair Shop WATERTOWN PLOWS.

The undersigned has opened up a first class Blacksmith and repair shop, in the old Deising shop, next door to Hennings Store, to which he invites his old friends and customers.
All work guaranteed.
Horse and ox shoeing a specialty.
The celebrated Watertown stubble and cross plow constantly kept on hand for sale as cheap as any other first class plow.
JOSEPH DEISING.

Union Brewery,

GEORGE KARCHER, Proprietor.
(Successor to F. H. H. H.)
Chaska, Minn.
Manufacturer of No. 1 Beer, which he will deliver in any part of the county promptly on order.

CHASKA, Sept. 1st 1878.
Chaska Elevator.

We beg respectfully to inform our friends that we have added to our Elevator a new Pat-

WARE-HOUSE SEPARATOR.
and have made other changes, which enable us to receive, store, clean and ship all kinds of grain, particularly wheat, in the most efficient and facility than formerly. By this improvement we are able to put full value of their wheat according to its weight, and they will find it to their interest to give us their patronage.
We are also prepared to buy Barley, Oats, Corn, Hay, etc., and will always pay the highest market price.
Flour, Shells, Bran and all other kinds of Feed are kept constantly on hand and sold at the lowest prices.
Feed grinding done at one shilling per sack.
WM. SEEGERT & SON.

New Furniture Store.
OF
Burkhart Bros.
(Next door to National Hotel)
CHASKA, MINNESOTA.

Keeps constantly on hand all kinds of chairs, bedsteads, bureaus, lounges, sofas, picture frames, etc., etc., and will repair and refinish promptly attended to. All work guaranteed, and charges reasonable.
BURKHART BROS.

HARNES & SADDLERY
BY
S. B. KOEHLER
WATERTOWN, MINN.

Keeps constantly on hand a large assortment of HARNESSES, SADDLERY, BLANKETS, AND TRIMMINGS.
—Repairing done with neatness and dispatch.
dec 17-ly

MARKET HOTEL,
Corner 1st St. & 1st Ave. North.
FRANK DARK MANAGER.
Minneapolis, West.

This Hotel has just been newly fitted up and offers to the traveling public and boarders the best of accommodations. Good stables and an experienced horsemen are at service any time.

OLD SETTLER'S HOME
by JAKE BYHOFER. opposite Court House,
CHASKA, MINN.

A good glass of beer, choice Wines and Liquors and Cigars always on hand. Give me a call and take a drink and go away satisfied.

Hardware.

STOVES
and Tinware!

ALBERT KOHLER.
Waconia, Minn.
Also FURNITURE of every description at city prices.

COFFINS! COFFINS!
always kept on hand. Give me a call before purchasing elsewhere.
A. KOHLER.

The Weekly Valley Herald.

A. I. DU TOIT & CO., Proprietors.

VOLUME 17

CHASKA, MINNESOTA, THURSDAY, APR. 10 1879

TERMS, $1.50 Per Annum.

NUMBER 28

The Valley Herald.
Official County Paper.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY
A. I. AND F. B. DU TOIT,
Editors and Publishers.

COUNTY OFFICERS.

Treasurer—Peter Wegge.
Auditor—L. Streukens.
Register of Deeds—F. Greiner.
Sheriff—F. E. Du Toit.
Clerk of Court—G. Krayenbuhl.
Attorney—L. J. Chesser.
Judge of Probate—J. A. Sargent.
School Superintendent—Wm. Denison.
Coroner—Robt. Miller.
County Commissioners—S. B. Kohler, Chairman, Jacob Trave, Frederick Illis, A. J. Carlson, Adam Hill.

THEY have been having a "big" debate in Congress over the appropriation bill and some side issues attached thereto. The debate has been transferred to the Senate this week. Look out for thunder next week from that body.

COURT convened on Monday and will probably conclude its session this evening. The grand jury was discharged on Wednesday, after doing up a large amount of business promptly and satisfactorily. Court expenses in this county are much less than in the adjoining counties of Scott, McLeod and Sibley—a fact that speaks well for our citizens and officials.

INTERESTING COMMUNICATION.

We call the attention of our readers to the communications of Hons. L. B. Hodges and O. H. Page. They were called out on account of certain insinuations cast on Capt. Mills, by certain parties in Carver. They speak in "no uncertain" language.

THE GERMAN SARATOGA OF MINNESOTA.

[Correspondence of the Globe.]

WACONIA, Minn., April 2.—From the present outlook Waconia will eventually in a few years be the German Saratoga of the Northwest. The village is ten miles west of Excelsior on the south side of Lake Waconia, in Carver county, and is exclusively of German population. For the past few seasons a number of wealthy Germans from various Mississippi towns, who appreciate German society as it existed with well-to-do Germans at home, have made Waconia their headquarters during the sultry seasons. Owing to the absence of these stringy laws which tend to curb the convivial nature of persons, Waconia is peculiarly adapted as a place of recreation to those who are not extremists. The hotel men are making extensive preparations in the way of refitting and enlarging their buildings to entertain the many rusticators who are expected to make Waconia their resort the approaching season. Waconia citizens entertain a strong hope of their village being a point on the contemplated Minneapolis & Hutchinson railroad, the village being on the most direct route between Excelsior and Hutchinson.

Highly Interesting Correspondence.

St. Paul April 4th 1879.

EDITOR VALLEY HERALD:

My attention has been called to an article in the Free Press in which the assertion is made that Senator Page was the author of the Farmers Board of Trade, and reflecting somewhat unjustly on the Senator of your County.
Having been personally acquainted with both Senators for more than twenty years I feel the more at liberty to mix in, than might otherwise seem proper.
Permit me, therefore, to say that before the smoke of battle had fairly cleared away last November, I received a letter from Senator Mills of Carver, assuring me of his cordial sympathy in my efforts to obtain such legislation as would effectually and forever prevent such a wholesale plundering of the farmers of this state as was then being perpetrated, and pledging himself to co-operate with me in any measure deemed best calculated to accomplish the needed reforms in testing, grading and weighing wheat.
In said letter, Senator Mills suggested the propriety of the establishment of a "Minnesota Farmers Board of Trade," to be composed of one or more of the most able and experienced farmers of each Judicial District, and to be selected and appointed by the Judge thereof: that said Board should be created by Legislative enactment, and clothed with such powers as would make said Board respected by the wheat thieves and gamblers of Chicago, Milwaukee &c., and at the same time give Minnesota, a voice in determining the GRADES of her great staple.

This idea so far as I know, originated with Senator Mills, and I was so impressed with its practical value to the farmers of Minnesota, that I cordially assisted thereto, and in my report to the St. Paul Chamber of Commerce in January last, recommended and endorsed this idea of Senator Mills.
I, as a Minnesota farmer, am glad such a Board is to be organized. Composed of the right material, it will stand as a tower of strength, potential in determining the true and honest grade of wheat.

Through the co-operation of your Senator with such true friends of the people as Campbell of Meeker, and others, the unregenerate swindling brass-kettle has been exposed in all its enormities, shorn of its powers to rob; and together with its sneaking, swindling apologists, consigned to eternal infamy.

We have made at least one stride towards reform, one victory over wrong, and if the Judiciary do their duty we are in position to maintain our rights.

All honor to every Senator and Representative who by his action endeavored to protect his constituents from the swindling operations of the wheat rings.

Yours Truly,
LEONARD B. HODGES.

PLEASANT GROVE MINN.
Apr. 4th 1879.

ED. VALLEY HERALD:

My attention has been called to two items clipped from some Carver County papers which seem to reflect discredit on Senator Mills. Simple justice requires me to say that the credit of the Farmers Board of Trade bill belongs to Senator Mills. The whole scheme of the said board of trade and the so-called Stacy wheat grading bill was as I know begotten, not in the interest of any speculation but with the view of giving relief and protection to the farmer, and will, as I verily believe, be fully demonstrated in due time.

O. H. PAGE.

Carver County—Its Towns and Some of the Early Settlers.

(Continued from last week.)

[CHAPTER II.]

The last chapter closed with the names of the persons who had held the position of county commissioners from the organization of the county up to the year 1869. Since that date the commissioners of the county have been Dr. Benedict Lehman, Eli F. Lewis, Napoleon Steinmiz, Mathew Kelly, J. P. Akin, L. H. Griffin, Lewis Gottlieb, Edward Reese, H. Bryant, Geo. M. Powers, Fred E. DuToit, Mathias Illis, Peter Barthel, Joseph Weisbecker, John G. Metzold, R. E. Erhard, Robert Patterson, A. W. Tiffany, A. J. Carlson, Christian Thacemert, S. B. Kohler, Adam Hill and F. Illis. Dr. Lehman was one of the original proprietors of Helvetia. He removed to Indiana at an early date about 1862, where he now resides practicing his profession. Mr. Steinmiz died at Watertown a few years since. Dr. Gottlieb and Edwin Reese are living in Nobles County. Mathias Illis moved to Minneapolis a few years ago and is a prominent citizen of that city. Mr. Bryant now lives in Hennepin Co. The others are all living and are still honored residents of the county. Many of them have occupied other positions of honor and trust, conferred upon them by their fellow citizens and may be mentioned in some future chapter.

Without making any invidious distinction in relation to the gentlemen who have occupied the position of commissioners from the organization of the county to the present time, it may with truth be said, that no county in the State has been more highly favored in having more intelligent, conscientious, industrious and honorable men to perform the delicate and unenviable duties of commissioners, than Carver County.

The persons who have occupied the position of clerk of the court are the following: Thomas T. Hunt, T. D. Smith, Fred DuToit and G. Krayenbuhl. Mr. Hunt, has within a few weeks been appointed Captain in the Regular Army of the United States. T. D. Smith died at Fort Abercrombie a few years since while holding the position of Sutter at the Fort. Mr. DuToit died in Chaska about the year 1862. Mr. Krayenbuhl is now Clerk, and always has had the reputation of being one of the best in the State.

Those who have filled the office of County Auditor are Charles Johnson, George Bennett, Peter Wegge and Leonard Streukens—all of them are first class accountants and scrupulously correct and exact in all their official acts. They are all now residents of the county.

The persons who have held the office of County Treasurer are Gustave Krayenbuhl, J. O. Brunius, Jacob Elinger, John Dunn, Frank Hassenstab and Peter Wegge. They all, ever made prompt and satisfactory settlements with the county whenever called upon, with the exception of Frank Hassenstab, he was a defaulter to the amount of about Twelve thousand dollars. John Dunn is now engaged farming in Wright County.

Of the County attorneys, J. A. Sargent, Joseph Weinmann, Frank Warner, Ernst Hanlin and L. B. Baxter. Mr. Baxter and Mr. Weinmann have been referred to in a preceding chapter. Of Mr. Warner it may be stated he moved into the county in the year 1858, he had resided in Scott County a few years prior to that time and was a member of the State Constitutional Convention from Scott County. The proceedings of that convention show that Mr. Warner took quite an active part in its proceedings, for one so young. He has but few superiors before a Jury as an advocate.

Laketown Items.

April 10th 1879.

Soon "nature" will be writing the best poetry on green leaves, illustrated with flowers.

Monday coming, Paulus Bierline will be 55 years old.

"Fiehmah! Glueck und Schoenstes Gruessen von deinen zahlreichen Freunden!"

Next week, Henry Rietz Esq., son Geo. and Jacob Schreiner, leave for the prairie. An revoir.

There will be 7 young persons confirmed at the Moravian Church on Easter Sunday. The services will be unusually solemn and interesting. The Zoar people are most cordially invited to be present.

Wild ducks are about in great numbers.

Theo. Kowalek lost his favorite pet canary bird. Cause—got out of cage and caught it, my heartfelt sympathies, friend Theo.

Mr. Gerdson's thermometer stood at 10 deg. above zero, on the morning of the 3d inst.

Fred Zorob, John Walter, and Franz Grim have invested in Hoosier Seeders. The last named also bought a "Self-Blender."

Jacob Ottinger shot a very large wild duck, near a pond not more than about 100 feet from the house. The day before 3 of the same kind flew up from nearly the same spot where this one was found.

Hans Peltz came very near being drowned, last Saturday morning a week ago. It seems he and some other boys were playing on the Lake near Henry Han's residence. Hans ventured out too far on the ice, and broke through, up to his neck, in the water. It was with the greatest difficulty he escaped with his life. May it serve as a warning "not to invite danger."

J. A. B.

Why be distressed with headache, low spirits and nervousness when Ellert's Daylight Liver Pills will surely cure you. Sold by Jos. Franken.

Watertown Items.

Our merchants are receiving their spring stock of new goods and the ladies are correspondingly happy.

The mills have a better supply of water at the present time than they have been blessed with in eight months previous to this. The saw and grist mills are both running to their fullest capacity.

The spring term of our district school commenced Monday last under rather unfavorable circumstances. A large number of children are now confined to their homes with Measles. The attendance is poor.

We are informed that the steam saw mill belonging to M. Ball & Co., at Delano was destroyed by fire on Friday night the 4th inst. This is a serious loss, as it affects the operation of the flouring mill also.

Mr. A. A. Ambler representing the enterprising firm of Warner and Foot, Surveyors and Map Publishers of Minneapolis was in Watertown last Saturday taking a survey of the village and immediate vicinity. Mr. Ambler informs us this is for the purpose of publishing a sectional map of Carver County which is intended to be presented for the consideration of our good people in the near future. This is a lucky star for citizens of this county and will be eagerly sought as soon as it appears.

Again the narrow Guage railroad is agitating the average mind in this village and vicinity. We understand it is the intention, of our citizens to call a mass-meeting as soon as practicable for the purpose of endeavoring to raise bonds through special election to present the company with a consideration that they build the road through the village corporation. Probably the Free Press man could and will give something toward it. He seems to have given his consent for the Watertown people to do as they wish.

Man with all his endowments, join many things most foolish, he will give all his life for his life, but is reckless and indifferent to his health. He will grapple a thief who steals his purse, yet will daily wither and cold and finally go into consumption, when such a sure remedy as Ellert's Extract of Tur and Wild Cherry can be easily obtained. It performs rapid cures, gains strength at every trial, and is invaluable in bronchial and lung diseases. It is a safeguard for all, from the babe to venerable age and health will be restored by its timely use. No family that has used it will be without it. Sold by all Druggists.

LEGALS.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, } S. S.
County of Carver, }
In Probate Court.

In the matter of the estate of Thomas Sherman deceased.
On reading and filing the petition of Michael Conner, representing, among other things, that Thomas Sherman late of said Co., on or about July A. D. 1856, while in the U. S. Army, died intestate, and being a resident of this county at the time of his death, leaving goods, chattels and estate within this county, and that said petitioner is relative and creditor of said deceased, and praying that administration of said estate be to him granted, it is ordered that said petition be heard before the Judge of Probate, on Tuesday the 6th day of May A. D. 1879, at 11 o'clock a. m., at Chaska Court House in said county.

Ordered further, that notice thereof be given to the heirs of said deceased and to all persons interested, by publishing a copy of this order for three consecutive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in the Valley Herald a weekly newspaper printed and published at Chaska in said County.

Dated at Chaska the 5th day of April 1879.

By the Court, J. A. SARGENT,
(L. S.) Judge of Probate.

State of Minnesota,
County of Carver, } S. S.

IN PROBATE COURT.

Probate office, March 13th A. D. 1879.
In the matter of the Probate and Probate of the last will and testament of Mary C. Hochhausen deceased, late of the County of Carver, Minn. An instrument in writing, purporting to be the last will and testament of Mary C. Hochhausen deceased, was presented to the County of Carver has been filed in this office; and whereas application has been made by Carl A. Hommer, praying that the same be proven and admitted to Probate, according to the laws of this State; Therefore, It is ordered that said application be heard before me at the Probate Office, in the town of Chaska, in said County, on the 10th day of April A. D. 1879 at 10 o'clock.

And it is further ordered, that notice shall be given to all persons interested, in said will, of the time and place of said hearing, by publication in the Valley Herald a newspaper printed in said County for three consecutive weeks, once each week, prior to the time of such hearing.

By the Court,
J. A. SARGENT,
Judge of Probate.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE.

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage executed and delivered by Franz Deising and Maria Josefa Deising his wife mortgagors to Philip Henk Mortgagee, dated the 24th day of February in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy eight and recorded as a mortgage in the office of the Register of Deeds of the County of Carver in the State of Minnesota, on the 24th day of February A. D. 1879 at 10 o'clock A. M., Book "K" of mortgages on page 180 and of this note amounting to Fifty six dollars, and no action or proceedings has been instituted at law or in equity to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage and of the statute in such case made and provided the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the mortgaged premises therein described, which sale will be made at the front door of the Court House in the Village of Chaska in the County of Carver and State of Minnesota at public auction by said mortgagee on SATURDAY THE 26th DAY OF APRIL, A. D. 1879, at ten o'clock in the forenoon to satisfy the amount which is due on said mortgage and of the interest thereon and costs and expenses of sale and fifty dollars attorney's fees as stipulated in said mortgage. In case of foreclosure.

The premises described in said mortgage and so to be sold are all that tract or parcel of land lying and being in the County of Carver and State of Minnesota described as follows, to-wit: Lots number two (2) and six (6) and seven (7) and nine (9) in block number twenty five (25) in the village of Chaska as shown by the plat of said village on record in the office of the Register of Deeds of said county.

Dated March 12th 1879.

PHILIP HENK, Mortgagee.

S. FOWLER, Att'y. for Mortgagee.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure.

Whereas default has been made in the condition of a certain mortgage made and executed and delivered by Gustav Rudolph and Caroline Rudolph his wife mortgagors to John Schaefer mortgagee, dated the 10th day of February A. D. 1874 and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of the county of Carver in the State of Minnesota on the 10th day of February A. D. 1874 at 11 o'clock in the forenoon in Book "H" of mortgages on page 167, which said mortgage was given for the purpose of securing the payment of the sum of money therein mentioned, whereby the said Gustav Rudolph and Caroline Rudolph his wife did grant, bargain, sell and convey to the said John Schaefer and his assigns forever the following described land and real estate situate lying and being in the county of Carver in the State of Minnesota, to-wit: Lot No. (1) one in Block No. [54] fifty four in the townsite and village of Chaska according to the recorded plat thereof in the office of the Register of Deeds of said Carver county.

And whereas the said Gustav Rudolph and the said Caroline Rudolph his wife did covenant and agree in said mortgage in case of a foreclosure thereon to pay to the said John Schaefer or his assigns the sum of twenty five dollars attorneys fees, and whereas default has been made in the condition of said mortgage, and there is at the date of this notice due upon said mortgage for principal and interest the sum of three hundred and seventy six dollars and thirty two cents, and twenty five dollars attorney fees, and no suit or proceeding at law has been commenced to recover the said debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof.

Now therefore, Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and agreeable to the statute in such case made and provided, the above described mortgaged premises will be sold at public auction by the sheriff of said Carver county to the highest bidder on Saturday the 3d day of May A. D. 1879 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day at the front door of the court house in the village of Chaska, in said Carver county to satisfy the amount that shall then be due on the aforesaid mortgage, said attorneys fees and all legal costs charges and disbursements.

Dated March 12th 1879.

JOHN SCHAEFER, Mortgagee.

L. L. BAXTER, Att'y. for Mortgagee.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

State of Minnesota,
County of Carver, } S. S.

In Probate Court.

In the matter of the estate of Jeremiah Bundy deceased.

Notice is hereby given to all persons having claims and demands against the estate of said Bundy who died in the County of Carver, Minnesota, that the Judge of the Probate Court of said county will hear, examine, and adjust said claims and demands against said estate, at his office in Chaska in said county of Carver on the first Monday of each month for six successive months, commencing with Jan. 6th 1879, and that six months from the 31st day of January 1879 have been limited and allowed by said Probate Court for creditors to present their claims.

JAMES GOODNOW, Administrator of the estate of said deceased.

CONFECTONARY AND FRUIT STORE.

FRESH CANDIES
COOKIES AND CRACKERS
OF ALL KINDS ALWAYS KEPT ON HAND

DEALER IN CIGARS
TOBACCO AND PIPES ALSO LEMONS,
ORANGES, &c.

Chaska, Minn.

The best of Michigan Cider,

FRESH AND COVE OYSTERS, SARDINES &c

Have also fitted up a nice setting room for ladies and gents, call and see.

Store opposite National Hotel.

GOTTLOB EDER, Prop.

Dealer in

Drugs and Medicines,

Chemicals, Perfumery, Soaps Combs and Brushes.

Supporters, Shoulder Braces, Fancy and Toilet Articles, China Ware, Books and Stationery.

A LARGE AND WELL SELECTED STOCK OF

WALL PAPER,

Kerosene, Linseed, and all kinds of MACHINE OILS, which will be sold at the lowest prices.

FRUIT JARS, GRASS & GARDEN SEEDS, and a large stock of

Window Glass and Glass Ware, Putty, Paints Varnishes

AND

Dye Stuffs, Pure Wines and Liquors for medical purposes

PATENT MEDICINES OF ALL KINDS.

PHYSICIAN'S PRESCRIPTIONS Compounded from the purest drugs, made specially and all orders promptly filled.

also

Represents the following old & Reliable Ins. Companies

UNDERWRITERS, N. Y. SPRINGFIELD, F. & M. MASS. MANHATTEN, N. Y.

Chaska Valley Herald.

FRED. E. DUTOIT, Editor.
CHASKA, CARVER CO., MINNESOTA

CURRENT TOPICS.

MILLIONS of tons of coal dust have been piled up in the mining regions, and through some attempts to utilize this refuse have been very successful, the artificial fuel has not come into general use. In France 700,000 tons of excellent fuel are annually made from coal dust, and Belgium manufactures about 500,000.

There are over one hundred Chinese in Chicago, and one-fourth of this number have become Christians, and are regular attendants at Sunday-school. Chicago is not the most moral city in the world, but in its treatment of the Chinese it is a vast improvement on San Francisco, and the results are certainly very encouraging.

The present Duke of Newcastle will be a rich man, with something like $70,000 or $80,000 a year, when he comes of age, as the heavy charges on the Workshop property are paid off. He is a cripple owing to an accident when a child, which the nurse unparaphorically kept from the knowledge of his parents, and the injured leg had to be re-broken and set.

Rev. Dr. Bollen of Cleveland, says there are but four Protestant Episcopal clergymen in this country who have never changed their parish, and who have passed, or nearly passed their fiftieth year of rectorship. They are Rev. John Brown of St. George's Church, Newburg, N. Y.; Rev. W. C. Mead of St. Paul's Church, New York; Rev. Theodore Edison of St. Ann's Church, Lowell, Mass.; and Rev. W. Shelton, D. D., of St. Paul's Church, Buffalo.

It is generally supposed that "perique" tobacco is a peculiar plant and can only be grown in St. James Parish, Louisiana. This is a mistake. It is merely tobacco to which a peculiar treatment. While the plant is growing, the smaller leaves near the top are stripped off, and the lower leaves attain a prodigious size in consequence. These are then taken and pressed for some weeks, without being allowed to dry thoroughly. Perique is largely used in the manufacture of cigarettes.

As a proof of the humidity given to the atmosphere by trees, experiments show that the "Washington elm" at Cambridge, Mass., with its 300,000 square feet of leaf surface, transpires seven and three-quarter tons of clear water vapor in twelve diurnal hours of clear weather. From this it is inferred that a grove, consisting of 500 trees, each with a leaf surface equal to that of the elm mentioned, would return to the atmosphere 3,875 tons of aqueous vapor in twelve hours.

The emigration from Pennsylvania this spring is beyond record. On Tuesday the emigrants who departed from Harrisburg numbered quite three thousand, chiefly from Lebanon, Cumberland, Fulton, Dauphin, Millis, and other Middle and Eastern counties. A large colony of Dunkards were among the moving mass, while very many belonged to the class of substantial farmers. One party had sold a fine farm for $30,000, and had to found a new home in the far West.

The wholesale destruction of birds for the adornment of ladies, bonnets and hats is really assuming dimensions of proportions. A German dealer recently received a consignment of 83,000 dead humming birds, 80,000 pairs of various species of birds, and 200,000 pairs of wings. As, owing to the substitution of birds for ribbon, the ribbon trade is suffering, ladies of fashion might do both their fellow-creatures and the birds much good by reverting to ribbons for the adornment of their head-gear.

Ex-Gov. HUBBARD of Connecticut is dissatisfied because his favorite daughter has married a coachman, who, however, may turn out to be a satisfactory husband after all. Mr. Hubbard's lot is lucky compared with that of the late Mr. James Rowland of Fayette, Missouri, who was the guardian of a beautiful niece, 19 years old. The niece was in love with a young man to whose suit her uncle was determinedly opposed, and the young woman, instead of eloping with her lover, poisoned herself. When the uncle discovered the fate of his niece, he shot himself through the brain. The effect of the tragedy upon the bereaved lover is not reported.

As there are fears of a return of the yellow fever next summer, the manner in which the Russian Government prevented a renewal of the plague of 1771 is worthy of notice, although in this country the plan would not be likely to be adopted. As soon as it was known that even in despot Russia it would be impossible to compel the survivors of the scourge to destroy all the old clothing in the infected districts the Government went into the business, and advertised to pay the highest price for cast-off garments, old rags, etc. The experiment was a complete success, the rags were burned, and the plague did not reappear.

A kind of traffic in children has been carried on in the Russian province of Pskov, under the stress of hard times. A canvasser went among the poor peasants, and induced them, by offers of small sums of money, to surrender their boys, between seven and twelve years of age, to be put in apprenticeship for three or five years. He takes them to St. Petersburg, where he furnishes supplies of them to the factories, receiving from ten to fifteen roubles for each boy. There are women who scour the provinces for girls, from seven to fourteen years of age, and these also are taken to St. Petersburg to be hired out.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

CRIMES AND CRIMINALS.

A tramp, incendiary fire at Minneapolis, Minn., in the early morning April 4th, destroyed two barns.

In Chicago, April 5th, John Lamb convicted of the murder of officer Race was sentenced to be hung June 20.

In a quarrel at Kaufman Texas, April 5th, John Kell shot dead Charles Smith, nephew of Congressman Brown of Kentucky.

In Indianapolis, April 5th, the jury in the case of Warren Tate, who murdered William Lowe in the corridor of the court house last September, brought a verdict of not guilty.

A San Jose dispatch gives a brief account of a tragedy in the foot-hills near that city. Four members of a family were horribly murdered by an ax or similar weapon. The mother of the family is missing. It is not known whether she is a prisoner, escaped to the woods, or the family lived in seclusion in a rough habitation. Nothing is known of them previous to coming here a few months ago. There is no clue to the perpetrator, and the motive is as yet a mystery. The family had no property to excite cupidity.

CASUALTIES.

A disastrous fire occurred in St. Louis, on the night of April 4th.

A man and four horses were burned in a stable, in Brooklyn, N. Y. April 1.

The Pope's brother, Thomas Pecci will be created cardinal at the consistory.

There was a $70,000 incendiary fire at St. Neville, on the Hudson river, near Hudson, N. Y., March 31st.

Judge James R. Stewart of Baltimore, a member of the 35th and 36th Congress died April 4, aged 71 years.

In the Rhode Island State election April 5, the vote was, Republican 9,718, Democratic 5,515, majority 372.

A Berlin telegram of March 2, says, the Emperor William is steadily improving and is expected out of doors soon.

Bismarck has received many birthday congratulations. Even the liberal papers publish complimentary articles.

At the municipal election in Wellsburg, W. Va., April 3rd, the anti-licensing ticket was elected by a handsome majority.

A famine prevails in upper Egypt. An English commission sent to investigate reports several thousand deaths from starvation.

The two St. Louis firemen, killed on Friday night, the 4th of April, were buried on Sunday, April 6th, with imposing ceremonies.

David T. Corbin of South Carolina, who unsuccessfully contested the seat of Senator Butler has been appointed by the President chief justice of the supreme court of Utah.

A landslide on the Lehigh Valley railroad, near Pittston, Pa., March 31st, threw the locomotive of the New York passenger train from the track, killing the engineer, and seriously injuring the fireman.

A large Norwegian church, five miles from Eden, Iowa, was burned by the late fire. In the same neighborhood a farm was fatally burned, and the father, terrified by trying to save the child. Three lives were also lost near Beloit.

On the night of March 31st, a fire was discovered at Minneapolis, Minn., in the feed store of Day & Gilmore, at 903 Washington avenue south. A delay of ten minutes in sounding the alarm, and the inflammable material in the feed store was stocked, caused the fire to make rapid headway, and when the firemen reached the scene the building and the adjoining 200 Washington street were all burning. In a few seconds the building on the south side, 905, caught fire. The brick wall which prevailed, caused the fire to burn fiercely, but the firemen worked with will and in an hour's time the flames were under control. The three buildings named were consumed. The fire caught from a stove in Day & Gilmore's feed store. Loss about $9,000. Insurance $35,000.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

PERSONAL AND POLITICAL.

In the cabinet session April 1, routine business mostly occupied attention.

April 1, the Senate confirmed Francis A. Walker, superintendent of the census.

The President has nominated Francis A. Walker, superintendent of the census. Mr. Walker, Superintendent of the census, is a native of New York, and was born in 1825. He was educated at the University of the Holy Cross, and was a member of the New York legislature. He was appointed to the position of superintendent of the census in 1880.

The Pope has received 30,000 francs from the Count and Countess Chambard, of France.

Irish Pledge, a member of the English parliament, has committed suicide by shooting himself.

An Elko, Nebraska dispatch of March 21st, says, L. R. Brader, Ex-Gov. of Nevada, is dead. Aged 71 years.

The latest telegrams from Madrid, Spain, say the condition of Princess Christina is now hopeless.

The entire city ticket was carried in Chicago, April 1, by 4,000 majority. There were three tickets in the field.

The Ohio Democratic State committee have decided to hold the State nominating convention at Columbus, June 4.

Capt. Edward O'Meara of London, the Fenian, has been appointed to a clerkship in the treasury department at Washington.

The Pope has sent an autograph letter to Queen Victoria welcoming her to Italy, and expressing good wishes for her welfare.

Gen. Miles regards Sitting Bull as the most powerful Indian chief, and ranks him with Tecumseh and King Philip.

March 29 a Pullman car was levied on in Chicago, for taxes.

A slight shock of an earthquake was felt, April 5th, at Cadiz, Spain.

Three feet of snow was reported in and around North Troy, Vermont, April 3.

A Vienna dispatch states that the rain driest has spread to a hundred villages in Bohemia.

Dr. Charles Jewett, the widely known temperance lecturer died at Norwich, Conn., April 3rd.

The steamer, Northwest, left Detroit, Mich., for Cleveland, O., April 1, the first boat of the season.

A valuable painting of Christ has been stolen from Campo de Cripata church in Andalusia, Spain.

The United States steamer Plymouth with yellow fever on board has been ordered into quarantine at Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

The compromise of the Vanderbilt will case enables Cornelius J. Vanderbilt to pay off all his indebtedness, amounting to $300,000.

From Duluth lake navigation was reported to be open. March 28th, the steamer Skikwit left with 30 passengers for Prince Arthur's Landing.

A Lahore telegram of April 3rd, says the British, Capt. Gough, defeated the 5,000 Afghans, killing 400. The British lost was three officers and three men killed, and 31 wounded.

David McVey, one of the proprietors of the Cunard line of ocean steamers, and a member of parliament, writes that he does not know whether she is a prisoner, escaped to the woods, or the family lived in seclusion in a rough habitation. Nothing is known of them previous to coming here a few months ago. There is no clue to the perpetrator, and the motive is as yet a mystery. The family had no property to excite cupidity.

A hard freeze occurred in South Carolina, on the night of April 3rd, the loss to truck farmers around Charleston is estimated at a quarter of a million dollars.

A suit is pending in San Francisco, John A. Burke vs. J. C. Flood et al. to recover $36,000,000 from the estate of the late John A. Burke.

The rights of the Consolidated Virginia Mining Company of Bloomington, Ill., special to the Chicago Tribune April 3rd, says the Lafayette, Minn., and Bloomington railroads, New York; Erie, Cleveland, and Cummins, Pekin. The road extends from Bloomington to Lafayette.

April 24, the Senate confirmed Andrew D. White, New York, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Germany; Cornelius A. Logan, Illinois, minister to the Central American States; Jacob H. Stewart, St. Paul, surveyor general for the district of Minnesota; A. R. Norton, United States marshal for the northern district of Texas, and John H. Norton, associate justice of the supreme court of Dakota.

A London telegram of April 1st has the following: Thirty house rulers voted with the liberals in the division in the house of commons on the resolution of censure up to the Zulu war policy of the government.

The Times, which generally supports the government, says: All the opposition maintained was that Sir Bartle Frere towards our course taken was indefensible. In this contention it will, we believe, be the general opinion that they were justified, and the government's numerical victory is a matter of defeat.

At the municipal election in Wellsburg, W. Va., April 3rd, the anti-licensing ticket was elected by a handsome majority.

A landslide on the Lehigh Valley railroad, near Pittston, Pa., March 31st, threw the locomotive of the New York passenger train from the track, killing the engineer, and seriously injuring the fireman.

A large Norwegian church, five miles from Eden, Iowa, was burned by the late fire. In the same neighborhood a farm was fatally burned, and the father, terrified by trying to save the child. Three lives were also lost near Beloit.

On the night of March 31st, a fire was discovered at Minneapolis, Minn., in the feed store of Day & Gilmore, at 903 Washington avenue south. A delay of ten minutes in sounding the alarm, and the inflammable material in the feed store was stocked, caused the fire to make rapid headway, and when the firemen reached the scene the building and the adjoining 200 Washington street were all burning. In a few seconds the building on the south side, 905, caught fire. The brick wall which prevailed, caused the fire to burn fiercely, but the firemen worked with will and in an hour's time the flames were under control. The three buildings named were consumed. The fire caught from a stove in Day & Gilmore's feed store. Loss about $9,000. Insurance $35,000.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed by the terrible blow that it has fallen on them. Loss of life is also reported.

The St. Louis, Mo., Journal has startling reports of the ravages of the destructive prairie fires up the Big Sioux Valley and throughout Southern Dakota. The fires on Saturday were of unusual force, and the destructive power of the flames on the prairie fire line in the Sioux City & Pembina railroad were burned, so the lines have been down, and reports from that quarter are not full. A merchant of Eden, in Sioux City Monday, reports a loss of $10,000 in loss in that city. On the night of March 29th, from his store door, the town occupying an elevated position, he counted thirteen farmhouses in flames, and he says more than forty families in that vicinity have lost everything, houses, barns, hay, seed grain, etc. The flames traveled with such rapidity that the people were unable to save anything. The firemen people are dazed

THE SHINING LITTLE HOUSE.

It hung in the sun, the little house,
It hung in the sun, and shone;
And through the walls I could hear his voice
Who had it all for his own.

The walls were of wire, as bright as gold,
Wrought in a pretty design;
The spaces between for windows served,
And the floor was clean and fine.

There was plenty, too, to eat and drink,
In this little house that shone;
A lucky thing, to be sure, you'd say,
A house like this for one's own.

But the door was shut, and looked all tight,
The key was on the outside;
The one who was in could not get out,
No matter how much he tried.

'Twas only a prison after all,
This shining little house that shone;
Ah, we would not want a house like that,
No matter how much we own!

And yet, through the walls I heard the voice
Of the one who lived inside;
To warble a sweeter song each day,
It seemed as if he tried.

To open the door, he never sought,
By or fitter, in the starry sky;
He ate, and he drank, and slept, and sang,
And made the best of life.

And I, to myself, said every day,
As his chery song I heard,
There's a lesson to be learned here,
Of that little prison bird.

We all of us live a life like his,
We are walled on every side;
We all long to do a hundred things,
Which we could not if we tried.

We can spend our strength all foolishly
In a discontented strife;
Or we can be wise and laugh and sing,
And make the best of our life.

Napoleon and Moscow.

It had been prophesied that Russia could not successfully resist Napoleon's attack, even when a much less overwhelming invasion had been contemplated than had now taken place. And those prophecies had come true. The Russians had given up one position after another, had been defeated in the field, and finally had lost their capital. Only one anticipation had remained unfulfilled. The Russians had refused to acknowledge themselves conquered by signing a treaty of peace. Their armies still kept the field, and a last effort had been set on foot. So far Napoleon's success had filled short of his expectation, as it had done in Spain, Russia had likewise been unable to quell the national resistance. It was possible that this obstinacy might so far embarrass Napoleon as to oblige him to give up the capital again, to retreat to Smolensk, and continue the war in a position nearer to his own frontier. But as this frontier was not, as we are apt to imagine, the frontier of France, but of Russia, and the Duchy of Warsaw, his position with respect to the enemy would still be one of enormous superiority. That he would remain at Moscow too long and expose his army to a Russian winter, which might no doubt cause him serious losses, was surely not to be imagined. A leader of his experience would be in no danger of such a miscalculation, and even had he succumbed to strokes of audacity which, when responsible for so vast an army, he owed to prudence. And thus the firmness of the Russian Government might be expected not only to prolong the war, but to Napoleon such a check as he had received in Spain, to compel him to adopt other means for quelling their resistance, but by no means to drive him into any serious disaster, much less such a disaster as might shake the whole fabric of his power. It would carry us far into the history of France if we should try to explain how it could have happened that such vast destinies should depend upon the clearness of judgment of a single man, so that a fit of rashness and eccentricity in Napoleon should change the face of the world, and doom millions to death. It is a little trite question how Napoleon could be capable of making the mistake he made at Moscow. We are apt to consider that the course he took might have been completely successful. Alexander's firmness might have yielded after a little delay to the clamors of his brother and the entreaties of his mother. Nothing is more certain than that Napoleon would not have been completely successful. Alexander's firmness might have yielded after a little delay to the clamors of his brother and the entreaties of his mother. Nothing is more certain than that Napoleon would not have been completely successful.

A new fancy that will probably "take," is to face the skirts of dressy costumes with real silk, and have the supply for the waist line, making a very pretty and striking dress effect. The newest white lawn and cambric have the fronts in the style, made with a separate piece in place of one, and side, sewed in the shoulder seam, and tapering to the waist. Among the newest fabrics displayed to be worn when summer days are long, cotton goods of the quaintest styles called mummy-cloth, heretofore used only for ties and rugs. The colors are extremely delicate and faded, as a pale blue with a bronze stripe; again, a stripe of light olive ground with wandering pink flowers and olive blossoms. These faded tones are guaranteed to fade no more, and mummy-cloth skirt dresses, featuring the new style, will have a positive life for summer existence. It is one yard wide, and fourteen yards are necessary for a short dress. Other new cotton goods are pretty arms with white and creamy grounds; over these celestial rays roses, pale violets, or a bunch of forget-me-nots. Cotonette is also new, woven in lightweight cords or reps, thinner than cotton, with a ground of cream, white, or pale olive, strewn with little dolly drapes of bright blossoms, or stripes of drapery blue contrasted with faint bronze green. Satin and foulard fabrics show dainty chintz designs.

There is no doubt, says an eastern fashion authority, that the present popularity of lace, used in combination with plain silk or velvet, has affected the sale and manufacture of silks proper. Nevertheless, the latter class of fabrics are always in demand. American brocades are in high favor, the supply for spring being more varied and beautiful than ever. The new designs show exceedingly handsome figures. The spring styles are introduced in all varieties in garnet shades, navy blue, drab, wood color, and "liver" color, which has been so popular during the winter, and when combined with velvet matching shades forms a rich and elegant costume at a low price, as the brocade can be had at $1.50 per yard. All silks and satins of American manufacture will also be popular dress materials this season. They are shown in a variety of colors for day and evening wear, and those in dark shades, sprinkled with white "polka dots" are very beautiful. They are of soft texture, drape gracefully, do not "crumple" easily and are twenty-two inches wide. The price is about $1.50 per yard. There is a variety of shades in white and black, with white "polka dots" combined with black velvet, forms a stylish costume. Summer silks are clouded over by china patterns, which show among small broken checks, stripes, while others in small quiet plaids are loosely worn, whence the name, serge quadrille, which has been applied to them. Pekin stripes are shown in silks of one color, the top and silk stripe alternating. Gimpure is a name given a class of open-work fabrics of silk texture. Effective silks either white or in pale shades, are wrought in dark stripes of medium width. Now that skirts for ball-room frocks, now that quadrilles, and all square dances, are voted "slow" and tabor, nothing is where there are young children, fitted up with simple gymnastic apparatus; kept clear of furniture, so that all sorts of lively games and indoor sports may be indulged in, and open to the boldest of little folks whenever they want a "spruce." But it is not much to give up an early evening hour in the sitting-room for some one of the more pleasant ways in which people can entertain each other when they set about it. Don't save all of your "good times," any more than your good manners, for "company." There are two months more of evenings and "home." If the reading has flagged, or the old games grown stale, devise new methods of amusement. What would you do if a dozen friends were coming in for an evening? Can't you do as much for the children? Don't be afraid of fun, good people, even if it is a little noisy, and prize it even if it plan for it.—Golden Rule.

Fashion's Spring Novelties.

Position plaits and fan trimmings in the back of basques are revived. The turban is the fashionable cap for young ladies and young married women. The panier scarf draperies of Paris-made dresses are stiffened with crinoline. Panier scarfs and draperies appear on all Paris dresses brought over this spring.

Aprons made of silk handkerchiefs, in turban or Normandy form, are much worn. Bandana and gay plaid handkerchiefs are made up into dresses for misses and little girls.

Shades of yellow, from pale straw or cream, to deep tan and old gold, are very fashionable. Silk handkerchiefs in Oriental designs and colors are preferred for dressy breakfast caps.

Rhine pebble buttons look like diamonds in a small case. The price varies from 75 cents a dozen up.

Very large flowers, especially roses and chrysanthemums, are used in bonnet decorations. Scarfs of fine net, edged with Breton lace, are often worn for bonnet straps.

The marked features in the new over-skirts are the shirred fronts and bouffant back draperies.

French hunting, a fine, light wool goods, is the material in use for spring and summer half-mourning costumes.

A girl ed or silvered woolen horse-shoe, with a small camel with blue, or red ribbon, is the fancy what-not ornament of the moment.

French chips are brought out in shades of color to match costumes, such as pale blue, dark blue, tan, chambray, gray, beige, brown or dark green.

Bouffant draperies, whether on the hips or back, are placed higher and higher, the fullness more often being placed just below the waist line than lower down on the skirt.

Diamond ribbon collar necklaces are the fashion of the passing moment, set in paste style, and with clasps that make them available either for a pair of bracelets or for a necklace.

The novelty in spring bonnets is of soft cloth, or Tuscan straw, with a large brim and a small camel with blue, or red ribbon, is the fancy what-not ornament of the moment.

French chips are brought out in shades of color to match costumes, such as pale blue, dark blue, tan, chambray, gray, beige, brown or dark green.

Bouffant draperies, whether on the hips or back, are placed higher and higher, the fullness more often being placed just below the waist line than lower down on the skirt.

Diamond ribbon collar necklaces are the fashion of the passing moment, set in paste style, and with clasps that make them available either for a pair of bracelets or for a necklace.

The novelty in spring bonnets is of soft cloth, or Tuscan straw, with a large brim and a small camel with blue, or red ribbon, is the fancy what-not ornament of the moment.

French chips are brought out in shades of color to match costumes, such as pale blue, dark blue, tan, chambray, gray, beige, brown or dark green.

Bouffant draperies, whether on the hips or back, are placed higher and higher, the fullness more often being placed just below the waist line than lower down on the skirt.

Diamond ribbon collar necklaces are the fashion of the passing moment, set in paste style, and with clasps that make them available either for a pair of bracelets or for a necklace.

The novelty in spring bonnets is of soft cloth, or Tuscan straw, with a large brim and a small camel with blue, or red ribbon, is the fancy what-not ornament of the moment.

French chips are brought out in shades of color to match costumes, such as pale blue, dark blue, tan, chambray, gray, beige, brown or dark green.

Bouffant draperies, whether on the hips or back, are placed higher and higher, the fullness more often being placed just below the waist line than lower down on the skirt.

Diamond ribbon collar necklaces are the fashion of the passing moment, set in paste style, and with clasps that make them available either for a pair of bracelets or for a necklace.

The novelty in spring bonnets is of soft cloth, or Tuscan straw, with a large brim and a small camel with blue, or red ribbon, is the fancy what-not ornament of the moment.

French chips are brought out in shades of color to match costumes, such as pale blue, dark blue, tan, chambray, gray, beige, brown or dark green.

Bouffant draperies, whether on the hips or back, are placed higher and higher, the fullness more often being placed just below the waist line than lower down on the skirt.

Diamond ribbon collar necklaces are the fashion of the passing moment, set in paste style, and with clasps that make them available either for a pair of bracelets or for a necklace.

The novelty in spring bonnets is of soft cloth, or Tuscan straw, with a large brim and a small camel with blue, or red ribbon, is the fancy what-not ornament of the moment.

French chips are brought out in shades of color to match costumes, such as pale blue, dark blue, tan, chambray, gray, beige, brown or dark green.

Bouffant draperies, whether on the hips or back, are placed higher and higher, the fullness more often being placed just below the waist line than lower down on the skirt.

Diamond ribbon collar necklaces are the fashion of the passing moment, set in paste style, and with clasps that make them available either for a pair of bracelets or for a necklace.

The novelty in spring bonnets is of soft cloth, or Tuscan straw, with a large brim and a small camel with blue, or red ribbon, is the fancy what-not ornament of the moment.

French chips are brought out in shades of color to match costumes, such as pale blue, dark blue, tan, chambray, gray, beige, brown or dark green.

Bouffant draperies, whether on the hips or back, are placed higher and higher, the fullness more often being placed just below the waist line than lower down on the skirt.

Diamond ribbon collar necklaces are the fashion of the passing moment, set in paste style, and with clasps that make them available either for a pair of bracelets or for a necklace.

The novelty in spring bonnets is of soft cloth, or Tuscan straw, with a large brim and a small camel with blue, or red ribbon, is the fancy what-not ornament of the moment.

French chips are brought out in shades of color to match costumes, such as pale blue, dark blue, tan, chambray, gray, beige, brown or dark green.

Bouffant draperies, whether on the hips or back, are placed higher and higher, the fullness more often being placed just below the waist line than lower down on the skirt.

Diamond ribbon collar necklaces are the fashion of the passing moment, set in paste style, and with clasps that make them available either for a pair of bracelets or for a necklace.

The novelty in spring bonnets is of soft cloth, or Tuscan straw, with a large brim and a small camel with blue, or red ribbon, is the fancy what-not ornament of the moment.

French chips are brought out in shades of color to match costumes, such as pale blue, dark blue, tan, chambray, gray, beige, brown or dark green.

Bouffant draperies, whether on the hips or back, are placed higher and higher, the fullness more often being placed just below the waist line than lower down on the skirt.

Diamond ribbon collar necklaces are the fashion of the passing moment, set in paste style, and with clasps that make them available either for a pair of bracelets or for a necklace.

The novelty in spring bonnets is of soft cloth, or Tuscan straw, with a large brim and a small camel with blue, or red ribbon, is the fancy what-not ornament of the moment.

French chips are brought out in shades of color to match costumes, such as pale blue, dark blue, tan, chambray, gray, beige, brown or dark green.

thought of but the value, for which the long-trained dressers are found extremely inconvenient, both to the wearer and her partners, especially the latter, who occasionally find themselves more inconveniently attached to a lady than is at all consistent with the traits tempo. To avoid these difficulties, many ladies have a cord from the end of the train, and a loop through which the gentleman's arm goes, and by which he holds up this troublesome appendage, but this at its best is a clumsy expedient, and not elegant, to say the least, while a short costume, just showing a pretty foot beneath, is both becoming and infinitely more convenient. Can the hesitation of our fair friends about adopting this fashion be caused by the non-existence of the pretty foot?

Self-Confidence.

All human power, in order to be available, must be associated with a certain degree of self-confidence. Many a timid child postpones his first attempt at walking simply because he lacks the courage to exercise an ability which he fully possesses; and many a man lets the scheme and grand enterprise fall to the ground from the same cause. Vanity and self-conceit are such disagreeable characteristics, and so frequently accompany the inferior grades of knowledge and power, that in justly visiting them with contempt and repression we are disposed to forget that there may be an opposite extreme of self-depreciation, which, when carried to excess, renders later power utterly useless.

There are some who never seem to believe themselves capable of anything; they see others press forward to attempt to achieve, and shrink back into a dependent inactivity. Having no faith in themselves, they undertake nothing, and effect nothing. If they are convicted of some fault or bad habit, they have so little hope of being able to cure it, that they scarcely make an effort. If some avenue of usefulness and honor opens up before them, they draw back, almost sure that they are unworthy of it, and decline to enter. If some duty presses urgently upon their conscience, they try to quiet its promptings by pleading inability. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles in every path that can only be overcome by the presence of this confidence. The man who lacks it is bound to encounter, opposition to meet, difficulties to surmount, prejudices to sweep away, the very presence of which will not only hinder him in his progress, but will render his efforts vain and his life a failure. Thus their lives pass away in a series of failures, and their characters, by their own characters do not improve, their abilities are wasted, they dwindle into insignificance, and all this not for the lack of power, but for the want of confidence.

There is no doubt that the ordinary world set that power into good, practical working order. There are certain obstacles

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

A. SISELINE.

DEALER IN General Merchandise
WAGONIA, MINN.

Goods at St. Paul and Minneapolis prices.
Produce taken in exchange for goods at CASH market prices.

LAKE HOUSE,

A. F. SCHUETZ,

WAGONIA, MINN.

The best accommodations for Travelers, Fishing Parties and Pleasure Seekers. The hotel is closely situated on the beautiful Clearwater Lake. Stable and water on the premises.

Continental

Insurance Company.

of the City of New York.

Western Department 104 State Street

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.

A. WILLIAMS, Supt.

Cash Capital, $1,000,000.00.

Cash Assets, Jan. 1st 1878 $3,173,923.31.

M. H. MUYRES, Agent,

Chaska, Minn.

Peter B. Utterdahl,

SALOON

CARVER, MINN.

He has the choicest liquors and cigars. The best Milwaukee bottle beer kept constantly on hand.

Good stabling room for 25 horses, and water- ing place for team handy to stable. Call and see.

FARM FOR SALE IN WAGONIA.

The undersigned offers his farm situated near Wagonia, Minn. It consists of 80 acres, 40 under fence and 40 under cultivation. The remainder being good timber, hay, meadow and wood, with creek running through the same. The buildings are good, including a new barn, and a large frame house. For further particulars inquire of the proprietor on the premises or the HERALD office. Wagonia, Dec. 2nd 1878.

HERMAN BECKER.

JULIUS ENGER.

Enger & Hanson

Carpenters and Builders,

CHASKA, MINN.

We will contract for buildings, such as dwell- ings, business houses, barns and granaries, at the very lowest living prices, and guarantee all work. We will also furnish all kinds of building material.

Plans and specifications also executed on demand.

Agents for the Ford Duffas Building Association, manufacturers of sash, doors & blinds. 17-18-19.

NEW GROCERY STORE.

The undersigned would respectfully announce to the public of Carver and the adjoining Coun- ties, that he has just opened a

New Grocery Store

in Chaska and invites the people to give him a call.

Everything in the line of Groceries is on hand: the goods are of the best quality. Come and see me before you buy elsewhere.

Fritz Selter.

In the Millinery Store of Mrs. Selter the lat- est will now find a splendid assortment of

HATS, RIBBONS, TRIMMINGS, EM- BROIDERIES, &c.

Just received. They are of the latest styles and will be sold at a bargain. Ladies are respect- fully invited to call and examine the goods.

MRS. F. SELTER.

CHASKA ELEVATORS,

WM. SEEGER & SON,

DEALERS IN

WHEAT

AND

ALL KINDS OF GRAIN.

CHASKA, MINN.

Store where, grind and keep on hand all kinds of Feed, Corn Meal, Graham and Rye Meal. Grinding 5 cents per bushel.

CENTENNIAL LAKE HOUSE

JACOB KERN, Prop.

LAKE TOWN, Carver County, Minn.

HOTEL, SALOON AND SUMMER RESORT.

Finest Liquors and choice cigars con- stantly on hand. Lunch at any time of the day.

Jacob Kern, & Jerry Elmann, will attend to any auction sale in Carver County.

THEODORE KENNING.

Contractor & Builder

CHASKA, MINN.

Will take contracts for building of dwelling and business houses of all kinds. Will furnish materials and execute all contracts with promptness.

Moving buildings a Specialty.

Office at H. Kenning's.

Chaska Bakery

Confectionary Store!

The undersigned respect- fully invites the attention of the citizens of Chaska & vicinity to his

BAKERY & STORE.

Fresh bread every day and cookies of all kinds always kept on hand. Cakes, biscuits and bread furnished on order for weddings, fishing parties and excursions, &c.

Shop on 2nd St. east of Herald office.

HERMAN BECKER, Prop.

W. C. ODELL,

(WITH L. L. BANTON)

ATTORNEY AT LAW.

CHASKA, MINN.

Office over Herald office.

S. FOWLER,

ATTORNEY AT LAW.

CHASKA, MINN.

LOCAL NEWS.

Minneapolis & St. Louis

Railway.

TIME CARD NO. 21.

Taking effect Jan. 12th 1879.

Trains going South.

10 5:20 A. M. Mixed. Passenger, connects at Merriam Junction with train for St. Paul.

4 2:40 P. M. Mixed.

6 4:50 P. M. Mixed.

Going North.

5 9:40 A. M. Mixed.

3 12:15 P. M. Passenger.

7 4:55 P. M. Mixed.

HASTINGS AND DAKOTA.

West. East.

Passenger, 10:15 A. M. Passenger, 2:40 P. M.

10:35 " 2:00 "

Mixed 6:30 P. M. Mixed 5:50 A. M.

Freight 6:30 " 5:10 "

Freight 9:10 A. M. Freight 4:00 P. M.

10 6:5 A. M. 4:25 P. M.

Here and There.

Every Hotel in town is full to overflowing this week.

Our village has been a lively one this week.

Preparations for building are already visible in our midst.

Cap. Chas. Johnson, of Carver is one of Sheriff DuToit's deputies during court week.

Judge, J. H. Brown, who is holding court here for Judge McDonald gives the best of satisfaction to all concerned.

Hammer and Beirstett, have sold 18 sets of harness since the 10th of March, and orders still flowing in.

J. E. Werth, Gen. Ag't. of the American Central Ins Co., of St. Louis, is in town this week. He has appointed M. H. Muryres of this place agent for his company for Carver Co.

Seeding season is about over in this county.

A dry season will damage the crop prospect in this State awfully. The ground, marshes and wells are nearly all dry.

Judge Sargent's article is unusually interesting this week.

Some spicy St. Paul reading in Mr. Hodges letter.

Probate notice in this issue of the HERALD. Estate of Thos. Sheran.

Charley Kenning came down from his prairie farm in Renville Co., to see his Chaska friends last Tuesday. He enjoyed his visit.

We had a light fall of rain Wednesday, just enough to dampen the ground.

The last Grand Jury was a hard working body. They did more work in the same time than any similar body for several years past. Mr. Schutz, the foreman, is entitled to much credit for pushing business.

Now is the time to pick out your new spring suit of clothes. Bring all your family and I will clothe them. Streissguths.

Uncle Sam's Harness Oil put on your harness, will make the leather look new, and keep it soft and pliable. Give it a trial. Sold by Hammer & Beirstett.

We notice the following attorneys, in attendance at court this week.

Judge L. M. Brown, H. J. Peck, Shako- pee, A. S. Fitch, N. T. Hauser, M. O. Little, Glencoe, W. H. Sanborn St. Paul, E. Hamlin Watertown, Frank Warner, Car- ver, Col. Baxter, W. C. Odell and S. Fow- ler, Chaska.

For a pamphlet on Electric Treatment of chronic diseases with Electricity, which will be sent free, address the McIntosh Electric Bell and Battery Co., 192 & 194 Jackson St., Chicago, Ill.

Clothing! Clothing! for men and boys, at prices that will astonish you. Come and see at Streissguths.

We expect to be able to have "items" regularly from Norwood and Wagonia hereafter. We are perfecting arrangements to that effect now.

OUR BRICK INTEREST.

Our brickyards are about ready to com- mence operations, and the busy season is before them, the yards will employ 150 men, as follows: Gregg & Griswold 50, McHoffer & Strobel 40, L. Warner 50, West & Co. 30 and will manufacture 140 thousand brick per day, as follows: Gregg & Griswold 45 thousand, West & Co. 25 thousand, McHoffer & Co. 40 thousand, L. Warner 25 thousand. Chaska it will be seen, stands at the front in the manufac- ture of brick, of any point in the State.

Just received: New Spring Shawl, new Dress Goods, fancy Ties and Rushings. Black Alpaca and Brillantines. The cheapest lot of napkins and white bed sheets ever shown here before, at Streis- sguths cheap store.

NOT TRUE.

A rumor has been floating around this neighborhood, to the effect that the family of John Reiss, formerly a resident of this village, were severely frozen during the cold snap in February and that Mrs. Reiss had suffered the amputation of one of her limbs. We are now positively informed that the story is a "canard." Nothing of the kind happened and the family are doing well.

Spring stock now complete in every detail. Come and examine my goods. Otto Streissguth.

DEATH OF TWO OLD SETTLERS,

Magnus Walk & Barney Sweeney.

We are called upon this week, to record the death of two old and highly respected citizens of this county, in the persons of Magnus Walk, of Laketown, and Barney Sweeney, of Camden.

Mr. Walk, died on Friday March 28th, and was buried on the following Sunday.

Mr. W. had been ailing for a number of years and his death was not unexpected. He was one of the leading citizens of that town, having held the office of town assessor, town treasurer and county coroner.

Barney Sweeney, of Camden died last week quite suddenly, at his home. Mr. S. was an old citizen of Camden, and was very highly respected.

Poetish children have worms. Dr. Ja- que's German Worm Cakes will destroy the worms and make the children happy. Sold by Jos. Franken.

PERSONAL.—Freeman James, of St. Paul, a former well known and worthy citizen of Chaska, was in town on business on Monday. Always glad to see him.

The following prominent citizens of our county, were in town during the week, and honored this office with a call, R. Zeglin, Jas. Truax, Andrew Schuetz, M. Zahler, Peter Nelson, P. A. Johnson, H. Paulson, Pat. Colbert, Rob. Patterson, John Pier- son, Otto Bauermeister, H. Hoffkin, Jac. Bongard, Casper Kronschnabel, Paul Moerbeck, E. B. Harrison, A. Hoan, L. Dosch, L. Van. Sloun, H. Gerdson, H. Starken, John A. Hillstrom, A. H. Reed, Pat. Couboy, A. S. Bengtson, M. Scheit- nagle, Matt Kelly, F. Stackman, C. A. Blomquist, J. S. Nelson, H. R. Denny, C. Rolf, Henry Kuntz, John Simon, Francis McPadden, A. J. Carlson, A. Wallin, Nils. Thompson, Jos. Vogel, J. Lagerstrom.

DISTRICT COURT.

The spring term of the District Court for this county, convened Monday morn- ing—Judge J. H. Brown, of Willmar, presiding. The Grand Jury retired at 10 past eleven o'clock a. m., after an able charge by the Judge. Andrew Schuetz was appointed foreman, and Francis Mc- Padden was elected clerk.

The Grand Jury came into court Tues- day and presented two indictments against Simon Katradski, one for breaking "into a house" and stealing and carrying there- from various articles not belonging to him. The other indictment is for stealing a re- volver.

The Jury also brought two indictments against Henry Van. Elsen, on the same charges—stealing. They were both ar- ranged and pled "not guilty."

John Colbert was also indicted for hav- ing committed an assault on the person of Pat. Fitz Gerald, on the 10th day of Jan- uary last, "being then and there armed with a dangerous weapon," to wit: "A pocket knife." Colbert is still at large.

The case of Anton Knoblauch vs. A. E. and John Holm, being upon a patent right note, was given to the Petit Jury on Tues- day afternoon, who after a long delibera- tion returned a verdict for the "defend- ants." W. C. Odell for plaintiff and L. L. Baxter for defendants. Motion for new trial entered.

The case of J. F. Peterson vs. O. A. An- derson, was settled by plaintiff paying amount of note in controversy—defend- ant paying one half of costs. W. C. Odell for plaintiff and Frank Warner for defend- ant.

The case of Peter Flusemann vs. Magre- tha Veruflun, was tried by the court Tuesday afternoon. Plaintiff ordered to pay $325, and interest into court within 30 days and defendant to give "warranty deed" of a piece of land on payment of said sum otherwise "deed to be rendered" ordering sale of land for benefit of defend- ant at expiration of 30 days. Frank War- ner for plaintiff and W. C. Odell for defend- ant.

Mr. Henry Van Elsen, "indicted" with- drew his plea of not "guilty" and plead "guilty" and will receive his sentence to- day.

The jury in the case of Simeon Katrad- ski, brought in a verdict Wednesday night of "guilty." He will be sentenced to day, and probably sent to Stillwater for two years.

A jury is being empanelled this a. m., in case of James Mayall vs. Gregg & Gris- wold—known as the Horse case. It is an important case and will probably run into tomorrow. One half of the petit jury was discharged this morning.

We will publish the balance of court proceedings in our next issue.

Judge McDonald, is holding a term of court in Meeker County, in place of Judge Brown.

"A stitch in time saves nine" is not more true in mending cloths, than in getting farm stock through the winter. An economical and sure help is Uncle Sam's Condition Powder, it restores the sick, strengthens the weak, improves the appetite, and will keep the stock in a thriving condition, for it sup- plies the rational qualities in grass. Sold by all Druggists.

WHEAT BUYERS ORGANIZE.

The wheat buyers of the state met in convention in Minneapolis last Tuesday. From the published proceedings of the convention it is plainly to be seen that they do not take kindly to last winter's legislation. They threaten to pay no at- tention to the action of the "Farmers Board of Trade." And declare that any regulations they may make in the interest of the farmers illegal &c. They also repudiate the scaled half bushel. There is fun ahead, and we will keep our readers posted.

Report of Grand Jury.

[OFFICIAL.]

To the District Court of the County of Carver, Hon. John H. Brown, presiding.

The Grand Jury desires to report, that they have examined the County Books and Accounts of the County officers of this County, and found them properly and cor- rectly kept.

We have also examined the Jail and find the same in good condition and properly at- tended to. But we recommend that two new cells be made for the use of Females in case the necessity of the same should arise.

ANDREW F. SCHUTZ, Foreman.

FRANCIS MCPADDEN, Clerk.

New spring stock! New and beautiful goods at Streissguth's.

JUDGE BROWN.

Judge J. H. Brown of Willmar, is pre- siding over our term of court and has won "golden opinions" from lawyers, litigants and jurymen, for his prompt and correct rulings and manner of conducting business. We expect that our own able Judge will win like "encomium" from our Meeker County friends.

DESERVED COMPLIMENT.

The grand jury before adjourning, passed a vote of thanks to the foreman, Mr. Schutz and Mr. McPadden, the Secretary. These gentlemen eminently deserve this compli- ment at the hands of their fellow members.

GOOD RAIN.

It rained very hard on Wednesday morn- ing and all of Wednesday night. It was a very useful rain and our farmers feel cheer- ful over the spring prospects.

The following is the average stand- ing of the pupils in the Higher and Inter- mediate Depts. of the Chaska Public School for the month ending March 14th 1879.

Higher Dept.—E. A. Taylor, Teacher.

Emma DuToit 100 Emma Weego 92

Emilie Krayenbuhl 87

B Class.

Hattie Goodrich 89 Adella Melvin 89

Clara Sargent 91 Ang Klammner 88

Maggie Misenburg 95 M Krayenbuhl 85

Howard Richardson 94 H Ehrmanntrout 85

Chas Bullner 65 Henry Eder 97

Frank Gregg 95 Ralph Raven 87

C Class.

Ida Weego 96 Rosa Elbacker 96

Lena Greiner 87 Katie Elbacker 90

Lena Young 61 Ang Bullner 80

Philip Eder 78 Jos Dehus 89

Philip Reideide 78 Fred Goodrich 87

Pauline Eder 74 Maggie Salter 72

Bertina Meder 83 Fred Ritel 69

Julia Ramsdill 71 Gus Moeschler 69

Mary Hansmann 75

Intermediate Dept.

Constance DuToit—Teacher.

Annie Kirchner 100 Alb. Goodrich 87

Louisa Rasch 60 Loetta " 83

Ada Howe 86 Sophia Rensders 61

Emily Howe 89 Willie Gregg 57

Lena Ochs 66 J Schoenborn 42

Bertha Leverenz 79 Ant Reideide 83

Christine Elbacker 68 Hubert Grates 81

Frederick Richardson 76 Jacob Grates 81

Ida Long 62 Robert Ilja 54

Emma Salter 53 Fred Ilja 75

Helen Johnston, 48 Herman Ilja 49

Rosa Ehinger 61 Fred Meyers 65

Sophia Blocker 67 Albert Henk 48

W Neussinger 52 Ed Heinicke 48

Minnie Smith 77 W Streukens 67

Emily Sargent 69

Mother when your dear baby suffers in teething, use Dr. Winchell's Teething Sy- rup, it regulates the bowels, soothes the pain and brings natural sleep. Sold by Druggists at 25 cts a bottle.

G. Schubiger—Barber.

Hair cutting and shaving done in the best style. Mr. Schubiger extracts teeth and cupping performed.

Board of Auditors Report.

We the undersigned Board of Auditors of the Treasury of the County of Carver and State of Minnesota, do hereby report to the honorable board of County Commissioners of said County that on the 20, day of March a. d. 1879, have examined the books of said Treas- urer, and counted the vouchers, orders and money therein, in the hands and under the control of Peter Weego Treasurer, as follows: viz:

Due by County Treasurer, balance of his books, $13749.47

CREDIT.

Bank account, Carver County $10000.31

Bank, March 20th, 1879, 87.97

Town orders of the several towns, 87.97

New Choice Fashion Notes.

The coming bonnet is the gypsy. Lace is the feature in spring millinery. Shawls of all kinds are revived for spring wraps.

No toilet is complete without a jacket of some kind. Shirded linings for bonnet brims take precedence of all others.

High frames and long jabots will be the leading styles for neckwear this spring. French bunting takes precedence of all other semi-dramatic spring fabrics.

Black tulle and black lace bonnets are the fashion of the moment in Paris.

For certain styles of beauty gay Chinese silks and fourards make lovely morningdresses.

New York milliners have shown more colored than black or white bonnets this spring.

The latest novelties in shoes are the Henri Trois sabots and the Catherine de Medici solitaires.

Pretty stockings and low shoes have become a too apparent fact as a part of young ladies' toilet.

Novelities in shoes have Louise heels and many straps across the instep, with bows and buckles.

Bretel lace drapery scarfs thrive all around bonnet crowns, and then form the strings of many bonnets.

All sorts of hats, bonnets, turbans and caps are in vogue this spring for outdoor as well as indoor wear.

Many bonnets have the crown entirely covered with flowers woven flat on the cap, straw or foundation.

The new bright shade of crimson is called "peony," and the shade of red in crepe poppies is carmine bud.

The newest ornament for a bonnet is a shell of silver with a pearl resting in it, and a beaded fringe of fine silver beads hanging from the shell.

White and colored Canton crepe bonnets, trimmed with flowers, feathers and lace, appear at the openings among other millinery novelties.

Broad-brimmed hats are more suitable for our bright, warm American summers than English round hats, and are much more becoming.

Gypsy bonnets have large flowing ribbons raised in front, and down at the sides, and falling on the neck after being partially raised in the back.

Sateens and mummy cloth novelties show dainty little flower and leaf bouquets and vine patterns in jardiniere colors on pure white grounds.

Quantities of cheap pinhead-checked and hair-lined striped summer silks are selling at the moment for parts of suits and also for entire costumes.

American women who are sensible as well as tasteful avoid English styles of half muslins. Derby hats, manish, ulsters, and jackets for street wear.

Spring wraps are of various kinds of mantilles, mantles and dolman v-necks, all having long ends in front, square or pointed, but light Cambric and India shawls will probably be much worn.

The favorite flowers for tacking on bonnet crowns are asters, marguerites, pansies, and gladiolus, with the yellow anthers and red centers on the delicate pink ground of the petals.

Pompadour gazues with alternate lace and satin stripes, with flower and vine patterns over the same, made up in combination with plain silk and satin, make very stylish summer evening dresses.

New opera fans are made in various forms, but do not close. They are composed entirely of flowers and leaves, and the favorite blossoms are the fair hollyhock, and are perforated after natural models.

Two small red clay pipes, decorated with flowers and moths, with the stems tied in a cross with blue ribbon, is the newest chandelier pendant in fashionable houses. They call them "peace pipes."

A gay morning-belt always looks vulgar at a watering-place or hotel breakfast, and corduroy velvet as well as satin, is seen in combination with capes of lace, French bunting and other light wool fabrics in spring costumes.

Dressy parasols for the country or seashore are of eury pongees, with rings, or diamond patterns of brown, red, or blue, or they are of pink pongees with handkerchief or check patterns, or gay-colored linings with white polka dots.

The newest white lawn and cambric waists have the fronts in fichu style, made with a separate piece in six plaits on each side, sewed in the shoulder seams, and tapering to the waist.

Evening stockings in the shades to match the new fabrics are embroidered between squares or circles set in the instep and sometimes up the sides.

The new Spanish scarfs and mantles for spring and summer are both long and large. They may be worn at will over the head, as a drawy in the Spanish fashion. The scarfs are also for street wear.

The Duclay promenade costume has a special feature, which will prove very convenient. The skirt closes the ground and the train, which is separated from the skirt just above the ravers with which it is trimmed is to be carried on the arm, leaving both hands at liberty, so if our ladies will insist upon train, street costumes, nothing so convenient as this style can be suggested for their benefit.

The quietest mixtures of color appear in mummy cloth, as stripes of yellow, green, pink, and white, all mingled together, and patterns resembling Satsuma ware, with creamy grounds and small flower designs in shades of brown, Sèvres blue and scarlet.

The fashion for flower bouquets is to have garden posies with several old-fashioned flowers in them; bunches of thousand-leaf roses, a spray of mimosa, or a spray of two, a marigold or a buttercup, and a few ferns are tied together and used in bonnets or for waist bouquets.

Diamond ribbon collar necklaces are the fashion of the passing moment, set in pure style, and with clasps that make them available either for a pair of bracelets or for a necklace.

A new fancy that will probably "take" is to fasten the skirts of dressy costumes with red silk, under which the lace balayuse is fastened, making a very pretty and striking dress effect.

The newest and most elegant umbrellas for all occasions are in very dark colors, or gentian blue, black or navy green, and of the rich, soft, velvety, twilled umbrella silk that is both sun and shower-proof.

All the accessories of the toilet, as the fabrics, seem to be perfection. The exquisite shades of mastic, almond and café au lait are seen to the utmost advantage in fine, soft, unpressed kid, and match the fine tints of the lovely materials which are used for spring suits and costumes.

All Night in a Vault.

Toledo Blade.

Not long ago the widow of a gentleman who had recently died desired the vault wherein the remains had been temporarily placed to be watched, so that body-snatchers could have no opportunity to ply their nefarious calling. Thinking that the vault would be watched better by the sexton than any one else, Mr. Radbone was hired to keep a close look-out at dark he took a lantern and blanket and made up a bed in front of the vault, so that any one approaching it would have to step over his body. But after lying there some time it grew quite cold, and he thought he could watch the corpse just as well if he went inside the vault, out of the cold. So he unlocked the vault and went in, but found that he could not lock the vault from the inside. That would never do, and yet he was determined not to stay outside.

Finally he went back to the house and awoke his hired man, and the two went back to the vault. Mr. R. then took his lantern and blanket and went inside, made a bed on the floor, and laid down for the night, having for companions to while away the tedious hours, six corpses. The attendant locked the door from the outside, and went back to the house and his warm bed, leaving the sexton in the vault with his silent companions.

There was nothing to disturb his tranquility during the early part of the night. Every thing was quiet, and still until about one o'clock, and then there was a gentle noise, as though some one were tampering with the vault lock. Mr. R. took up his lantern, and the noise stopped for a few moments, only to begin again when he laid down on his blanket. This time it appeared to be in an opposite corner of the vault. He could see nothing, and could only hear that steady scratch, scratch, which became more and more distinct every instant. Mr. R. is a brave man, but he confesses that when one is locked in a vault with six dead men, and just as he was thinking of this, a little chipmunk dashed from a dark corner, ran past him and darted out the bars in the vault door. From that time on nothing occurred to mar his quiet watch, but in the morning he was rather glad to be released from his dull quarters.

Color Blindness.

Railroad accidents have been ascribed to many causes, but rarely, if ever, to the reader of public prints learn of an accident attributed to color blindness. And yet such a defect in the eyes of a locomotive engineer has caused disaster and loss of life. Cases where one train has run upon another and telegraph poles are torn down are far more numerous than collisions where two locomotives butt against each other. In these days of electric trucks, the latter are almost impossible.

The other could be prevented at times if the engineer was able to distinguish the warning light ahead. But he cannot. He mistakes red for green and green for red; he confuses blue and green; he confounds almost everything except a white light. A colored flag that should stop him he discerns as one which indicates a clear track. The defect is therefore vital. Upon a trainman's ability to distinguish a signal depends the safety of the traveling public.

To insure that and also to examine as to the proportion of population afflicted with color blindness, the eminent oculist, Dr. P. D. Keyser, surgeon of Willis Hospital, has undertaken the task of testing the eyes of all employees of the railroads that center in this city. A reporter was curious to learn just what proportion of the trainmen were thus affected, so he called at the doctor's office last evening. The parlor was seated a large number of men from the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore line. The railroaders said that this examination of a year had been going on for quite a while.

The news-gatherer was kindly permitted to witness some of the examinations, as well as to have his own eyes tested. The doctor's investigations are likely to distinguish colors, because all signals are made with colored lamps or flags. In the tests the doctor uses all shades of red and pieces of glass before a flame. The possibilities of vision in each case are also tested.

All railroad employees in Europe have undergone such examinations, with the discovery that about two percent of them were color-blind. It is a natural defect. People are born so, and sometimes never discover it until placed under an examination. In the public schools in this city a knowledge of colors is now taught in an effort to train the children's eyes, and to remedy, if possible, any defect.

"The subject is a rich one, and interesting to the multitudes of travelers. The doctor's investigations are likely to be productive of great results, and no doubt will lead to the adoption here, as in Europe, of one requisite in the qualifications of trainmen—a freedom from color-blindness."

Excessive Brain Work.

One of the clergymen of Worcester, Mass., in the course of a sermon recently, uttered the following cautionary suggestions in regard to immoderate brain work:

"It is a lesson we are slow to learn—that one that has to be enforced by an occasional thrilling fact—that the most robust physique has its limit of exertion, that well-compact and toughened mental fibre may succumb to undue stress at a single point. A piece of steel wire can bear only a given amount of longitudinal tension. Beyond that limit it snaps. By the annealing process of intense study or application to exacting business a man's brain gets toughened. It can bear an immense prolonged strain, but there is an unknown terminus of your powers—exceed that point and the subtle thread of reason snaps. A ruptured capillary on the brain paralyzes that center of thought, and the stalwart brilliant man of yesterday, full of hope, projecting grand schemes, the pillar of strength to his family, the pride of many, the possible envy of more, is to-day an enfeebled or quite broken down victim of immoderate brain work. You might charge me with an exaggerated idea of the perils of overexertion among business men, did not facts justify all I have suggested? Have we not seen some of the brightest stars in the cluster of enterprising citizens, of whom we are justly proud, wander from their orbit of reason and pass, unless God shall disappoint our fears, into the shadow of permanent mental eclipse? The saddest feature of this phenomenon is that it seems to fall upon the highly organized, generous, sympathetic natures first. A cold-blooded, grasping Shylock, who cares little for the good name so highly prized by an other, appears to be in no danger of such a calamity. Better far to confess poverty, to be an honest bankrupt, than to be broken down in body or mind, under too great exertion to avoid that calamity. With emotions of unexpressed pity for every man harassed by his unsatisfactory affairs, I turn to expostulate with the coming generation. Keep a sound mind in a sound body. Do not contend with 'things honest,' with comfortable mediocrity. Husband the stock of physical and mental life God has given you, for you may not grow permanently old—useless before your time."

Deaf People's Troubles.

From the New York Times.

One of the saddest features of excessive deafness is the unhappy mental effect it is apt to leave on those troubled with it. So frequently is this the case that it has been said that persons of morbid dispositions are peculiarly liable to this way of looking at the matter, and the effect is transposed. It is certain that persons of cheerful dispositions have been apparently transformed into something wholly different from their former selves by being deprived of the ordinary means of hearing. In fact, it is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with him at all times some ugly symbol of his infirmity, he is not a person who can be known and friends are likely to forget that he is wanting in one of the most-used powers of sense. Of course, when something is said to him which he does not understand in consequence of the light of hearing, he is called upon to bear. He is out of sympathy in no way different from other people, and unless he has with

W ADVERTISEMENTS

MINN. E. DEALER IN

General Merchandise

WAGONS, MINN.

Goods at St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Business taken in exchange for goods at CASH prices.

LAKE HOUSE,

A. F. SCHULTZ,

WAGONS, MINN.

Best accommodations for Travelers, Fish Parties and Picnic Seekers. The hotel is situated on the beautiful Clearwater.

Stable and water on the premises.

Continental

Insurance Company

of the City of New York.

Western Department 104 State Street CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.

A. WILLIAMS, Supt.

Capital $1,000,000.00.

Assets Jan. 1st 1878 $3,173,935.51.

M. H. MURPHY, Agent, Chaska, Minn.

eter Buttendorf,

SALOON

CARVER, MINN.

Has the choicest liquors and cigars. The Milwaukee bottle beer kept constantly on hand.

Good stabling room for 25 horses, and water-place for team handy to stable. Call and LIES EXCH. OLUF HANSON.

Hinger & Hanson

Carpenters and Builders,

CHASKA, MINN.

We will contract for buildings, such as dwellings, business houses, barns and granaries at a very lowest living price, and guarantee all work. We will also furnish all kinds of building material.

Plans and specifications also executed on demand.

Agents for the Food Deline Building Association, manufacturers of sash, doors & blinds. 12-13-14.

NEW GROCERY STORE.

The undersigned would respectfully announce to the public of Carver and the adjoining Counties, that he has just opened a

New Grocery Store

in Chaska and invites the people to give him a call.

Everything in the line of groceries is on hand; the goods are of the best quality. Come and see me before you buy elsewhere.

Fritz Salter.

In the Millinery Store of Mrs. Salter the ladies will find a splendid assortment of

HATS, RIBBONS, TRIMMINGS, EMBROIDERIES, &c.

Just received. They are of the latest styles and will be sold at a bargain. Ladies are respectfully invited to call and examine the goods.

MRS. F. SALTER.

CHASKA ELEVATORS,

WM. SZECER & SON,

DEALERS IN

WHEAT

AND

ALL KINDS OF GRAIN.

CHASKA, MINN.

Store wheat, grind and keep on hand all kinds of Feed, Corn Meal, Graham and Rye Meal. Grinding 5 cents per bushel.

CENTENNIAL LAKE HOUSE

JACOB KERN, Propr.

LAKE TOWN, Carver County, Minn.

Hotel, Saloon and Summer Resort.

Finest liquors and choice cigars constantly on hand. Lunch at any time of the day.

Jacob Kern & Jerry Ehemann, will attend to any vacation sale in Carver County.

THEODORE KENNEDY,

Contractor & Builder

CHASKA, MINN.

Will take contracts for building of dwelling and business houses of all kinds. Will furnish material and execute all contracts with promptness.

Moving buildings a Specialty.

Office at H. Kennings.

Chaska Bakery

Confectionary Store!

The undersigned respectfully invites the attention of the citizens of Chaska & vicinity to his

BAKERY & STORE.

Fresh bread every day and cookies of all kinds always kept on hand. Cakes, biscuits and bread furnished on order for weddings, fishing parties and excursions &c.

Shop on 2nd St. east of Her. Ad. office. HERMAN ERREN, Prop.

MILLINERY,

MRS. F. SALTER

Is constantly in receipt of and at all times supplied with a full assortment of

FASHIONABLE MILLINERY GOODS

Dress Trimmings, Corsets, Nets, &c. Dress making promptly attended to.

WAGONS & PLOWS

AT MINN.

Blacksmithing,

AND

Horse Shoeing

Agents for the Dixon Moline and Weterow Plows.

See these shoeing a specialty. Repairing done on short notice. Shop on Broadway.

CHAS. DAUWALTER, Prop.

LOCAL NEWS.

Minneapolis & St. Louis Railway.

TIME CARD NO. 21.

Taking effect Jan. 12th 1879.

Trains going South.

10 5:30 A. M. Mixed. Passenger, connects at St. Louis with train for St. Paul.

2 5:30 P. M. Mixed.

3 4:30 P. M. Mixed.

4 8:30 A. M. Mixed.

5 12:15 P. M. Passenger.

6 4:30 P. M. Mixed.

Trains going North.

1 8:30 A. M. Mixed.

2 12:15 P. M. Passenger.

3 4:30 P. M. Mixed.

4 8:30 A. M. Mixed.

5 12:15 P. M. Passenger.

6 4:30 P. M. Mixed.

Freight

10 6:30 A. M. Freight

11 10:30 A. M. Freight

12 4:30 P. M. Freight

13 8:30 A. M. Freight

14 12:15 P. M. Freight

15 4:30 P. M. Freight

16 8:30 A. M. Freight

17 12:15 P. M. Freight

18 4:30 P. M. Freight

19 8:30 A. M. Freight

20 12:15 P. M. Freight

21 4:30 P. M. Freight

22 8:30 A. M. Freight

23 12:15 P. M. Freight

24 4:30 P. M. Freight

25 8:30 A. M. Freight

26 12:15 P. M. Freight

27 4:30 P. M. Freight

28 8:30 A. M. Freight

29 12:15 P. M. Freight

30 4:30 P. M. Freight

31 8:30 A. M. Freight

32 12:15 P. M. Freight

33 4:30 P. M. Freight

34 8:30 A. M. Freight

35 12:15 P. M. Freight

36 4:30 P. M. Freight

37 8:30 A. M. Freight

38 12:15 P. M. Freight

39 4:30 P. M. Freight

40 8:30 A. M. Freight

41 12:15 P. M. Freight

42 4:30 P. M. Freight

43 8:30 A. M. Freight

44 12:15 P. M. Freight

45 4:30 P. M. Freight

46 8:30 A. M. Freight

47 12:15 P. M. Freight

48 4:30 P. M. Freight

49 8:30 A. M. Freight

50 12:15 P. M. Freight

51 4:30 P. M. Freight

52 8:30 A. M. Freight

53 12:15 P. M. Freight

54 4:30 P. M. Freight

55 8:30 A. M. Freight

56 12:15 P. M. Freight

57 4:30 P. M. Freight

58 8:30 A. M. Freight

59 12:15 P. M. Freight

60 4:30 P. M. Freight

61 8:30 A. M. Freight

62 12:15 P. M. Freight

63 4:30 P. M. Freight

64 8:30 A. M. Freight

65 12:15 P. M. Freight

66 4:30 P. M. Freight

67 8:30 A. M. Freight

68 12:15 P. M. Freight

69 4:30 P. M. Freight

70 8:30 A. M. Freight

CITY COUNCIL.

Adjourned meeting.

Council met pursuant to adjournment.

Members all present except P. Henk.

Bill of M. Logelin allowed for Marshall service.

Resolved, That the amount required to be paid by persons desiring to vend and deal in spirituous and intoxicating liquors for license so to do, for the year next ensuing from and after May 1st, be and the same is hereby fixed at twenty five [25] dollars.

Resolved, That no license to vend and deal in spirituous and intoxicating liquors be issued to any person who does not on and before the first day of May in all respects comply with the provisions of the charter and ordinances of the village in relation to the sale of intoxicating liquors.

On motion council adjourned.

F. GREINER, Jr. Recorder.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

The following new advertisements appear in this issue of the HERALD.

Mortgage Sale.

Notice to Contractors.

" " The Public.

Brain and Feet.

A Good lot for sale.

Man with all his endowments, is in many things most foolish, he will give all his health for his life, but is reckless and indifferent to his health. He will grapple a thief who steals his purse, yet will daily with a cough and cold and finally go into consumption, when such a sure remedy as Eliot's Extract of Tar and Wild Cherry can be easily obtained. It performs rapid cures, gains friends at every trial, and is invaluable in bronchial and lung diseases. It is a safeguard for all, from the babe to the veteran, and will be restored by its timely use. No family that has used it will be without it. Sold by all Druggists.

Man with all his endowments, is in many things most foolish, he will give all his health for his life, but is reckless and indifferent to his health. He will grapple a thief who steals his purse, yet will daily with a cough and cold and finally go into consumption, when such a sure remedy as Eliot's Extract of Tar and Wild Cherry can be easily obtained. It performs rapid cures, gains friends at every trial, and is invaluable in bronchial and lung diseases. It is a safeguard for all, from the babe to the veteran, and will be restored by its timely use. No family that has used it will be without it. Sold by all Druggists.

Man with all his endowments, is in many things most foolish, he will give all his health for his life, but is reckless and indifferent to his health. He will grapple a thief who steals his purse, yet will daily with a cough and cold and finally go into consumption, when such a sure remedy as Eliot's Extract of Tar and Wild Cherry can be easily obtained. It performs rapid cures, gains friends at every trial, and is invaluable in bronchial and lung diseases. It is a safeguard for all, from the babe to the veteran, and will be restored by its timely use. No family that has used it will be without it. Sold by all Druggists.

Man with all his endowments, is in many things most foolish, he will give all his health for his life, but is reckless and indifferent to his health. He will grapple a thief who steals his purse, yet will daily with a cough and cold and finally go into consumption, when such a sure remedy as Eliot's Extract of Tar and Wild Cherry can be easily obtained. It performs rapid cures, gains friends at every trial, and is invaluable in bronchial and lung diseases. It is a safeguard for all, from the babe to the veteran, and will be restored by its timely use. No family that has used it will be without it. Sold by all Druggists.

Man with all his endowments, is in many things most foolish, he will give all his health for his life, but is reckless and indifferent to his health. He will grapple a thief who steals his purse, yet will daily with a cough and cold and finally go into consumption, when such a sure remedy as Eliot's Extract of Tar and Wild Cherry can be easily obtained. It performs rapid cures, gains friends at every trial, and is invaluable in bronchial and lung diseases. It is a safeguard for all, from the babe to the veteran, and will be restored by its timely use. No family that has used it will be without it. Sold by all Druggists.

Man with all his endowments, is in many things most foolish, he will give all his health for his life, but is reckless and indifferent to his health. He will grapple a thief who steals his purse, yet will daily with a cough and cold and finally go into consumption, when such a sure remedy as Eliot's Extract of Tar and Wild Cherry can be easily obtained. It performs rapid cures, gains friends at every trial, and is invaluable in bronchial and lung diseases. It is a safeguard for all, from the babe to the veteran, and will be restored by its timely use. No family that has used it will be without it. Sold by all Druggists.

Man with all his endowments, is in many things most foolish, he will give all his health for his life, but is reckless and indifferent to his health. He will grapple a thief who steals his purse, yet will daily with a cough and cold and finally go into consumption, when such a sure remedy as Eliot's Extract of Tar and Wild Cherry can be easily obtained. It performs rapid cures, gains friends at every trial, and is invaluable in bronchial and lung diseases. It is a safeguard for all, from the babe to the veteran, and will be restored by its timely use. No family that has used it will be without it. Sold by all Druggists.

Man with all his endowments, is in many things most foolish, he will give all his health for his life, but is reckless and indifferent to his health. He will grapple a thief who steals his purse, yet will daily with a cough and cold and finally go into consumption, when such a sure remedy as Eliot's Extract of Tar and Wild Cherry can be easily obtained. It performs rapid cures, gains friends at every trial, and is invaluable in bronchial and lung diseases. It is a safeguard for all, from the babe to the veteran, and will be restored by its timely use. No family that has used it will be without it. Sold by all Druggists.

Man with all his endowments, is in many things most foolish, he will give all his health for his life, but is reckless and indifferent to his health. He will grapple a thief who steals his purse, yet will daily with a cough and cold and finally go into consumption, when such a sure remedy as Eliot's Extract of Tar and Wild Cherry can be easily obtained. It performs rapid cures, gains friends at every trial, and is invaluable in bronchial and lung diseases. It is a safeguard for all, from the babe to the veteran, and will be restored by its timely use. No family that has used it will be without it. Sold by all Druggists.

Man with all his endowments, is in many things most foolish, he will give all his health for his life, but is reckless and indifferent to his health. He will grapple a thief who steals his purse, yet will daily with a cough and cold and finally go into consumption, when such a sure remedy as Eliot's Extract of Tar and Wild Cherry can be easily obtained. It performs rapid cures, gains friends at every trial, and is invaluable in bronchial and lung diseases. It is a safeguard for all, from the babe to the veteran, and will be restored by its timely use. No family that has used it will be without it. Sold by all Druggists.

Man with all his endowments, is in many things most foolish, he will give all his health for his life, but is reckless and indifferent to his health. He will grapple a thief who steals his purse, yet will daily with a cough and cold and finally go into consumption, when such a sure remedy as Eliot's Extract of Tar and Wild Cherry can be easily obtained. It performs rapid cures, gains friends at every trial, and is invaluable in bronchial and lung diseases. It is a safeguard for all, from the babe to the veteran, and will be restored by its timely use. No family that has used it will be without it. Sold by all Druggists.

Man with all his endowments, is in many things most foolish, he will give all his health for his life, but is reckless and indifferent to his health. He will grapple a thief who steals his purse, yet will daily with a cough and cold and finally go into consumption, when such a sure remedy as Eliot's Extract of Tar and Wild Cherry can be easily obtained. It performs rapid cures, gains friends at every trial, and is invaluable in bronchial and lung diseases. It is a safeguard for all, from the babe to the veteran, and will be restored by its timely use. No family that has used it will be without it. Sold by all Druggists.

Man with all his endowments, is in many things most foolish, he will give all his health for his life, but is reckless and indifferent to his health. He will grapple a thief who steals his purse, yet will daily with a cough and cold and finally go into consumption, when such a sure remedy as Eliot's Extract of Tar and Wild Cherry can be easily obtained. It performs rapid cures, gains friends at every trial, and is invaluable in bronchial and lung diseases. It is a safeguard for all, from the babe to the veteran, and will be restored by its timely use. No family that has used it will be without it. Sold by all Druggists.

Man with all his endowments, is in many things most foolish, he will give all his health for his life, but is reckless and indifferent to his health. He will grapple a thief who steals his purse, yet will daily with a cough and cold and finally go into consumption, when such a sure remedy as Eliot's Extract of Tar and Wild Cherry can be easily obtained. It performs rapid cures, gains friends at every trial, and is invaluable in bronchial and lung diseases. It is a safeguard for all, from the babe to the veteran, and will be restored by its timely use. No family that has used it will be without it. Sold by all Druggists.

Man with all his endowments, is in many things most foolish, he will give all his health for his life, but is reckless and indifferent to his health. He will grapple a thief who steals his purse, yet will daily with a cough and cold and finally go into consumption, when such a sure remedy as Eliot's Extract of Tar and Wild Cherry can be easily obtained. It performs rapid cures, gains friends at every trial, and is invaluable in bronchial and lung diseases. It is a safeguard for all, from the babe to the veteran, and will be restored by its timely use. No family that has used it will be without it. Sold by all Druggists.

Man with all his endowments, is in many things most foolish, he will give all his health for his life, but is reckless and indifferent to his health. He will grapple a thief who steals his purse, yet will daily with a cough and cold and finally go into consumption, when such a sure remedy as Eliot's Extract of Tar and Wild Cherry can be easily obtained. It performs rapid cures, gains friends at every trial, and is invaluable in bronchial and lung diseases. It is a safeguard for all, from the babe to the veteran, and will be restored by its timely use. No family that has used it will be without it. Sold by all Druggists.

Man with all his endowments, is in many things most foolish, he will give all his health for his life, but is reckless and indifferent to his health. He will grapple a thief who steals his purse, yet will daily with a cough and cold and finally go into consumption, when such a sure remedy as Eliot's Extract of Tar and Wild Cherry can be easily obtained. It performs rapid cures, gains friends at every trial, and is invaluable in bronchial and lung diseases. It is a safeguard for all, from the babe to the veteran, and will be restored by its timely use. No family that has used it will be without it. Sold by all Druggists.

Man with all his endowments, is in many things most foolish, he will give all his health for his life, but is reckless and indifferent to his health. He will grapple a thief who steals his purse, yet will daily with a cough and cold and finally go into consumption, when such a sure remedy as Eliot's Extract of Tar and Wild Cherry can be easily obtained. It performs rapid cures, gains friends at every trial, and is invaluable in bronchial and lung diseases. It is a safeguard for all, from the babe to the veteran, and will be restored by its timely use. No family that has used it will be without it. Sold by all Druggists.

Man with all his endowments, is in many things most foolish, he will give all his health for his life, but is reckless and indifferent to his health. He will grapple a thief who steals his purse, yet will daily with a cough and cold and finally go into consumption, when such a sure remedy as Eliot's Extract of Tar and Wild Cherry can be easily obtained. It performs rapid cures, gains friends at every trial, and is invaluable in bronchial and lung diseases. It is a safeguard for all, from the babe to the veteran, and will be restored by its timely use. No family that has used it will be without it. Sold by all Druggists.

Man with all his endowments, is in many things most foolish, he will give all his health for his life, but is reckless and indifferent to his health. He will grapple a thief who steals his purse, yet will daily with a cough and cold and finally go into consumption, when such a sure remedy as Eliot's Extract of Tar and Wild Cherry can be easily obtained. It performs rapid cures, gains friends at every trial, and is invaluable in bronchial and lung diseases. It is a safeguard for all, from the babe to the veteran, and will be restored by its timely use. No family that has used it will be without it. Sold by all Druggists.

Man with all his endowments, is in many things most foolish, he will give all his health for his life, but is reckless and indifferent to his health. He will grapple a thief who steals his purse, yet will daily with a cough and cold and finally go into consumption, when such a sure remedy as Eliot's Extract of Tar and Wild Cherry can be easily obtained. It performs rapid cures, gains friends at every trial, and is invaluable in bronchial and lung diseases. It is a safeguard for all, from the babe to the veteran, and will be restored by its timely use. No family that has used it will be without it. Sold by all Druggists.

Man with all his endowments, is in many things most foolish, he will give all his health for his life, but is reckless and indifferent to his health. He will grapple a thief who steals his purse, yet will daily with a cough and cold and finally go into consumption, when such a sure remedy as Eliot's Extract of Tar and Wild Cherry can be easily obtained. It performs rapid cures, gains friends at every trial, and is invaluable in bronchial and lung diseases. It is a safeguard for all, from the babe to the veteran, and

THE WEEKLY VALLEY HERALD—Rates of Advertising.

Space, w. l. w.	1 m.	3 m.	6 m.	1 year
1 inch 125	1.25	2.00	4.00	10.00
2 inch 175	2.00	3.25	6.00	15.00
3 inch 225	2.75	4.00	7.50	18.00
4 inch 275	3.25	5.00	9.00	22.00
5 inch 325	3.75	5.50	10.00	25.00
6 inch 375	4.25	6.00	11.00	28.00
7 inch 425	4.75	6.50	12.00	30.00
8 inch 475	5.25	7.00	13.00	32.00
9 inch 525	5.75	7.50	14.00	35.00
10 inch 575	6.25	8.00	15.00	38.00
11 inch 625	6.75	8.50	16.00	40.00
12 inch 675	7.25	9.00	17.00	42.00

Legal advertisements, 75 cents per folio, per insertion, and 35 cents each subsequent insertion. Payment required on delivery of ad. 1 folio is 250 ems solid matter. Local notices 10 cents per line for one insertion. Transient advertisements payable in advance.

NEW BUSINESS CARDS.

Hardware, STOVES & Tin-Ware.

MEUWISSEN & WIRTZ
BENTON, MINN.

Successor to
L. Hochhausen,
Keeps on hand a large assortment of Agricultural Implements and Mechanic's Tools, Nails, Glass, Sash and Doors, and all other articles found in a first class Hardware Store. Will sell at St. Paul and Minneapolis prices. Tinning of all kinds done on short notice. Give us a call before buying your goods elsewhere.

—Peter Wirtz is also Notary Public. Insurance agent for Hail and Life. I will also give him instructions, by the month or by the hour.

Blacksmith & Repair Shop WATERTOWN FLOWS.

The undersigned has opened up a first class Blacksmith and repair shop, in the old Deising shop, next door to Hennings Store, to which he invites his old friends and customers. All work guaranteed. Horse and ox shoeing a specialty. The celebrated Watertown tubular and cross plows constantly kept on hand for sale as cheap as any other first class plow.

JOSEPH DELSING.

Union Brewery.

GEORGE KARCHER, Proprietor.
(Successor to P. Hies.)
Chaska, Minn.
Manufacturer of No. 1 Beer, which he will deliver in any part of the county promptly on order.

New Furniture Store.

Burkhart Bros.
(Next door to National Hotel.)
CHASKA, MINNESOTA.

Keeps constantly on hand all kinds of chairs, bedsteads, bureaus, lounges, sofas, picture frames, coffins &c. &c. Repairing promptly attended to. All work guaranteed, and charges reasonable.

BURKHART BROS.

HARNES & SADDLERY

S. B. KOEHLER
WATERTOWN, MINN.

Keeps constantly on hand a large assortment of HARNES, SADDLERY, BLANKETS, AND TRIMMINGS. Repairing done with neatness and dispatch.

MARKET HOTEL.

Corner 1st St. & 1st Ave. North.

FRANK DARK MANAGER.

Minneapolis, West.
This Hotel has just been newly fitted up and offers to the traveling public and boarders the best of accommodations. Good tables and an experienced horsemen are at service any time.

OLD SETTLER'S HOME

by JAKE BYHOFER.
opposite Court House,
CHASKA - MINN.

A good glass of beer, choice Wines and Liquors and Cigars always on hand. Give me a call and go away satisfied.

Hardware.

STOVES
and Tinware!

ALBERT KOHLER.
Waconia, Minn.

Also FURNITURE of every description at city prices.

COFFINS! COFFINS!
Always kept on hand. Give me a call before purchasing elsewhere.

A. KOHLER.

W. C. ADELL,
(WITH L. L. BAXTER.)
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
CHASKA, MINN.

Office over Herald office.

S. FOWLER,
ATTORNEY AT LAW.
CHASKA, MINN.

Office over Herald office.

CHASKA, MINNESOTA, THURSDAY, APR. 24 1879

NUMBER 30

TERMS, $1.50 Per Annum.

A. L. DU TOIT & CO., Proprietors.

VOLUME 17

CHASKA, MINNESOTA, THURSDAY, APR. 24 1879

NUMBER 30

TERMS, $1.50 Per Annum.

A. L. DU TOIT & CO., Proprietors.

VOLUME 17

CHASKA, MINNESOTA, THURSDAY, APR. 24 1879

NUMBER 30

TERMS, $1.50 Per Annum.

A. L. DU TOIT & CO., Proprietors.

VOLUME 17

CHASKA, MINNESOTA, THURSDAY, APR. 24 1879

NUMBER 30

The Weekly Valley Herald.

A. L. DU TOIT & CO., Proprietors.

VOLUME 17

CHASKA, MINNESOTA, THURSDAY, APR. 24 1879

NUMBER 30

TERMS, $1.50 Per Annum.

The Valley Herald. Official County Paper.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY
A. L. AND F. E. DU TOIT,
Editors and Publishers.

COUNTY OFFICERS.

Treasurer—Peter Weego.
Auditor—L. Streukens.
Register of Deeds—F. Greiner.
Sheriff—F. E. Du Toit.
Clerk of Court—G. Kravenbuhl.
Attorney—L. L. Baxter.
Surveyor—H. J. Chevre.
Judge of Probate—J. A. Sargent.
School Superintendent—Wm. Benson.
County Commissioners—S. B. Kohler, Chairman. Jacob Truett, Frederick Hies, A. J. Carlson, Adam Hill.

They are still "pegging" away at each other in Congress. Please give us a rest.

SENATORS Vorhees and Logan, are the respective "stalwarts" of their party in Congress.

The farmers of Waconia and Watertown are strongly opposed to bonuses in aid of the Narrow Gauge Railroad. Recent meetings were held in both places and the proposition was strongly resisted by farmers in both towns.

The republican press of the state have trotted out no less than fifteen or twenty candidates for Governor. Billson & Cole being the latest addition. Bring on your next one!

HON. H. R. DENNY.

A score or more of the leading republican papers of the State, prominent among whom are the Lake City Leader, New Union Review, Hastings Gazette, St. Peter Tribune, St. Paul Dispatch, Glenwood Register, Albert Lea Standard, take up the nomination of Mr. Denny, for Lt. Governor, and urge his nomination in the most flattering terms. There can be but little doubt of his nomination, as he is everywhere looked upon as the most available man for the position. His friends should, however, keep the ball rolling until the meeting of the convention, which, will be some time in July.

MEXICAN WAR VETERANS.

Honorably discharged veterans of the Mexican war who did not receive their three months' extra pay under the act of July 19, 1848, which was amended by the act of Feb. 19, 1879, so as to include the officers, petty officers, seamen and marines of the United States navy and of the revenue marine service, employed in the prosecution of the war may have their pay obtained FREE OF CHARGE by applying in person or by mail to Adjutant General H. P. Van Cleave, at the capitol, St. Paul. All volunteers in the army and "Ten Regiments Regulars," who were discharged in the latter part of JULY or in AUGUST or SEPTEMBER, 1848, received their pay from the paymaster of the army, unless by mistake of the paymaster or of their own officers.

The thanks of the Veterans' Association will be given to all papers publishing the above information. EDWARD RICE, President Mexican War Veterans' Association of Minnesota.

St. Paul, March 27, 1879.

Watertown Items.

Changes in nature, perhaps, induce a like result in human affairs. From some unavoidable cause the Delano stage and contents got tired of the company of the driver. The horses took it up, the morning being cool, and the result was, about a mile of the road was used as a stopping place on Wednesday morning.

Pursuant to notice an adjourned meeting of the citizens of this town was held in Kohl's hall on Saturday afternoon last. The committee of seven referred to in our last, reported as follows, four favorable to the railroad and three against it. Those reporting favorable announced the general desire to be, not to vote bonds in any amount to exceed $8000. The question of using ten acres of land for depot grounds was then taken up and caused a lively discussion, especially among those of the opposition who were not familiar with the requirements of a railroad company. The right of way through sections 8 and 9 was not molested. Some tax estimates were presented by A. J. Brown showing the probable additional tax some of our farmers would be required to pay as interest on $8000, bonds to be about two and one-half mills. This caused a number of spirited remarks pro and con, and for some time it was hard to tell who was entitled to the floor. Hon. Adam Hill finally succeeded in gaining the attention of the meeting and proceeded to tell how he and his corner of the town felt on the question of raising bonds. In the meantime others belonging to that "corner" were boisterous with such expressions as, "Not a G—d—d—m bond for me" &c. Hill then lost his equilibrium and began a general tirade of abuse on those favoring the issue. Some side questions were put to Mr. Hill by his opponents, which were eagerly taken up by Hills "corner" and the scene following for the next ten minutes would require a Philadelphia lawyer a month to describe. At this juncture the meeting was fully in the hands of a mob of wild humanity headed by Messrs. Lipfert, Goetzman, Kuntz and others. The more peaceably inclined citizens left the hall and thus ended the preliminary steps in securing the location of a railroad through this town. We wish to state in conclusion that the president and secretary of the meeting are still living.

SHAKOPEE AND EXCELSIOR ROAD.

A Bitter Pill for the Town of Chanhassen.

$8,000 Luxury.

Some time in the month of February or March, a petition and notice was posted in this County, by parties from Scott County, stating that application would be made to the District Judge, for the appointment of three Commissioners to lay out a road, known as a judicial road, from a point near the new bridge over the Minnesota river in Scott County, to Excelsior in Hennepin County, said road being principally in Carver County, i. e. that portion from the Minnesota river opposite Shakopee to within a short distance of Excelsior—6 or 7 miles in length. A hearing was had before the Judge and the commissioners appointed, two of them being from Scott County, Mr. E. R. Harrison, of Chanhassen, being the third member. The commissioners or a majority of them, Mr. Harrison being in the minority, will probably meet within a short time, and proceed to lay out the road, assess damages &c.

Now we are informed by parties who are capable of judging of such matters, that the cost of building the road through Chanhassen will be at least to say nothing about the cost of procuring the right of way. This enormous sum of money, the people of Chanhassen will be called upon to pay for the luxury of a road, which when built, will be of no material benefit to the town, unless prompt and energetic measures were taken by the supervisors to ward off the blow.

SEVEN THOUSAND DOLLARS.

The supervisors of Chanhassen are, Joseph Vogel, Chairman, Mike Kessler, Mike Schuller.

Laketown Items.

Laketown April 24th 1879.

Last evening Monday, at the 3 p. m. service at Zoar Moravian Church, Mr. Ernest Treude and wife were taken into Church Fellowship by Rev. Sodemann. The services were rendered especially interesting by the singing of some 7 anthems by the choir, and a happy address by the Pastor. Many were obliged to stand. Among the audience we noticed many of our Lutheran friends. Collection for foreign missions amounted to $7.50.

The Pulpit and reading desk of the Laketown Moravian Church were very tastefully, tho' not elaborately, decorated, on Easter Sunday. About 300 persons were present at the confirmation services. In the afternoon we held the Holy Communion and the "Love Feast." All the services were unusually well attended.

Rev. Sodemann was, on good Friday, made the happy recipient of a 10 dollar bill, by the choir of young people whom he has been instructing in singing. The Rev. gentleman made a neat reply in being so unexpectedly and kindly remembered.

Jacob Ottiger sustained a severe loss, to him, which $15.00 would not cover, in the drowning of a fine steer, in a small lake, near Geo. B. Nilson's place. It had wandered off, and, from some cause or other, must have broke thro' the ice and became imbedded in the mud, thus being unable to get out. Mr. O., hunted long and all over, till at last he found it.

Quite a number of our young people, not Lutherans, went to Waconia last Sunday a week ago, to attend the interesting and impressive services at the Lutheran Church in that place. Henry Gerdson, Jr., drove a whole 2 horse wagon full of young folks thither. The party were in the best of spirits, as they rode along.

Baptized, at Zoar Moravian Church, last Sunday a week ago, Anton Franz, infant son of Joseph and Frances Salzman, of Waconia. Rev. Theo. Sodemann officiated. The church being completely filled.

Carver County—Its Towns and Some of the Early Settlers.

(Continued from last week.)

[CHAPTER 12.]

The following persons have held the positions of Sheriff of the County, to-wit: L. H. Griffin, E. Ellsworth, J. W. Hartwell, Fied Oberlee, Frederick Greiner, Frederick Hecklin and F. E. DuToit. Mr. Ellsworth died in Chaska in April 1871. Mr. Oberlee died in Laketown in 1876. J. W. Hartwell removed to Montana in the year 1865 where he now resides. Mr. Hecklin now resides in Todd Co. in this State. The others are still residents of this county.

Those who have held the office of Coroner are Joseph Kessler, Charles Basler, Magnus Walk, Fred Oberlee, Henry Gerdson and Robert Muller, A. C. Lassen held the position under an appointment by Judge Chatfield during the last illness of Mr. Basler. Mr. Kessler is now at the Black Hills and report says has been quite successful. Charles Basler was well known to the old settlers as the popular landlord of the Basler House at Carver. He died in that town in the year 1872. Mr. Oberlee as has been stated before, died in the year 1876. Mr. Walk died a few weeks since in Laketown. Mr. Gerdson resides on his first class farm in Laketown and his popularity in his town may be judged by the fact of his having held some official position in that town from its organization to the present time. Mr. Lassen, as is well known, is a prominent merchant of Waconia. Mr. Muller is well known as one of the "Fathers of the County," and has always been held in high esteem by his fellow citizens.

Of the superintendent of the public schools of the County the following gentlemen have held the position. H. J. Peck, F. E. DuToit, Thomas J. Kerker, (J. A. Sargent to fill vacancy) and William Benson. Mr. Peck now resides in Scott County, he is well known to be one of the most industrious, talented, energetic, persevering and successful attorneys in the Minnesota Valley.

Mr. Kerker moved to St. Paul a few years since, and is one of the leading music teachers of that city. He is now organist and musical director in one of the largest and most magnificent churches in that city—he is also Deputy Register of Deeds for Ramsey County.

Mr. Benson, as is well known is now the popular and efficient superintendent. Mr. DuToit still resides in the county and his many friends are fearful that there is danger of his becoming a chronic old bachelor. Those who have acted as Judge of Probate, are Jacob Ebinger, L. L. Baxter, Frank Warner, J. A. Sargent and C. H. Lienau. Mr. Ebinger, Baxter and Warner have been referred to in another chapter. Mr. Lienau now resides in St. Paul and is connected in the publication of the weekly and daily Volkszeitung. He held several offices of honor and trust in the county during his residence here—was a member of the House of Representatives and State Senator a number of years.

COUNTY SURVEYORS.

A. W. Adams, Fred Hecklin, Ernest Heyd, Herman Meuliberg, J. O. Brunius, Lucien Warner and H. J. Chevre. Mr. Adams and Heyd died a number of years since. Mr. Warner now lives in St. Paul, yet he is quite often in the County owning large amount of property here. Mr. Meuliberg removed to Milwaukee, but now, as the writer has been recently informed is publisher and editor of a German paper in Northern Wisconsin.

Thus ends the list of the names of the persons who have filled the position of the various county officers from the organization of the County to the present time, except Reg. of Deeds, County Physician and Court Commissioner.

(To be continued.)

COLOGNE ITEMS.

They are trying hard to "bust" our new post office.

Henry Beckers will shortly be married to Miss Josephina Hochhausen. He has been called off twice in church.

Jacob Meuwissen is building a new blacksmith shop and dwelling house at this place. Henry Meuwissen Jr. is also building a dwelling house opposite Paul Moerbecker's saloon, and P. Moerbecker & Co., are going to erect a new saloon building opposite the post-office. So you see our village is improving rapidly.

Mrs. Asfeld barn burned down on Friday night. Total loss.

Business is somewhat dull at present.

It is said that the Benton post office will be transferred from Ertz to Millers house near the mill.

Benton Items.

April 17th 1879.

140 children are now attending the Catholic school. The number of children being so great, has forced the congregation to build an addition to the old church for the second department, which will be finished this week. The people see the necessity of having two teachers in a short time, because they are all of the opinion that a good school, under good management is a great benefit to the congregation. Mr. Vreyens is working hard in the school and often denies it necessary to keep children in school after 4 o'clock, because of not getting through with all classes.

Father Braun was out this week at Hector and Bird Island, he thinks a great deal of that part of the country, and he hopes to build churches at the above named places this year.

Albert Dennin, of Carver, has moved to Benton and intends to make this his future home. He is building a blacksmith shop adjoining Kronschnabels Mill, and will be ready for customers by the 25th of this month. He is a first class workman and deserves success.

Jacob Meuwissen is building a new blacksmith shop at the depot.

We need more stores and opposition in trades of all kinds, which will draw us a much larger trade.

LEGALS.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, S. S.

County of Carver.

In Probate Court.

In the matter of the estate of Thomas Sheran Deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Michael Connelly representing, among other things, that Thomas Sheran late of Carver Co. on or about July 4, D. 188, while in the U. S. Army died intestate, and being a resident of this county at the time of his death, leaving goods, chattels, and estate within this county, and that the said petitioner is relative and creditor of said deceased, and praying that administration of said estate be to him granted, it is ordered that said petition be heard on the 6th day of May A. D. 1879, at 10 o'clock a. m., at Chaska Court House in said county.

Ordered further, that notice thereof be given to the heirs of said deceased, and to all persons interested, by publishing a copy of this order in three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in the Valley Herald a weekly newspaper printed and published at Chaska in said County.

Dated at Chaska the 5th day of April 1879.

By the Court, J. A. SARGENT, Judge of Probate.

(L. S.)

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE.

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage executed and delivered by Franz Deland and Maria Josefa Deland wife mortgagors to Philip Henk Mortgagor, dated the 20th day of February in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight and recorded as a mortgage in the office of the Register of Deeds of the County of Carver in the State of Minnesota on the 21st day of February A. D. 1878 to 10 o'clock A. M. of mortgages, on page 183 on which there is claimed to be due at the date of this notice the amount of Fifty six dollars, and no action or proceedings has been instituted at law or in equity to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage and of the statute in such case made and provided the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the mortgaged premises therein described, which sale will be made at the front door of the Court House in the Village of Chaska in the County of Carver and State of Minnesota at public auction by the sheriff of said county on

SATURDAY THE 26, DAY OF APRIL,

A. D. 1879, at ten o'clock in the forenoon to satisfy the amount which shall then be due on said mortgage with the interest thereon and costs and expenses of sale and fifty dollars attorney's fees as stipulated in said mortgage in case of foreclosure.

The premises described in said mortgage and so to be sold are that tract or parcel of land and being in the County of Carver and State of Minnesota described as follows, to-wit: Lots number two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, eighteen, nineteen, twenty, twenty one, twenty two, twenty three, twenty four, twenty five, twenty six, twenty seven, twenty eight, twenty nine, thirty, thirty one, thirty two, thirty three, thirty four, thirty five, thirty six, thirty seven, thirty eight, thirty nine, forty, forty one, forty two, forty three, forty four, forty five, forty six, forty seven, forty eight, forty nine, fifty, fifty one, fifty two, fifty three, fifty four, fifty five, fifty six, fifty seven, fifty eight, fifty nine, sixty, sixty one, sixty two, sixty three, sixty four, sixty five, sixty six, sixty seven, sixty eight, sixty nine, seventy, seventy one, seventy two, seventy three, seventy four, seventy five, seventy six, seventy seven, seventy eight, seventy nine, eighty, eighty one, eighty two, eighty three, eighty four, eighty five, eighty six, eighty seven, eighty eight, eighty nine, ninety, ninety one, ninety two, ninety three, ninety four, ninety five, ninety six, ninety seven, ninety eight, ninety nine, one hundred, one hundred one, one hundred two, one hundred three, one hundred four, one hundred five, one hundred six, one hundred seven, one hundred eight, one hundred nine, one hundred ten, one hundred eleven, one hundred twelve, one hundred thirteen, one hundred fourteen, one hundred fifteen, one hundred sixteen, one hundred seventeen, one hundred eighteen, one hundred nineteen, one hundred twenty, one hundred twenty one, one hundred twenty two, one hundred twenty three, one hundred twenty four, one hundred twenty five, one hundred twenty six, one hundred twenty seven, one hundred twenty eight, one hundred twenty nine, one hundred thirty, one hundred thirty one, one hundred thirty two, one hundred thirty three, one hundred thirty four, one hundred thirty five, one hundred thirty six, one hundred thirty seven, one hundred thirty eight, one hundred thirty nine, one hundred forty, one hundred forty one, one hundred forty two, one hundred forty three, one hundred forty four, one hundred forty five, one hundred forty six, one hundred forty seven, one hundred forty eight, one hundred forty nine, one hundred fifty, one hundred fifty one, one hundred fifty two, one hundred fifty three, one hundred fifty four, one hundred fifty five, one hundred fifty six, one hundred fifty seven, one hundred fifty eight, one hundred fifty nine, one hundred sixty, one hundred sixty one, one hundred sixty two, one hundred sixty three, one hundred sixty four, one hundred sixty five, one hundred sixty six, one hundred sixty seven, one hundred sixty eight, one hundred sixty nine, one hundred seventy, one hundred seventy one, one hundred seventy two, one hundred seventy three, one hundred seventy four, one hundred seventy five, one hundred seventy six, one hundred seventy seven, one hundred seventy eight, one hundred seventy nine, one hundred eighty, one hundred eighty one, one hundred eighty two, one hundred eighty three, one hundred eighty four, one hundred eighty five, one hundred eighty six, one hundred eighty seven, one hundred eighty eight, one hundred eighty nine, one hundred ninety, one hundred ninety one, one hundred ninety two, one hundred ninety three, one hundred ninety four, one hundred ninety five, one hundred ninety six, one hundred ninety seven, one hundred ninety eight, one hundred ninety nine, two hundred, two hundred one, two hundred two, two hundred three, two hundred four, two hundred five, two hundred six, two hundred seven, two hundred eight, two hundred nine, two hundred ten, two hundred eleven, two hundred twelve, two hundred thirteen, two hundred fourteen, two hundred fifteen, two hundred sixteen, two hundred seventeen, two hundred eighteen, two hundred nineteen, two hundred twenty, two hundred twenty one, two hundred twenty two, two hundred twenty three, two hundred twenty four, two hundred twenty five, two hundred twenty six, two hundred twenty seven, two hundred twenty eight, two hundred twenty nine, two hundred thirty, two hundred thirty one, two hundred thirty two, two hundred thirty three, two hundred thirty four, two hundred thirty five, two hundred thirty six, two hundred thirty seven, two hundred thirty eight, two hundred thirty nine, two hundred forty, two hundred forty one, two hundred forty two, two hundred forty three, two hundred forty four, two hundred forty five, two hundred forty six, two hundred forty seven, two hundred forty eight, two hundred forty nine, two hundred fifty, two hundred fifty one, two hundred fifty two, two hundred fifty three, two hundred fifty four, two hundred fifty five, two hundred fifty six, two hundred fifty seven, two hundred fifty eight, two hundred fifty nine, two hundred sixty, two hundred sixty one, two hundred sixty two, two hundred sixty three, two hundred sixty four, two hundred sixty five, two hundred sixty six, two hundred sixty seven, two hundred sixty eight, two hundred sixty nine, two hundred seventy, two hundred seventy one, two hundred seventy two, two hundred seventy three, two hundred seventy four, two hundred seventy five, two hundred seventy six, two hundred seventy seven, two hundred seventy eight, two hundred seventy nine, two hundred eighty, two hundred eighty one, two hundred eighty two, two hundred eighty three, two hundred eighty four, two hundred eighty five, two hundred eighty six, two hundred eighty seven, two hundred eighty eight, two hundred eighty nine, two hundred ninety, two hundred ninety one, two hundred ninety two, two hundred ninety three, two hundred ninety four, two hundred ninety five, two hundred ninety six, two hundred ninety seven, two hundred ninety eight, two hundred ninety nine, three hundred, three hundred one, three hundred two, three hundred three, three hundred four, three hundred five, three hundred six, three hundred seven, three hundred eight, three hundred nine, three hundred ten, three hundred eleven, three hundred twelve, three hundred thirteen, three hundred fourteen, three hundred fifteen, three hundred sixteen, three hundred seventeen, three hundred eighteen, three hundred nineteen, three hundred twenty, three hundred twenty one, three hundred twenty two, three hundred twenty three, three hundred twenty four, three hundred twenty five, three hundred twenty six, three hundred twenty seven, three hundred twenty eight, three hundred twenty nine, three hundred thirty, three hundred thirty one, three hundred thirty two, three hundred thirty three, three hundred thirty four, three hundred thirty five, three hundred thirty six, three hundred thirty seven, three hundred thirty eight, three hundred thirty nine, three hundred forty, three hundred forty one, three hundred forty two, three hundred forty three, three hundred forty four, three hundred forty five, three hundred forty six, three hundred forty seven, three hundred forty eight, three hundred forty nine, three hundred fifty, three hundred fifty one, three hundred fifty two, three hundred fifty three, three hundred fifty four, three hundred fifty five, three hundred fifty six, three hundred fifty seven, three hundred fifty eight, three hundred fifty nine, three hundred sixty, three hundred sixty one, three hundred sixty two, three hundred sixty three, three hundred sixty four, three hundred sixty five, three hundred sixty six, three hundred sixty seven, three hundred sixty eight, three hundred sixty nine, three hundred seventy, three hundred seventy one, three hundred seventy two, three hundred seventy three, three hundred seventy four, three hundred seventy five, three hundred seventy six, three hundred seventy seven, three hundred seventy eight, three

[illegible]

"The world really chinked me. How I go things out quick I don't know. I left the house as fast as possible, holding the finger separate from the other fingers till
I reached my shop.

"Something awful has been going on, and we will see it for certain in the papers."

"Peter," said she, "be sure you don't wash that finger."

"Why not?" said I, "my teeth chattering." "Because you must not do it until we get the news."

"Good gracious, wife," says I, "have I got to be all night with my finger so I shall not sleep a wink?"

"Yes," she says, "and I will do it with a rag, so nothing can run the stain out."

"Please don't do that, wife. It makes me feel strange."

But before I was done speaking, she had the rag on. Then she got supper, but not a mouthful could I eat.

"It's no use, I can't work: I may as well go to bed."

I left my shop, but I didn't go into the other room and got to bed. I laid awake nearly all night in a terrible state with my finger. At last I fell asleep, and I didn't begin to swell, it was growing larger and larger, and it was bigger than my head. I was in great trouble. A doctor came to cut it off, and just as he was coming to do it I heard a scuffle which broke me. There was a woman standing over me, with a newspaper in her hand.

"The awful thing that over happened yesterday," cried Mr. P. — and it was his murder's heel. I read that for a Read!"

"The account was short. Mr. P. — had been discovered in the basement of his warehouse, near his vault, and he stabbed himself with a knife. The vault was where he kept his valuables — was open. Everything disposable was taken, of which was a large sum in bank-bills—a tremendous sum. From the basement, covered with an iron grating, which let light into a cellar below. The murderer's heel must have caught between the bars during the fight. At last it was wrenched out, but that was because he was stronger than the heel. The murderer derer except the heel. This was the whole story."

"I jumped out of bed, and I asked my wife.

"I am going to see Lawyer E. — (he was one of my customers), and tell him all I know."

"That night," said she.

"I hurried off as soon as I was dressed, Lawyer E. — was not up. I waited for him. As soon as he came into the office
I told him my story. At last he cooled enough, but that was because he was wise, I reckon.

"Wait till I have my breakfast," said, and I will go with you to the police headquarters."

"My wife woke up," says I. "What that be the way of it?"

"He laughed.

"I will take care of you, Peter," he'll go bail for your appearance."

"After he had his breakfast we started off together. Lawyer E. — took the chief man I forgot what he called him. I was never there again. They asked so many questions that I go to feel as if I had killed Mr. P. — myself."

"Before they got through, they showed me the heel of the boot. I could be it on it as a stack of Bibles. They pulled off the rag and showed him finger."

"What's that for?" said the police officer.

"I told him.

"Never mind that. Let's see the boot bill!" he exclaimed.

"I took it from my pocket, and gave it to him. He marked it carefully, and made me mark it, and I should know again," he said. "Then he put the in an envelope, and wrote on it, and it in a box."

"He gave me a paper to go to the coroner's jury that afternoon, and yer E. — gave his word that I should be the first to swear to him. I was told that story for the third time before the coroner's jury, and that was the good it did me."

"It was a nice deed," wonder-themselves. The folks came crowding in to stare and ask questions, only hindered my work; it didn't do any good. The police kept arresting them, but I was never there. I people, and would have got the right to see the cobble, paused. He reso long silent that I began to his story was concluded.

"Is that all?" I at length asked.

"Yes," said the cobble, w start. "I wish it was all! I have just begun."

So saying he took from his pocket large colored handkerchief, wiped his face, and proceeded to nothing more came to light for years—five years. The whole affair to sleep—forgotten—as things
New-York. Often, though, I think of it. I was a pretty girl the deed for me the day
Mr. P.'s boots home, dressed for to Boston, and of her career when she asked me. I told her thing he said to me was "Oh,
I think I never could have reand to think I had her father's my finger the very time she was the question."

"But when I was saying, nothing for five years—five years to a job was working hard as usual—just pet to work all the days of my
I don't know what I was doing
I had a dress—it is seldom I do
I said going by, and that moment, murderer."

"I had a young woman on the street. She wore the hands a little child not more than three years crippled along with her.

"The watch cast a strange glim my place. I could not see the crippled away."

"I threw down my work and the other room for my wife."

"I have seen him. I have have seen him. I have seen him. I and follow him—follow him of the earth, and see where young woman as a child. Do Quick as thought, almost was on the sidewalk."

"Be careful," says I, "don't suspect."

"Be careful the words were my mouth, she was out of sight
I sat like one petrified for a good long hour. Nobody ca
I went through. Do you ca wretch I did not know wh
Then I began to settle down and when half an hour passed, and my wife did not get back, I felt into a great thinking, and so many a time I came crowding, crowding to my mind. "Come, come, my wife with him," I said to myself, and that little tot, trudge, is his child. God forgive me, what am I trying to do? To make my own wife a widow, and the little tot an orphan?"

"The perspiration stood in big drops on my face—I could scarcely breathe."

"Suddenly, the vision of the young girl waiting for me came home as plain as paint to me. There she was, standing in the doorway."

"He shall hang!" I exclaimed, aloud. He shall hang! What is his young wife to me, or the little tot? I was as good as dead. I settled down, weak as a kitten, and waited till my wife came back.

When she did come, she did not look to me to be the same woman who was so kind, so good off her hat and was swinging it, crazy-like, in her hand. Her eyes were as big again as they were before, and she looked neither to the right, nor left, but plumped her little square into my arms, and went on nothing.

Well, where did he go? I asked after a little.

"Peter," said my wife solemnly, "you sure he is the man?"

"I am sure," I said, "that we are now talking together."

"Then may the Lord have mercy on our souls!" she exclaimed.

I thought she had gone off in a fit, but she came to, presently, and undertook to tell me.

"I followed them to Mr. P.—'s house," she articulated, "and sure as I live, I saw that man go to Mr. P.—'s house where Mr. P.—'s widow lives, and there they went in. I asked the servant, who stood on the stoop a minute, if the gentleman and his wife were staying."

"What's that to you. Impudence," she said.

"Nothing," I answered; "only I thought I knew the gentleman."

"I am sure," she said, "that he stayed here without asking." And with that the door was slammed in my face. Oh! Peter, Peter, it can't be the one!"

"Is the one," I repeated, "and that I'll prove as sure as an onion!"

I started for Lawyer E. H. H.

He went with me at once to the head police station. The head police took me all the while, and then he charged me to say nothing more to any one.

"I heard not a thing for three days, and began to think it was all given up, when I saw the arrest, and I was called on to give evidence at the examination."

"I never told the particulars of the awful tale but once since. I doubt if I ever can do it again."

The cobbler stopped, took a long breath, and proceeded:

"What do you suppose? It was Mr. P.—'s own nephew who lived in Philadelphia, who murdered him. He confessed the whole thing, and came to trial. He was here for two days, and taken leave of his uncle the night before, expected to start for home in the morning, but being detained, may be he walked out of the room and slipped, or he was stepping down his vault. I entered, unperceived, and waited till the vault was opened, and then committed the murder and robbery. He expired without notice, and in thirty minutes I was out of my shop as he was out of mine, and strange to say, was never suspected."

Three years afterward he courted and married his cousin, Miss Mary Magruder, who was the daughter of the doctor. She was wife, and little Tot was daughter. Oh, my God!

"He was tried, found guilty and sentenced to be hanged. The governor commuted his sentence to State prison for life. There he is now."

"I sometimes feel sorry," continued the cobbler, after a pause, "that I ever saw the man. But," he added thoughtfully, "I suppose I can't help it."

"It can't be," said the wife and child, "I can't let it—may I let the counsel Dead, for aught I know?" —Richard Kimbrell.

The Thin Man from Dayton.

Yesterday morning, soon after the ingrats on the Central Market were thrown open to the maw of hungry public, and while Mrs. Magruder was telling a small boy and girl to hold up their hands and not touch anything, the crowd used bones in her case, a stranger came along and asked could get a bite to eat. Mrs. Magruder has been on the market for many years and she thinks it a queer thing or two. The man entered herself that she told to a bite just how much a custard could eat, and she has for years his undisguised contempt for her space faced her who tries to chew coffee and mince their toast.

This stranger was a little better than a six-foot shadow. The foreground of a shirt collar and a necktie, and mince pie, and two hollow eyes set in thin line of shadly eyebrows. He marked that he had just arrived in Dayton, and was somewhat hungry, and wanted a bite to eat. He would eat, however, would eat now, as was rather of funds.

"Oh, I suppose you may be able to get down six or seven cents for provisions and a cup of coffee," I replied.

"Suppose you say twenty-five cents all I want to eat?" he said as the of his eyes began to twitch.

Mrs. Magruder, who was a woman of a few words, concluded that she would just thirteen cents by the bargain, she replied.

"I must have my money in a minute," he said.

"You know that was the underestimation," she said, "and winked at the woman in the stall. The thin man from Dayton, led up on a stool, opened his mouth, and a fried sausage, the last end of a smoked sausage, and a fried cake followed, and a second sausage, and after a gulp the man handed out the rest of the words. The waiter like real coffee, and some more."

While she was filling the cup away with two hot biscuits and a beef, and the coffee and mince pie, she saw a hunk of mince pie, and she took a hunk of mince pie, and she attended strictly to it. When Mrs. Magruder had filled cup her smile had gone, and she was without resource to strategy, and asked questions. The waiter answered none of them except by a falsh shake of the head, and he reached the shoulder like clock-work. Magruder called his attention to it across the way, but he ate it all over. The bell struck nine, and upd.

[illegible][illegible][illegible][illegible]

 the tra re
 h.
 [N] 21
 I.
 ate, erma
 SH-
 IL
 's and
 R.V. fs
 's ET
 and SEI
 and H.
 T.
 of re-
 and May
 V.
 ou.
 9 ers, net-
 and ds.
 N
 T!
 d. VT.
 o. 17.
 case, any or tes.
 th all d, 24
 ess on
 .,
 ork.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

A. EISELINE.
DEALER IN General Merchandise
WAGONIA, MINN.
Goods at St. Paul and Minneapolis prices.
Produce taken in exchange for goods at CASH market prices.

LAKE HOUSE,
A. F. SCHUETZ,
WAGONIA, MINN.
The best accommodations for Travelers, Fishing Parties and Pleasure Seekers. The hotel is situated on the beautiful Clearwater Lake. Stable and water on the premises.

Continental Insurance Company.
of the City of New York.
Western Department 104 State Street CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.
A. WILLIAMS, Supt.
Cash Capital, $1,000,000.
Cash Assets, Jan. 1st 1878 $3,173,933.21.
M. H. MUYRES, Agent,
Chaska, Minn.

Peter Buttendorf, SALOON
MINN.
He has the choicest liquors and cigars. The best Milwaukee bottle kept constantly on hand.
Good stabling room for 25 horses, and water-pipe for team handy to stable. Call and see.
FELIX ENGER. OLOF HANSON.

Egger & Hanson
Carpenters and Builders,
CHASKA, MINN.
We will contract for buildings, such as dwellings, business houses, barns and granaries at the very lowest living prices, and guarantee all work. We will also furnish all kinds of building material.
Plans and specifications also executed on demand.
Agents for the Pond Du Lac Building Association, manufacturers of sash, doors & blinds. 15-16-17m.

NEW GROCERY STORE.
The undersigned would respectfully announce to the public of Carver and the adjoining Counties, that he has just opened a
New Grocery Store
in Chaska and invites the people to give him a call. Everything in the line of Groceries is on hand; the goods are of the best quality. Come and see me before you buy elsewhere.
Fritz Salter.
In the Millinery Store of Mrs. Salter the ladies will find a splendid assortment of HATS, RIBBONS, TRIMMINGS, EMBROIDERIES, &c.,
just received. They are of the latest styles and will be sold at a bargain. Ladies are respectfully invited to call and examine the goods.
MRS. F. SALTER.

CHASKA ELEVATORS,
WM. SEEGER & SON, DEALERS IN WHEAT
AND ALL KINDS OF GRAIN.
CHASKA, MINN.
Store wheat, grind and keep on hand all kinds of Feed, Corn Meal, Graham and Rye Meal. Grind 75 cents per bushel.

CENTENNIAL LAKE HOUSE
JACOB KERN, Propr.
LAKEWATON, Carver County, Minn.
HOTEL, SALOON AND SUMMER RESORT.
Finest Liquors and choice cigars constantly on hand. Lunch at any time of the day.
Jacob Kern, & Jerry Ehnemann, will attend to any nation sale in Carver County.

THEODORE KENNING.
Contractor & Builder
CHASKA, MINN.
Will take contracts for building of dwelling and business houses of all kinds. Will furnish materials and execute all contracts with promptness.
Moving buildings a Specialty.
Office at H. Kenning.

Chaska Bakery
AND Confectionary Store!
The undersigned respectfully invites the attention of the citizens of Chaska & vicinity to his
BAKERY & STORE.
Fresh bread every day and cookies of all kinds always kept on hand. Cakes, biscuits and bread furnished on order for weddings, fishing parties and excursions &c.
Shop on 2nd St. east of Herald office.
HERMAN ERREN, Prop.

MILLINERY,
MRS. F. SALTER
Is constantly in receipt of, and at all times supplied with a full assortment of
FASHIONABLE MILLINERY GOODS
Dress Trimmings, Corsets, Hats, &c. Dress making promptly attended to.

WAGONS & PLOWS
AT MINN.
Blacksmithing,
AND
Horse Shoeing
Agents for the Dixon Moline and Watertown Plows.
Horse shoeing specialty. Repairing done on short notice.
Shop on Broadway.
CHAS. DAUWALTER, Prop.

LOCAL NEWS.

Minneapolis & St. Louis Railway.
TIME CARD NO. 21.
Taking effect Jan. 12th 1879.
Trains going South.
* 10 5:20 A. M. Mixed. Passenger, connects at Merriam Junction with train for St. Paul.
4 2:40 P. M.
6 4:30 P. M. Mixed.
Going North.
5 9:30 A. M. Mixed.
3 12:15 P. M. Passenger.
7 4:30 P. M. Mixed.

HASTINGS AND DAKOTA.
West. East.
Passenger, 10-15 A. M. Passenger, 2-40 P. M.
10-35 " 3-00 "
Mixed 6-30 P. M. Mixed 7-50 A. M.
6-50 " 8-10 "
Freight 9-40 A. M. Freight 4-00 P. M.
10-05 A. M. 4-25 P. M.

Here and There.
Wells want water.
Ham and eggs for breakfast.
April showers wanted.
Poor year for maple sugar.
Clean your back yards and alleys.
Quiet in town last week.
Farmers are through their sowing.
Tramps, Tramps—Village full of them.
Insure your houses.
Fishing tackle is now in demand.
Eggs down to 6 cents per dozen.
Merchants, now is the time to advertise.
Grass, begins to look fresh and green.
We are having nice weather.
Our farmers are preparing new land for corn and potatoes.
Not an empty house to be found in Chaska.
Dist. school commenced again on Monday.
Painting and whitewashing in order, now a days.
Go to the "brick yard district," Chaska, if you want to see "activity." 150 men at work.
The Minnesota River at this point is as low as it ever was.
"Spring hats and parasols," that's what the ladies now call for.
Contested election case—Patterson vs. Truue, on Monday, brought a large number of Benton, Young America and Camden people to Chaska, a good deal of interest being manifested.
Jos. Franken, our popular "city druggist" has had his store re-painted and overhauled, and it is now one of the neatest stores in the state.
Some 40 or 50 working men, strangers, have been engaged to work on our brick yards. It gives our little city a lively appearance.
We continue Judge Sargent's article on the "pioneer history" of Carver County. He will soon "tackle" the history of each of the old towns of the county.
A young "rowdy"—a stranger—was arrested by city Marshall Logelin last Saturday evening at Brinkhaus saloon, and brought before city Justice Griswold for a hearing. He was committed to jail in default of paying his fine, for the term of 10 days.
Fire! Fire!!
The alarm of fire rang out clear and loud on last Monday afternoon, when it was discovered that the barn of the tenant dwelling of Mathias Schmidt, and occupied by Mr. Mehoffer was on fire. The wind was blowing quite strong and for a time the adjacent buildings were in danger, but prompt and energetic work on the part of our citizens prevented the fire from spreading. It is supposed the fire caught from persons smoking in the barn. Loss about $100.
Mother when your dear baby suffers in teething, use Dr. Winchell's Teething Syrup; it regulates the bowels, soothes the pain and brings natural sleep. Sold by Druggists at 25 cts a bottle.
West and Schultz, Brainard.
We are in receipt of a letter from these gentlemen, from which we learn, that they have their new yard in operation and that they are now prepared to manufacture 12,000 brick per day, and the prospect for a busy season in their line is excellent. Their friends in this town wish them success.
Surrendered Himself.
John Colbert, son of Pat Colbert, Esq., of Hancock, who was indicted by the last grand jury, for assault with intent to do great bodily harm, surrendered himself into the hands of Sheriff DuToit last week and was immediately bailed for his appearance at the next term of court, by his father and Mr. Shaughnessy, in the sum of $500.
This action on the part of Mr. Colbert is very honorable and stands to his credit in the case.
"A stitch in time saves nine" is not more true in mending clothes than in getting farm stock through the winter. An economical and sure help is Uncle Sam's Condition Powder, it restores the sick, strengthens the weak, improves the appetite and will keep the stock in a thriving condition, for it supplies the valued qualities in grass. Sold by all Druggists.

Assessors Meeting.
The assessors of the different towns of the County, will assemble at the Court House in Chaska, Saturday, April 20th 1879, for the purpose of laying down rules for the assessment of personal property.

MARRIED.
Our young friend Peter Eisviller, of Young America Township, is expected back every day from a trip to Indiana after Mrs. Eisviller. Peter you have the hearty congratulation of the HERALD establishment.
Man with all his endowments, is in many things most foolish, he will give all that he hath for his life, but is reckless and indifferent to his health. He will grapple a thief who steals his purse, yes will daily with a cough and cold and finally go into consumption, when such a sure remedy as Elert's Extract of Tar and Wild Cherry can be easily obtained. It performs rapid cures, gains friends at every trial, and is invaluable in bronchial and lung diseases. It is a safeguard for all, from the babe to venerable age, and health will be restored by its timely use. No family that has used it will be without it. Sold by all Druggists.
Dr. E. H. Lewis, of Carver, has fully recovered from his late attack of illness, and is ready to promptly respond to all professional calls.
Wagon, Buggies &c.
Those contemplating the purchase of a new wagon or buggy, should reserve their orders until they have called on Joseph Ess, Chaska. He is a first class mechanic.
Family Addition.
We are pleased to learn that our old friend Fred Shamburg, of Hollywood, was recently made happy over the arrival of a bouncing young miss in his family. Congratulations, Fred.
Peevish children have worms. Dr. Jaques' German Worm Cakes will destroy the worms and make the children happy. Sold by Jos. Franken.

COAL TAR AUCTION.
Commissioner Hitts will sell at public auction, at the Drug Store in Chaska on Saturday, April 20th 1879, a lot of coal tar. All farmers wishing cheap tar should be on hand, as the sale commences at 10 o'clock a. m.

LOST A COLT.
We learn from our old friend Charley Lindloff, Esq., of Dahlgreen, who was in town on Monday, that he recently lost a valuable colt by disease. He also states that a number have died in Dahlgreen and San Francisco during the past two months.

SPUR TRACK.
Important Arrangement.
The Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad Company have surveyed a spur track from the main road near the "old school house," to the brick yards, an 1-8 of a mile in length. An arrangement has also been entered into between our brick manufacturers and the company by the terms of which all brick are hereafter to be shipped by rail over that road to St. Paul and Minneapolis at a stated price. It is an important agreement and will insure to the benefit of all concerned.

OLD CHASKAITES.
Ansel W. Barker, Esq., of Glencoe, formerly a well known citizen of Chaska, was recently elected City Marshall of Glencoe. Success, Ansel.
Miss May Schutz, daughter of Thomas Schutz, of St. Augusta, Stearns County, is shortly to be married. Miss Schutz was born in this County, hence we take the liberty of congratulating her in the name of the citizens of Carver County.

DIED.
A young daughter of Herman Maeder, Esq., died at Minneapolis last week, and was buried in Chaska last Sunday—a very large concourse of our citizens attending the funeral. The afflicted family have the sympathy of a very large circle of friends.
PERSONAL.—Hon. E. M. Wilson, of Minneapolis was in town during the week. John Minder and Fred Buernmeister, were in town Tuesday and made us a visit.
Judge Warner of Carver and H. J. Peck of Shakopee were in town Monday and Tuesday.
Rev. L. Siegler, of Bongard Station Benton, made us a very pleasant visit last week.
William Patterson and Reubin Johnson Esq., of Camden were in town on Monday and made our office calls.
Jacob and Sam Truue, of Camden, made us calls during the week.
Robert and James Patterson called on us during the week.
Town Clerk Harms of Benton, Ackermann of Young America and Patterson of Camden were in town in attendance on the contested case.
Fritz Staumburg and Simon Sterner, two of the leading farmers and citizens of Hollywood, made us a pleasant call last Monday while in town on business. We are always glad to meet them.

STATE OF MINNESOTA.
AUDITORS OFFICE.
Saint Paul, April 21st 1879.
L. STREUBER, Esq., Auditor Carver Co.

DEAR SIR:
In explanation of my opinion referred to by your county attorney in his communication of the 18th inst to your county commissioners in relation to the taxation of bonds for deeds, I desire to say that it is the credit of which the bond is evidence that is taxable and not the bond itself, just as the credit secured by mortgage is taxable and not the mortgage itself, hence the assessor must assess the party making the bond, who is the creditor, and not the party receiving it, who is the debtor in the transaction. Thus you see that the maker of the bond occupies the position of the mortgagee, and the grantee of the bond that of the mortgagor.
Yours Truly,
O. P. WHITCOMB, Aud. of State
CHASKA, APRIL 19th 1879.
Hon. S. B. KOHLER,
Chairman Board of Commissioners of Carver County.

DEAR SIR:
In answer to the question proposed to me, by resolution of said Commissioners, viz: "Are there any bonds of the class of 'real estate securities,' subject to taxation 'under the statute, or are not bonds for deeds, included under the statute as well as mortgages?' I refer you to Sec. 3 of Chap. 1 of Genl. Statute 1878, which provides that 'personal property shall for the purpose of taxation, be construed to include all goods, chattels, moneys, currencies and effects.' The indebtedness, which such bond is evidence is certainly a creditor, in favor of some one, and as such credit, taxable, and therefore comes within the provisions of the statute, heretofore referred to, but as against whom the assessment for such credit, should be made, will depend entirely on the nature of the transaction between the obligor and the obligee in the bond. The provision of Sec. 29 of said act, which requires the Register of Deeds to make a list of all 'mortgages and other real estate securities' for the use of the County Auditor and the assessor is of course applicable to such bonds. The State Auditor agrees with me in the opinion expressed in this letter.
Yours Respectfully,
L. L. BAXTER, Co. Atty.
NURSERY SWINDLE.

We are reliably informed that the Heikes Nursery Company, of Ohio, disposed of some $6,000 worth of fruit trees in this county last summer, and that out of the whole lot, not more than $500 worth of trees were good. This is another warning to our farmers and we again caution them against purchasing anything from outside parties as they are sure to be swindled. We have some good nurseries in this County, owned by Mr. Ludloff and Mr. Wolf, who will furnish the very best of everything in their line and are responsible for what they sell.

MARRIED.
At Winona, April 15th 1879, at St. Joseph's Church, Ben Schoenborn, to Miss A. M. Schreitmuller.
The many friends of Benny in this city will be surprised and pleased to know that he has become an "old fashioned" Benedict. Benny is a son of Nic Schoenborn of this city, and was formerly an employee in this office; and the boys join us in wishing our young friend a long life of happiness.

FOR EVER ACHE, PAIN AND BRUISE ON MAN OR BEAST
Uncle Sam's Nerve and Bone Liniment is the Balm. Sold by all Druggists.

DIED.
We were grieved to learn that our old friend Julius Schaler, of Young America, lost by death last week, an interesting daughter, Hedwig by name, aged 5 years. The funeral took place last Saturday afternoon, and an interesting discourse was delivered by Mr. Schuetz, of Carver. Mr. and Mrs. S., have the condolence of a large circle of friends.

ALMOST A FIRE.
We learn from Dr. Miles, that Mr. Slooms, wheat Elevator came very near being destroyed by fire last Monday evening. Fortunately the fire was discovered in time and by the prompt action of the H. & L. Company, was soon extinguished. Damages slight.

HO! FOR OTTER TAIL CO.
Dr. R. S. Miles, of Norwood, will take his departure for his farm on Star Lake, Otter Tail County, on next Tuesday, his family accompanying him. The Doctor's many friends in this county, join us in wishing him success in his new prairie home.

IN JAIL.
Constable Oberg, of Watertown, brought over Harry Grant, and committed him to Sheriff DuToit's care for 15 days, for committing an assault on Walter St. John.

SPECIAL TERM.
A special term of District Court convened on Monday, Judge McDonald presiding, to try the commissioner case of Patterson vs. Truue. Two days was occupied in hearing the evidence and examining the ballots. The parties were represented by the following counsel: H. J. Peck, of Shakopee for Mr. Patterson, and E. M. Wilson and W. C. Oell for Mr. Truue. The Judge will decide the case in some 10 or 15 days.

For a pamphlet on Electric Treatment of chronic diseases with Electricity, which will be sent free, address the McIntosh Electric Belt and Battery Co., 192 & 194 Jackson St. Chicago, Ill.

FEED! FEED!!
Feed given away! Come and see. Bra only $6.00 per ton and shorts $3.00. Farmers if you want bran now is your time to come and see me.
Benton, April 14th 1879.
KRONSCHEINABLE & HENRION, Millers.

NOTICE.
All persons who left watches or jewelry with Oscar Schoenmann, to be repaired, can have the same by calling on me and paying charges.
FERD HAMMER.

LUCIEN DIACON,
Watchmaker and Jeweler.
CHASKA, MINN.
Dealer in Fine Watches, Jewelry, Clocks &c.
Repairing neatly done and work guaranteed.
Shop on 2nd St., Thei's old Store.

NOTICE.
Notice is hereby given that my wife Ellen Patterson, has left my bed and board without just cause or provocation, and that I will pay no debt contracted by my said wife, after this date.
Dated Camden this 14th day of April A. D. 1879.
JOHN PATTERSON.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.
The undersigned invite bids for building an elevator 24x60 feet, joining Benton mill, draft of building can be seen on the premises. No bids will be received after May 1st. We also reserve the right to reject any and all bids.
Terms cash, so carpenters let us hear from you.
KRONSCHEINABLE & HENRION.

A GOOD LOT FOR SALE.
THE undersigned offers for sale the corner lot of block No. 30, in the village of Chaska, owned by Anton H. Hilton, deceased. Carver, April 14th 1879.
PETER MICHELIS, Sole Agent.

NOTICE TO FARMERS.
I have on hand twenty four barrels of Coal Tar, belonging to the County of Carver, which must be sold on or before April 26th up to and until that day, those desirous of buying can call upon Joseph Franken who is authorized to sell the same for four dollars per barrel. On the 26th day of April so much of the Tar as remains unsold, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder.
Farmers, and those intending to build fences had better buy their Tar before this lot is gone, as another such chance will not soon be offered them.
Chaska March 26th 1879.
FRED ILTI, Co. Commissioner.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE.
Whereas default has been made in the condition of a certain mortgage made and executed and delivered by Maria Katharina Vossen and Arnold Joseph Vossen her husband Mortgagee to Maria Helena Vossen (now Maria Helena Becker) mortgagee dated the 28th day of August A. D. 1878 recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of the County of Carver in the State of Minnesota on the 6th day of June A. D. 1878 at two o'clock in the afternoon in book "G" of mortgages on page 461 which said mortgage was given for the purpose of securing the payment of the sum of money therein mentioned, which said Maria Katharina Vossen and Arnold Joseph Vossen the following described land and real estate situated lying and being the County of Carver in the State aforesaid, to-wit:
The north west quarter of the north west quarter of section seventeen (17) in Township one hundred and fifteen (115) of Range twenty four (24) containing (40) acres more or less.
And whereas default has been made in the condition of said mortgage and there is due at the date of this notice upon said mortgage for principal and interest the sum of six hundred dollars and no action or proceedings at law or in equity has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof.
Now therefore notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale in said mortgage contained and agreeable to the statute in such case made and provided, the above described mortgaged premises will be sold at public auction by the Sheriff of said Carver County to the highest bidder on FRIDAY THE 30TH DAY OF MAY A. D. 1879 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day at the front door of the court house in the village of Chaska in said Carver County to satisfy the amount that shall then be due on the aforesaid mortgage and all legal costs charges and disbursements.
Dated this Fourteenth day of April A. D. 1879.
MARIA HELENA VOSSEN, (Now Maria Helena Becker) Mortgagee.
S. FOWLER, Atty. for Mortgagee.

NOTICE OF VACATION OF STREET.
Notice is hereby given that at the District Court in and for the County of Carver Minnesota on the 26th day of April A. D. 1879 at the Chambers of the Judge of said Court at the City of Shakopee in the County of Scott and at the opening of said court or as soon thereafter as council can be heard, an application will be made on the part of Marcour F. Lienau, Geo. Reeseleche, C. Merriman, Louis Krause, Peter Campbell, Fred Muerlein, F. Dressler, E. A. Barth, C. Kohler, V. Heck, S. B. Kohler, Chas. Zeyer, for the vacation of a certain street in the Township of Watertown on file in the office of the Register of Deeds of said county, said applicants being proprietors and owners therein, and which said street sought to be vacated as aforesaid is more particularly described as follows, to-wit: All of that portion of Mary street of said addition as is shown by the plat of said addition on file in the office of the Register of Deeds in the county of Carver, situated as follows, to-wit: Commencing at Madison street in said addition and running thence North Easly direction to Crow River.
Dated March 12th 1879.
S. FOWLER, Atty. for Applicants.

Linenfelter & Faber.
Chaska, Minn.

Dealers In
Dry Goods, Crockery and Glass Ware, Boots and Shoes, Ready Made Clothing, Hats and Caps, Groceries, &c.,
In fact everything usually found in a first class establishment. We keep constantly on hand the LARGEST STOCK and best assortment in the Valley, which we are offering at prices that DEFY COMPETITION.

No Closing Out Sale HUMBUG.
We Buy our Goods in New York and Chicago for CASH and are determined to sell as cheap if not cheaper than the cheapest.
We Mean business, and will Not be Undersold by any House in the County.

We pay the highest market price in cash for all kinds of Produce; or take the same in exchange for goods at cash prices.
Give us a call and be convinced that you can buy standard goods of us, for less money than at any house in the State, outside of St. Paul & Minneapolis.

SPRING 1879.
New Goods! New Goods!! at Streissguths! Streissguths.

Beautiful New Calicos.
Handsome Dress Goods in New Colors.
Notions, White Goods and Hosiery.
Another lot of 5000 Yards of 4 1-2 cts. Calico.

Clothing! Clothing!!
New Styles and lower prices than before, a full and complete line of Boys Clothing.

Suits from $3.00 up. Bargains in every department.

The New Harness Store and Shop
OF HAMM R & BEIERSTETTL.

CHASKA, MINN.
IN THE NEW BRICK STORE OPPOSITE HENK'S HARDWARE STORE, 34 ST.

We start in new with a very large and varied stock of Double and Single Harness, Whips, Blankets, Trunks, Valises, All kinds of Riding Saddles, Plastering Hair, Harness Oil &c., and all other goods in our line which will be sold at bottom prices for cash. Repairing done to order on short notice.
Give us a call and examine our stock.

FRED RICHTER.
WHOLESALE, Dealers
IN WINES & LIQUORS.
No. 90 and 3rd St.
ST. PAUL, MINN.

CARVER COUNTY BANK
CHASKA, MINN.
A general banking business transacted. Sell foreign drafts to all parts of Europe. Agent for the sale of passage tickets to and from Europe.
SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN TO COLLECTORS.
Taxes paid for non-residents. Interest paid on time deposits.

HARRIS & CO.
ARTISTS AND PHOTOGRAPHERS
CHASKA, MINN.
Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

The North American.
Lightning Rods
In use since 1849 gave satisfaction in every case. The strongest and best now in use.
For sale by FRED ILTI, Chaska.

BEHN LEIVERMANN, proprietor of the
CHASKA BREWERY,
Chaska, Minn.
Orders for Beer from neighboring towns promptly attended to.

J. C. OSWALD
WHOLESALE DEALER IN
Bourbon and Rye Whiskies, Brandies, Gins, Wines and Cigars.
No 8, Penns Opera House, MINNEAPOLIS.